SWEDISH FLIER NEARING CAMP OF EXPLORER

Ahrenberg Within Flying Distance of Small Hut in Greenland

JAP FLYING TO U. S.
Seaplane DO-X Reported Landed at Bolama,
Portuguese West Africa

Angniagsalik, Greenland — (AP) — Captain Albin Ahrenberg, Swedish aviator, was within flying distance today of the tiny hut on Greenland's ice cap where Augustine Courtland, British explorer, has been marooned for many months.

After one false start, Captain Ahrenberg flew here yesterday from Reykjavik, Iceland, in five hours, completing a dangerous flight across the north Atlantic from Malmo, Sweden, in four stages. Formation of ice on the wings of his plane prevented him from continuing his journey in search of the isolated Britisher.

Captain Ahrenberg's immediate destination is the main camp of the British Arctic air route expedition, about 40 miles inland, and thence to the meteorological station about 150 miles inland, where Courtland volunteered to spend the winter gathering data for a proposed air line to Canada. He plans to drop food for the explorer and possibly make a landing to bring him back.

Meanwhile, a dog-team expedition is being organized to be nearing their objective. One is led by H. G. Watkins, head of the expedition, and the other two by friends of Courtland. Nothing has been heard from them for some time but they are believed to be working their way against the rigors of the north.

The Danish cruiser Hvalbjorn lies at the Greenland ice barrier, waiting to be of assistance to the searching parties. The Icelandic patrol boat Odinn is bound back to Reykjavik from the ice barrier to obtain reports for Sigurd Jonsson's plane.

FINISHES FIRST LAP

Nunak, Japan — (AP) — The first of a projected trans-Pacific flight from Japan to the United States by way of the Kurile and Aleutian Islands was completed today by Seiji Yoshikawa, young Japanese aviator, when he landed here at 8:25 p. m. (1:25 a. m. E. S. T.) after a 368-mile trip from Tokyo.

Carrying good-will messages from Premier Wakatsuki and others, Yoshikawa began his flight at Hane-daira, near Tokyo, at 10:10 a. m., after an elaborate ceremony participated in by W. Cameron Forbes, American ambassador, and others.

Yoshikawa's ship is a light all-metal Junkers seaplane with an open cockpit and no radio apparatus. Seiji Noma, Japanese publisher, is the aviator's principal backer.

Thomas Ash, Jr., young American flier, who is in Japan planning a non-stop flight to America, said it would be "almost a miracle" if Yoshikawa succeeded, but wished the Japanese aviator good luck. Yoshikawa replied in kind, extending best wishes to Ash and adding, "but I fear he never will succeed."

DO-X AT BOLAMA

Berlin — (AP) — Captain Friedrich Christiansen, commander of the seaplane DO-X, sent word today that he had landed at Bolama, Portuguese West Africa, at 9 o'clock a. m. E. S. T. yesterday afternoon. The message said the trip, one of the longest yet essayed by the Dorner plane, was without incident.

She had flown to Bolama from Vila Cisneros, in Spanish Rio de Oro, a distance of about 950 miles. From Bolama she hopes to begin the ocean leg of her long deferred flight to Brazil.

The commander said he planned to make a few short flights in the vicinity of Bolama to test the behavior of the ship under tropical conditions. Thereafter he will take off on the Atlantic hop.

The flight to Pernambuco, Brazil, is almost twice the distance covered in yesterday's hop. Whether the DO-X will attempt a non-stop flight or will make an intermediate descent at a tank ship for refueling could not be said by the Dorner officers.

$75,000 FIRE DAMAGE

AT EAU CLAIRE PLANT

Eau Claire — (AP) — Owners of the Dunphy Boat Manufacturing company today estimated damage exceeding $75,000 resulted from fire of undetermined origin that destroyed the plant here. In addition, stock, machinery and several small boats and motor launches under construction were burned.

A recently completed speed boat valued at $20,000 was included in the loss that was to be given its trial run today.

During the World war the company constructed a large number of mine sweepers for the navy. It specialized in building custom made yachts. Officials said they had not yet determined if the plant would be rebuilt.

Fall Decides To Abandon Court Fight

Presidential Pardon Only Hope to Escape Fine and Year's Sentence

Three Rivers, N. M. — (AP) — Albert B. Fall looked to President Hoover today for a pardon as his only avenue of escape from a sentence of a year in jail and $100,000 fine on conviction of accepting a bribe from E. L. Doheny, oil man.

The former secretary of the interior announced yesterday he would not again appeal his sentence by a District of Columbia court in which he was found guilty of charges growing out of the leasing of naval oil reserves.

"My attorney, Mr. Frank Hogan," he said in a formal statement, "presumably reached Washington today on his return from a two months absence in Europe. I am wiring him not to proceed further in the matter of my appeal to the supreme court, but to leave any further proceedings in the hands of my friends, to be handled by them as they have been doing, directly with the president. I am stating to Mr. Hogan that in the event of remote contingency of a reversal of my case, I could not undergo the strain of another trial without very probably fatal results."

Petitions have been circulated by friends in New Mexico and elsewhere asking a presidential pardon for the Harding cabinet officer.

The District of Columbia Court of Appeals recently upheld Fall's sentence. The next step would have been application to the supreme court for a writ of error.

Mr. Fall, interviewed at his ranch here after action of the court of appeals at Washington, said his attitude toward a presidential pardon was largely passive.

"I am an old man," he said. "I am not guilty of the crime of which I was accused. I had fought until I am worn out, and considerations for my family impel me to carry the fight no further."

He said he had no money with which to pay the fine and explained that he had lost ownership of the ranch on which he lived when a mortgage was foreclosed several years ago.

INSANITY PLEAS FOR 2 ALLEGED SLAYERS

Fond du Lac Judge Appoints Commission to Determine Condition

Fond du Lac — (AP) — Arraigned in circuit court today, Alton Ballhaug, 28, charged with the murder here at Ruth E. Smith of Curtis, Wis., March 10, and Mrs. Anna Steep, Ripon, charged with the murder of her brother-in-law, August Branch, at Ripon, Feb. 22, entered insanity pleas — not guilty because of insanity.

Judge C. E. VanPelt appointed a commission of three, Dr. Peter Zell of the Northern State hospital, Dr. William F. Lorenz of the Mendota State hospital, and Dr. W. A. Deermake of the State Central Hospital for the insane, to make an examination of the two defendants and report back to him.

HIT AND RUN DRIVER KILLS POUND MAN, 81

Found — (AP) — Michael Cudnohufsky, 81, was fatally injured by a hit and run driver as he walked across the street in front of his home last night. Before he died Cudnohufsky said two cars approached from opposite directions. He did not know which one struck him. Neither stopped.

GIRL DRIVER IS ABSOLVED OF ALL BLAME

Decides

Francis, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton LaPlant, 303 E. Winnebago-st., was instantly killed shortly after 6 o'clock Sunday afternoon when he was crushed between the bumper of a car driven by Miss Margaret Henkel, 314 N. Durkee-st., and a store front into which the car crashed.

The girl, who was learning to drive the car, was attempting to turn into the driveway beside the grocery store operated by her father, L. W. Henkel, at 314 N. Durkee-st. The little boy was sitting on a ledge in front of the store. The girl, fearing she would strike another machine standing in the driveway, turned too far to the side, and the machine crashed into the front of the store, pinning the boy between the stone foundation and the building. Part of the foundation was torn away. The boy's chest was crushed.

Following an investigation by Dr. H. E. Dugan, coroner, he announced that the death was accidental, and that there would be no inquest. Fenders on the Henkel car were damaged.

Attended St. Theresa

The boy is survived by his parents, two sisters, Kathleen and Virginia; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Kapinski, Merrill, and Mrs. Frank LaPlant, Appleton. A student at St. Theresa school, he was a member of a class that was to have received First Holy Communion on May 24.

Funeral services will be held at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning at the Winnebago funeral home and at 8:30 at St. Theresa church, with the Rev. M. A. Hauch in charge. Interment will be in St. Mary cemetery. The body may be viewed at the funeral home Monday evening and Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Escape Serious Injury

Five adults and two children escaped serious injury when a heavy sedan of Peter E. Jones, 733 W. Eighth-st., Appleton, left U. S. Highway 10 and turned over in the ditch about two miles west of Dale about 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The car came to rest with a snapped telephone pole across it.

In the car were Mr. and Mrs. Jones, their son, Donald, 9, their daughter, Betty May, 7, Martin Van Ryzin, Sr., 420 W. Packard-st., Wilbert Van Ryzin, Brewster, Ohio, and a nurse.

REPORT FARMER DEAD AS RESULT OF ATTACK

Neillsville, Wis. — (AP) — A coroner's jury today was charged with investigation of the death of Cullen Ayers, 55, Rippling farmer, reportedly clubbed to death during an argument with his neighbor, George Eggleston, 40.

Englewood surrendered and is held without charge. He said he struck in self-defense, authorities stated. For some time the two had had minor difficulties, the sheriff was told. Yesterday their troubles were aggravated when Ayers went to the Englewood farm to get his horses which had strayed onto his neighbor's land.

Englewood said Ayers came into the yard in a menacing manner, carrying a club. He picked up another club to defend himself, he said, and when his neighbor attacked him, he struck one blow, fatally injuring Ayers.

SUIT FOR DEGREE IS FILED IN MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee — (AP) — Suit to compel the graduate school of Marquette university to award her a master of arts degree was filed in circuit court here today by Miss Mary Keenan, mathematics teacher and member of a socially prominent family which controls a string of hotels.

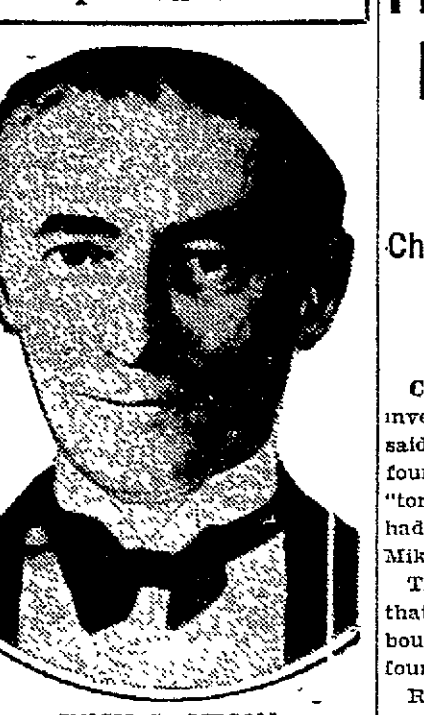

The complaint charged Dr. Edward E. Fitzpatrick, dean of the graduate school, "without sufficient reason and arbitrary and capricious" had refused to give to Miss Keenan credit for graduate work which entitled her to a degree in June, 1930.

Formal entry of the complaint was delayed by the death of Attorney George Dutcher, originally retained by Miss Keenan as counsel. The papers were drawn and filed by Attorney Frank Pawcett, partner of Dutcher.

Dry Invites State Back Into Union

Milwaukee — (AP) — The proponents of prohibition in the state had an invitation from P. Scott McBride, national superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, to unite to "bring Wisconsin back into the Union."

Speaking to a joint congregation of Baptists, Methodists and United Presbyterians in West Allis last night, he said Wisconsin, "by its repeal of its enforcement code has invited a flood of criminal wets, bootleggers and gangsters into the state."

"Wisconsin," Dr. McBride said, "has given free rein to the forces of liquor. We must fight because America has never surrendered to a foe from within or without."

He pleaded for a concentrated fight against what he termed the eight classes of "wets." They were: the saloon wets who want the old time saloon back; the criminal wets made up of gangsters and bootleggers; the political wets who are so set to get into office; the propagandist wets such as the wet city newspapers; the humbug wets who believe they can get liquor back without the saloon; the deceptive wets who make others believe they can secure wets without the saloon; the society wets who talk about liberty and drink out of smartness; and the wealthy wets like Raasbom who spend huge sums for their cause.

$18,408 AWARDED TO WIDOW AT GREEN BAY

Green Bay — (AP) — A circuit court today awarded damages of $18,408.50 to Mrs. Gustave Oby against Joseph Wolfe, confessed hit man, and his wife, who ran a racketeering business in Green Bay.

The judgment, of record size in Brown-co, provided $10,000 punitive damages, $8,000 for actual damages, $100 for suffering inflicted upon Oby and $908.50 for hospital and funeral expenses.

Oby recently pleaded guilty to fourth degree manslaughter in connection with the death of a man, and was placed on probation for four years. He is paying Mrs. Oby at the rate of $30 a month.

Two Ministers Indicted On Charges Of Flogging

Mena, Ark. — (AP) — Two ministers were under indictment here today for flogging a man they accused of disorganizing their warning to keep sober while the Red Cross fed his family last winter.

Sheriff John E. Joplin said if they were convicted and fined, he would raise the money to pay the fines. "I think it was a Christian act," he said.

The ministers, Rev. Sid Wise and Rev. P. R. Larimore, of the Apostolic faith, have not been arrested. Wise, who is said by the sheriff to have whipped Bud Tails last month, is in New Mexico holding a revival meeting. Before leaving, however, he told officers if he were indicted, he would return to face the charge.

Larimore was permitted to remain at liberty on his own recognizance. They are scheduled for trial at the October term of circuit court here.

The ministers admitted the flogging, Sheriff Joplin said and he added:

PRESS SEARCH FOR AL CAPONE IN GANG DEATH

Chicago Authorities Certain "Torch Murder" Victim Was Heitler

Chicago — (AP) — Patrick Roche, chief investigator for the state's attorney, said today that a piece of underwear found near the charred body of a "torch death" victim in Barrington had definitely identified the man as Mike Heitler, vice monger.

The bit of cloth was identical with that of six suits of underwear bought by Heitler six weeks ago and found in the home of Emily Melchior.

Roche also announced he had learned the name of a dentist, a Dr. McKenzie, who made the man's false teeth. The plates were the only other definite clue to the man's identity but were 18 years old and Roche said it would be difficult to locate the dentist.

Meanwhile police said they were pressing their search for Al Capone, liquor overlord whose henchmen were said to have quarreled with Heitler recently.

Roche said he had no further identity. Eight of the nine Capone men arrested in weekend raids as a result of the killing faced Judge Francis Borrell on disorderly conduct charges today. Their cases were continued to Saturday.

Their attorney, Edward S. King, objected, saying the state's attorney had promised not to charge them with murder or rape.

"All right," Assistant Attorney Russell Root said, "we'll charge them with murder."

Won't Accept Offers

Roche rejected all of Capone's offers of surrender yesterday. When the last offer, reported made through the gangster's attorneys, that he would surrender providing he was not to be locked up after questioning in connection with supposed torch murder of "Mike de Pique," Heitler, Roche answered: "We'll get him anyway, and when we do, we'll keep him behind the bars as long as the courts will let us."

Roche said he was convinced Heitler was killed because he informed the state's attorney of the west side gang war. Nine alleged Capone lieutenants, seized Friday night as suspects, however, were released last night.

"We cannot back up a charge of murder," Roche said, "until we have established the corpus delicti, and we can't do that until we have definitely identified the charred remains found near Barrington as those of Heitler. We feel certain the body is that of Heitler, but we are not yet legally sure."

Of the nine released, one was held on $10,000 bond for vagrancy. He is Lewis Russo, alias "Little New York" Campbell, a brother of "Mac" Gun Jack" McGurn, described by police as being Capone's chief gunman. The vagrancy warrant against him was issued by Judge John H. Lyle, when the judge was conducting his drive against "public enemies."

The documents left by Heitler, to be used against his enemies should he be killed will prove more sensational than those found in the strong box of Jack Zuta, Roche said.

Senate Starts Suit For Power Chairman's Ouster

Special Counsel Pleads
Smith Occupies His Office Illegally

Washington — (AP) — The senate today sought removal of Chairman Smith of the power commission, through a suit filed in the District of Columbia supreme court by its special counsel.

John W. Davis and Alexander J. Groesbeck, counsel for the senate, petitioned the court to hold that Smith occupied his office illegally.

They asked that the chairman be required to show by what warrant he holds office and that he be ousted if it be adjudged that he has usurped the position.

Smith was appointed chairman of the commission in December by President Hoover and confirmed by the senate, but in January the senate reconsidered the nomination and declined to approve the chairman.

This second action followed an organization meeting of the commission held by Smith and Commissioners Drake and Garsaud, in which they voted to dismiss Solicitor Charles A. Russell and Chief Accountant William J. King.

Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, presented the resolution, under authorization of which Davis and Groesbeck acted today, after President Hoover had refused to resign Smith's name for consideration and permitted the chairman to undertake his duties with the commission.

Although the name of District Attorney Rover was attached to the senate's petition, he has announced that this was but a formality and that he would take no part in the case.

NEW YORK HAS ROYAL WELCOME FOR KING

Siamese Monarchs Receive Greetings at City Hall of Metropolis

New York — (AP) — Bugles blew an imperial welcome and rifles glinted in the spring sun today as New York said "glad to meet you" to King Pradjadhipok and Queen Rambai Barni of Siam.

To the accompaniment of screaming sirens of motorcycle police, the eastern potentate and his queen drove from the Westchester estate of the late Mrs. Whitelaw Reid to city hall to receive the formal welcome that had been delayed, awaiting their convenience.

The national anthem of Siam and the United States rang out and soldiers, sailors and marines saluted smartly as the royal pair entered city hall.

Inside Mayor Walker made a speech of welcome, and the monarchs responded, praising the "force and enterprise of American business" and the hospitality of Americans. There were other speeches, including one by Percy S. Strauss, chairman of the mayor's committee of welcome and King Pradjadhipok received a beautifully engraved scroll. In it Mayor Walker congratulated the king on his progressive ideas.

On the welcoming committee were John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, Bernard M. Baruch, Marshall Field, Vincent Astor, Dr. John H. Finley, Owen D. Young, Gen. Cornelius Vanderbilt and John W. Davis.

Invited guests included consultants general of the army and navy and of the state and nation. The radio audience heard the ceremonies over widespread hookups.

OHIO MAY REVISE ITS PRESENT PENAL LAWS

Columbus, Ohio — (AP) — A new penal policy will be established in Ohio under the provisions of three legislative bills signed by Gov. George White. The bills are designed to relieve overcrowded conditions in the state's prisons.

Most important of the three bills is the one repealing the Norwood law which gave to common pleas judges the right to fix minimum as well as maximum sentences. The new measure re-enacts the so-called indeterminate sentence law under which the court fixes only the maximum penalty. The minimum term is fixed by law.

4 MORE POISON DEATHS

Harburg, Germany — (AP) — Four more workmen died today of poisoning contracted at their jobs in a tin factory, bringing the total number of deaths within the past few days to seven. Another man is reported likely to die.

ASKS BUSINESS CHIEFS TO BACK WORLD EFFORTS

Reduction Most Important for Economic Rehabilitation, President Says

POINTS TO HEAVY COST
Constant Threats and Fears Promote All Forms of Instability

Washington — (AP) — President Hoover today entreated business men from many nations to aid the furtherance of plans for reductions in armament.

Welcoming the 1,000 delegates to the sixth biennial congress of the International Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Hoover said a large part of the responsibility for the existing world wide depression must be placed "on the malign inheritances" of the World War. Armament reduction has added, "in the ultimate of an importance transcendent over all other forms" of international economic cooperation.

Proposals to decrease armament, he said, transcend all others advanced for world economic rehabilitation. He interpreted the annual world expenditure of $5,000,000,000 as "not only a drain on the world's resources, but a serious contribution to all forms of instability, whether social, political or economic."

While the United States is not directly concerned about land forced decreases, Mr. Hoover said, "we have however a very indirect interest in greater assurance of peace, order and the increased order and economic prosperity of other nations."

Sharing the spotlight with President Hoover at the opening ceremony was George F. Thomas, president of the chamber, who assailed high tariffs as one of the fundamental causes of the existing depression and called for more liberal customs policies by the leading nations.

Thomas, a former Belgian prime minister, who had succeeded to the chamber presidency by Franz Mendelssohn, Berlin banker and grandson of the famous composer, also deplored government attempts to fix prices of farm commodities. He did not refer, however, to the war and peace board's dealings in wheat and cotton.

Text Of Address

"I bid you welcome to the United States. You have come from many lands and at a time of grave responsibilities at home to participate in discussions that will contribute to world reconstruction. The consideration and discussion of world-wide economic problems and of the economic relations between nations by men who have had to deal with the results of economic forces can be most helpful to world understanding and world cooperation in their solution."

"It is needless for me to emphasize the high degree of economic interdependence of the world—we require no more emphatic demonstration than the present world-wide depression. Although the United States enjoys a far greater economic independence than any other large country, yet we have been gravely affected by world forces."

"The present depression is comparable in its extreme depth and its extent only to those who have felt the effects of the depression of the former great wars in modern history. This depression is no doubt contributed to by many very important, immediate, economic causes to which each of you will give different weight, but I believe you will all agree with me that the destruction of life and property, the great tax burdens, and the social and political instability which resulted from the great war had large responsibility in its origins."

"Over three-quarters of the commercially important population of the world has been in a state of social and political upheaval at one time even during the past three years. Although some secondary part of this political instability may have been the result of immediate economic causes, we can not ignore the malign inheritance from the great war. These political and economic disturbances necessarily undermine that confidence on which economic life, both domestic and international, must thrive."

Need For Arms Cut
"This is not an occasion for review of the action and interaction of such a multitude of forces, but I do wish to give emphasis to one of these, the inheritance in which international cooperation can effect a new accomplishment in reducing the tax burdens of the world, removing a primary cause of unrest and establishing greater confidence for the long future. That is the limit, and reduction of armament."

"The world expenditure on all arms is now nearly five billion dollars yearly, an increase of about 70 per cent over that previous to the great war. We stand today with near 5,500,000 men actively under arms and 20,000,000 more in reserve."

BAR PASSENGERS FROM 35 LARGE AIRPLANES

Washington — (AP) — Assistant Secretary Young said today that the commerce department had ordered discontinuance in passenger service of all Fokker P-10-A-1 airplanes in use by four airlines.

The order, which affects approximately 35 motor planes grew out of the investigation of the accident a month ago in which Knute Rockne, Notre Dame football coach, and six other persons were killed when a wing came off a plane.

Young said that the planes would not necessarily be kept out of passenger service but that the order was effective until certain matters of maintenance could be determined.

Anthony Fokker, designer of the planes, was in Washington today for a conference with department officials regarding things that must be done to keep the planes in condition.

Declares $150,000 Ransom Paid To Win Release From Kidnapers

VICTIM STATES SUM INCLUDED ALL HE OWNED

Illinois Authorities Doubt Ransom Price as High as Claimed

Chicago—(P)—The Times said today that federal officials had been investigating the income of Jimmy Hackett, Blue Island gambling boss, for several months and that they doubted his story of having been kidnapped for $150,000 ransom.

An unnamed government agent told the newspapers, it said, that Hackett's story probably was a ruse to avoid prosecution on charges of evading payment of taxes on his large income from slot machines and other games of chance on the suburban south side. Federal men were said to point to Hackett's volubility, and the large amount of ransom, both unusual features of extortion cases.

Hackett returned home alone and unharmed in his own car yesterday, and announced he had been kidnapped. He said the price was his entire fortune.

Chicago—(P)—A story that his entire fortune of $150,000 had been paid to kidnapers for his release, was told today by James Hackett, former gambler and wealthy roadhouse operator of Auburn, Blue Island.

The 37-year-old Hackett, who weighs 240 pounds and is regarded by police as the "dictator" of the slot machine business in the southern part of Cook-co, was kidnapped by a gang of men last Friday, he advised police last night. They had seized him on the grounds of the Idaho Country club. He was released yesterday, on payment of the money, which was turned over to his abductors by his wife and James E. Blouin, a business associate.

Hackett said that his wife worked from Friday to Sunday to raise the $150,000, converting jewelry and securities into cash, even going so far as to mortgage their home. This was done on assurance that he would sign the mortgage as soon as he was freed.

A full investigation was promised by Patrick Roche, chief investigator for the state's attorney's office, who said that while he believed Hackett was kidnapped, he doubted if the ransom price was as high as $150,000.

Hackett said he was trailed to the Idaho Country club by the gang in two automobiles. After winding gauze bandages around his head to prevent him from seeing, they drove him to a house which, he believed, was 15 or 20 miles away. Later his wife was told by the kidnapers over the telephone that he would never see him again unless the money was paid. She and Blouin met the abductors on a country road. Hackett was freed a short while later near Melrose Park, after he had been driven around in his own automobile.

Part of Abducting Gang Believed was Expresses by Hackett that the kidnapers were affiliated with a national organization which makes a business of abducting wealthy men, and that they had been responsible for other abductions, that on Jan. 6 of Daniel Chamberlain, a Blue Island gambler.

When they kidnapped Chamberlain they asked him where else in Blue Island had money and the names of all those in the rackets," Hackett said. "They asked me the same thing and I didn't tell them. They only got about $600 from Chamberlain."

"You can't hold out anything on us," one of the men said to me. "We get information about how much dough you fellows have from the income tax office. We know how much a tap you can stand and you'll have to pay $150,000."

Hackett is reputed to have retired from the gambling business a month prior to an attempt last March 2 to blow up with a bomb an establishment he formerly ran in Blue Island. The bomb failed to explode but William Maier, the night watchman, was shot to death by the men who placed the bomb. Hackett said there was no connection between the attempted bombing and his abduction.

NEGRO SORRY HE STOPPED WRONG CAR—NOW IN JAIL

Chicago—(P)—The police consider that Jeff Sharkey, 30-year-old Negro, made a slight mistake last night.

He saw a shiny new automobile coming down the street. He stepped out from the sidewalk, waved his hand commanding, and brought it to a halt. Then he started to reach into his pocket and to open the car's door. He stopped at this point having noticed the ominous word "Police" on the side of the machine.

"What," asked Sergeant John McCormick, "do you want?"

"All I want," he replied, "is change for a $10 bill."

The police searched him, but since they failed to find $10 but did notice a pistol, they decided to lock him up. They did.

MIAMI WELCOMES KIWANIANS FROM U. S. AND CANADA

All Clubs to Meet Simultaneously Tonight at 9:15 E. S. T.

Miami, Fla.—Kiwanians from all parts of the U. S. and Canada arriving here today for the fifteenth annual convention of Kiwanis International are making plans for group study this week of community problems in child welfare, health and sanitation, urban-rural relations, juvenile delinquency, crime and adult education. The theme for the entire convention is "Kiwani's Vitalizing Force in Community, National and International Life." Dr. J. J. Tigert, president of the University of Florida, is to deliver the keynote address. The service organization, which was founded in Detroit in 1915, now has 1,876 club units in the communities of the United States and Canada, according to Fred W. Parker, of Chicago, International secretary, who made his annual report to delegates.

"Kiwani's develops an organization of representative business and professional men united in genuine fellowship for service in their community," declared Mr. Parker. "The Kiwanis of tomorrow can be built on the Kiwanis of today because the organization has produced an abiding value to society. Indeed the future is secure! The total and scope of the achievements in civic service and community betterment is amazing! However great the past of Kiwanis has been, it is my conviction that the future gives promise of greater field of community endeavor for Kiwanis."

Raymond M. Crossman, of Omaha, president of Kiwanis International, in his annual message to delegates today said: "The strength of Kiwanis is in the high type of membership in our clubs. Many years ago we departed from the proposition that Kiwanis was an avenue of business and professional relations for profit. Ki-

SUITOR IS HELD IN SLAYING OF SAN DIEGO GIRL

Fourth Killing in Murder Series Stuns City in California

San Diego, Calif.—(P)—The death of Hazel Bradshaw, who at 22 was the principal support of her mother and nine brothers and sisters, stunned this city today as the fourth of a series of murders.

Her body was found yesterday with 17 knife wounds in it, lying near an adobe wall of the Indian village here, Mr. E. Garrison, 35, her suitor, was held for questioning.

Although her slaying was the fourth in recent weeks, Police declared there was no link between her death and that of 10-year-old Virginia Brooks, whose body was found March 11; that of Louise Tupper, hanged two weeks ago, or that of Mrs. Dolly Bibbens, strangled in her apartment. No clew has been found to the slayers of the other three.

Shortly after Miss Bradshaw's body was found, Garrison, a steward in the commissary department of the San Diego and Arizona railroad, for which Miss Bradshaw worked as a telephone operator, walked into police headquarters and said:

"I hear that Hazel is dead." The man admitted he had been with Miss Bradshaw Saturday night. "We went to two movies together," he said. "We generally did that on Saturday nights. Then we walked through the park, past the merry-go-round and the Indian Village to her home. I left her at the door at 11:35 p. m., and saw her enter before I ran to catch my street car home."

Police said they were not satisfied with Garrison's story. Officers said Mrs. C. A. Bradshaw, Hazel's mother, did not hear her daughter come home.

Police said there were two discrepancies in Garrison's account. Garrison said he had bought candy for the girl, but the coroner's autopsy showed that she had not eaten during the evening. Her watch, stopped apparently by blood, registered 9:43.

Herbert Collins, a taxicab driver, told police he took Garrison and Miss Bradshaw to Garrison's apartment at 130 Sunday morning. They were quarreling, Collins said. No knife was found. A bottle found a dozen paces from the body contained a small amount of wine. A man's handkerchief had been stuffed into the girl's mouth.

Kiwani is essentially a power for community achievement. Over 1,800 Kiwanis clubs in towns in the U. S. and Canada will meet simultaneously tonight at 9:15 o'clock (eastern standard time). This united fellowship occasion will bring together over 95,000 men for an expression of gratitude for the community betterment and welfare work of Kiwanis during the past year.

Homster Anniversary Specials are good until Friday night.

DEPRESSION CUTS MILLIONS IN TAXES FROM BAKER ESTATE

Fortune "Lost" to U. S. and States in Which He Owned Property

New York—(P)—Because George F. Baker died during the depression, the federal government and the states in which he owned property stand to "lose" a fortune.

The amounts they will collect in inheritance taxes will be huge, but nowhere as large as if he had passed away during the boom period of 1929.

Nobody knows—probably the dean of the Nation's bankers didn't even know himself—how large his fortune is or was, so it was impossible today to estimate the amount of the taxes his estate will pay.

Guesses as to the wealth of the "Third richest man in the country" range from $200,000,000 to $500,000,000 and even higher. Since the market value of the stocks constituting a huge portion of this has shrunk, the amount of the inheritance tax will be correspondingly smaller. The federal government and New York state, in which Mr. Baker held the larger part of his fortune, take the fair market value on the day of death in levying taxes on securities. At the height of the bull market Mr. Baker's 22,000 shares in the First National bank reached a paper valuation of $190,000,000. They are now quoted around $75,000,000. That shrinkage alone means a "loss" to New York state of something over $16,000,000. In this state, the larger the estate the larger the tax rate. New York takes 16 per cent of the amount by which an estate exceeds $10,000,000.

The federal government gets its share of the estate after the states have taken theirs, allowing certain credits for taxes paid to states. It is therefore impossible, tax experts said today, to estimate the amount the United States might collect.

Like the First National stock, Mr. Baker's 87,000 shares of U. S. Steel Common, his 63,000 shares of A. T. and T. and the $48,000,000 in railroad stocks created last winter to him and his son, George F. Baker, Jr., have fluctuated. Steel, for instance, sold around 261 at one time in 1929. Last Saturday it closed at 133.

Mr. Baker's death was apparent in Wall-st today only in the flags at half staff on prominent banking houses. There was no other evidence even at Mr. Baker's First National bank, where business was being transacted as usual.

CARDINAL IS PROTECTOR Vatican City—(P)—Pope Pius today named Cardinal Francesco Marchetti Selvaggiani protector of the Institute of the Holy Ghost and Immaculate Mary whose mother house is at San Antonio, Texas.

Slain Officer's Brother Knocks Down Frank Jordan

Chicago—(P)—Frank Jordan, alias Carlson, alleged slayer of two Chicago policemen, was attacked and knocked to the sidewalk today by Thomas Durkin of Detroit, brother of one of his victims.

A few minutes later a coroner's jury returned a verdict of murder and recommended that Jordan be held to the grand jury for the fatal shooting of Policeman Patrick Durkin. Jordan already had been indicted for the murder of Officer Anthony Ruffy who died a few minutes after the shooting Thursday night at Michigan-blvd. and Randolph-st.

Thomas Durkin met Jordan and his guards as the suspected bank robber and killer was led to the undertaking rooms where the Durkin inquest was held. The brother leaped on the man before his guards could prevent the attack, and knocked Jordan down with a blow to the face.

The inquest was halted as Jordan entered the room, blood streaming from his nose and his clothing matted.

"What happened to you?" asked Coroner Herman N. Bundesen. "Someone hit me—or else a mule kicked me," he replied. "A copper kicked me while I was on the sidewalk."

Coroner Bundesen asked Chief of Detectives John Norton to investigate and the hearing was suspended for ten minutes until Norton returned with the information that the slain policeman's brother had struck the prisoner.

"I want a heavy guard provided for this man," announced the coroner. "I don't want a shooting here."

Five minutes later the coroner's jury returned its verdict and Jordan was taken to the criminal court building to face the grand jury. That same body indicted him for the Ruffy murder less than 19 hours after the actual shooting.

Testimony at the Durkin inquest was similar to that presented at the Ruffy hearing. Jordan, witnesses said, had jerked out a pistol as he was being searched for weapons by the policemen, and fired three shots pointblank at them.

State's Attorney John A. Swanson returned from an extended motor trip today. His first act on entering his office was to instruct First Assistant State's Attorney Harry Ditchburne to obtain a second indictment charging Jordan with the murder of Officer Durkin. Durkin died Saturday afternoon of a bullet wound in the abdomen.

HEAVY WORK ON CALENDAR FOR COUNCIL GROUPS

Board of Public Works to Assess Benefits and Damages on Paving Project

The finance committee approved bills to be presented at the next meeting of the common council at a meeting at city hall late last week.

The board of public works will meet Tuesday afternoon, and the street and bridge committee Tuesday afternoon.

The board of public works will assess benefits and damages for the paving of South River, Ida and Verbricks and River-dr.

Matters before the street and bridge committee are the communication of Claude G. Cannon regarding sidewalk repairs on Washington-st., the extension of the Bellairs park sewer southeast of the river, the communication from the town of Grand Chute regarding connection of the School District No. 10 sewer with the city system; the resolution from N. Badger and N. Mason-st. and the petition for a walk on the west side of N. Mason-st. between W. Winnebago and W. Gilmore sts.

The report of the National Board of Fire Underwriters is to be considered by the fire and water committee, as is the request for a water main on W. Washington-st.

The city attorney has a rather heavy docket as the result of the numerous council meetings held during April. He must prepare the necessary resolution for the condemnation proceedings for the acquisition of the Miller property on Superior-st. and W. Lawrence-st. and the McCann property on Superior-st.; secure a price on the McCann property; enter into a contract with Herman Nickles for the city dump at a rental of $15 a month; proceed to the parcel of land lying outside of Parkway plat in the Sixth ward, which the city is purchasing for $450 for street purposes; and take the necessary steps in connection with the summons and complaint in the case of Emory R. Rusch and Edna E. Rusch against the city of Appleton.

HOTEL APPLETON TO HAVE NEW BARBER SHOP

The northeast section of the basement of Hotel Appleton is being remodeled, according to Theodore Ild, hotel manager, and a modern barber shop will be opened there on Saturday, May 9. A section of this space formerly was used as a barbershop but it was vacated several weeks ago and the business is to be reopened under new management. Mr. Ild said that Eber Gross, formerly with a barber shop at Hotel Washington, Stevens Point, will manage the new shop, which will have three chairs. A lounge room for women is to be one of the added features of the new business. Plate glass windows have been installed on the north side of the new shop.

WEARING EXPERIENCE

A man accompanied by his wife visited a tailor to pick out a suit. The wife disagreed with his selection.

"Oh, well," she said, after a lengthy argument, "please yourself. I suppose you are the one who will wear the clothes."

EIGHT PROBATE CASES LISTED FOR HEARING

Eight probate cases are listed for hearing at a regular term of Outagamie county court which will be held at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning before Judge Fred V. Heinemann at the courthouse. Cases on the calendar include: hearing on petition for administration in the estates of M. J. Hudes and F. C. Mader; hearing on proof of will in the estates of Anton Diedrich and Anna Maier; hearing on claims on waiver in the estate of Peter Victor Erdman and Adam Schabo; hearing on claims in the estate of Mary Lorenz; hearing on petition for citation in the estate of William H. Priest.

LIBRARY GROUP

PICKS TEN BEST BOOKS FOR MAY

New Novels by Susan Glaspell and Arthur Train Are Among Works

New novels by Susan Glaspell and Arthur Train, a play by George Bernard Shaw, a new sonnet by Edna St. Vincent Millay, and Pershing's experiences in the World War are among the 10 books selected by a group of eastern librarians as the outstanding books for May.

"Ambrose Holt and Family" is the new Glaspell book. It is a tale of pleasant, comfortable life in a prosperous American town in which the author, with keen penetration and understanding, deftly analyzes the relationships and motives of her well-drawn characters.

The new volume by Train, "Puritan's Progress," a lively and illuminating account of life in the United States. Shaw's play, "The Apple Cart," pokes fun at the hypocrites of politics. "Fatal Interview," by Edna St. Vincent Millay, is a sonnet sequence of extraordinary richness of emotion, depth of thought and feeling.

Pershing's account of his experiences in the World War contains accounts of history-making conversations, secret and hitherto unpublished documents, all of which form part of a richly human narrative.

Other books considered outstanding are: "The Two Carlyles" by Osbert Burdett, a brilliant and humorous story of this famous couple; "Effective Thinking" by Joseph Jastrow, who maintains that the thinking habit and its manner of expression are a phase of one's personality; "The Stairs in Their Courses," by Sir James Jeans, an introduction of modern astronomy written in simple, non-technical language; "The Flame of Islam" by Harold Lamb, the second book of "The Crusades," which deals with three of the most glamorous figures of chivalry, Saladin, Richard Coeur de Lion, and St. Louis of France; and "Mere Marie of Ursulines" by Agnes Repplier, the fascinating biography of the founder of the Ursuline Order.

Simon Nominated District Governor Of Rotary International

700 REGISTER FOR GATHERING BY NOON TODAY

Future of Rotary Discussed by Edward Flynn at General Session

Rotary ideals, service, fellowship, depression, peace, war, and "pep-ism," were woven into the opening session of the tenth district conference of Rotary International at the Hotel Menasha, Monday morning, when Charles Simon of Iron Mountain, Mich., was unanimously nominated district governor. Election will take place at the international convention in Vienna, Austria, this summer.

The principal speaker of the morning was Edward Flynn, assistant to the General Counsel, Great Northern Railway company, St. Paul, Minn. Mr. Flynn, first president of the Rotary club at Devil's Lake, N. D., governor of the ninth district in 1924-25, and director of Rotary International in 1929-31, talked on "The Future of Rotary."

The Rev. Fred J. Jordan, of Eau Claire, district governor, spoke of the power and ideals of Rotary in his address. Russell Williams, international representative of Rotary International, brought greetings from the international officers.

Delegates Welcomed
The conference, at which 700 Rotarians were registered by Monday noon, opened with selections by the Menasha high school band. The meeting was called to order by C. L. Brown, Neenah conference chairman, and the Rev. William Pyscure of Crystal Falls, Mich., gave the invocation. Playing with the age-old rivalry between Neenah and Menasha, the presidents of the two host clubs, Dr. George Forth, Menasha, and William Kelleck, Neenah, welcomed the visiting Rotarians. The response was given by Al Goeden, president of the Green Bay club. G. Ray Busch of Gladstone, Mich., was the only past governor of the tenth district present. Greetings from Rotarians unable to attend the meeting were read by Garfield, Neenah, secretary of the conference. Singing was led by W. I. Pearson, who substituted for Milton Stanley of Shawano. Emlyn Owen of Neenah was at the piano.

Romping from depression to fellowship and peace, and peace to packing oranges in California, with seasons of Marcus Aurelius, Benjamin Franklin and the Spectator papers, Mr. Flynn linked Rotary with every subject he touched.

Pooh-poohing the so-called depression, he said there is nothing wrong with the country business except that everything went a little too fast for awhile and now the world is stopping to take its breath.

Blames Distribution
"It isn't a problem of too much wheat, too much cotton, too much manufactured stuff," he said. "It's a lack of distribution. There are lots of countries that need this overflow of products but there is no system of distributing it."

"Quit talking about this depression. There is no depression. Watch the ends of the world, where peace, baseball and basketball games, count the money that is spent in cigarettes in a year. Does that look like depression?"

"Rotary has 155,000 of the biggest and busiest men in the country. Why worry about something that explodes this idea of depression?" He amused his audience with excerpts from the Spectator papers when the "Two Penny Club" was in existence, and told of the exclusive little clubs organized by Ben Franklin in Philadelphia, pointing out that they most probably died out because of lack of faith, he explained, that faith in Rotary is the only thing that will secure the future of the organization.

Reviewing Marcus Aurelius' idea of service, Mr. Flynn urged service to fellow men, to the service clubs, to Rotary International and to the world in general. He showed that Rotary could do to dignify the professions; to establish high requirements for the legal and medical professions, in an attempt to eliminate the shysters and the quacks.

The choosing of members to Rotary, he said, should be done as carefully as oranges are packed on the large orange farms in the west. He described in detail the great care taken in packing the oranges from being packed with good ones, and advised this care in the selection of members to Rotary club. Challenges Rotary Annals

To the Rotary Annals he hurled a challenge to fight war. He painted a graphic picture of his trip through the ruins of Europe, to the main cathedral, Chateau Thierry, Soissons, Verdun and the Von Hindenburg line, of the concrete line trenches and the devastated fields, and asked the women if they wanted their boys to go through that again. The next war, he said, will not be a war of husbands and sons; it will be a war of mothers and babies, for with the powerful implements of war now available, no one will be safe.

ARREST CHILTON MAN FOR DRIVING ON NEW PAVEMENT

Emil Pope, Chilton, was to appear in court at Chilton this afternoon for preliminary hearing on a charge of driving over a road which had been ordered barricaded. Pope was arrested Saturday afternoon by Sheriff Gerhard Jensen. Chilton, after the had allegedly driven over 5,000 feet of road that had been closed to traffic. The last 500 feet of road which he traversed had been poured Saturday. His ride came to an end when his machine stopped in back of the concrete mixer, which was still laying pavement, it was reported. Pope was seized by workmen, who held him until the sheriff arrived. He was arraigned in court Saturday afternoon and released on bonds pending his hearing today.

SETTLEMENT IS MADE IN SUIT FOR $25,000

Accept $3,450 for Death of Coed After Auto Accident

A settlement of $3,450 was made Monday in the suit of Mrs. Helen I. Anderson, Kenosha, against George Eimerman, Kaukauna, Bernard Pfeifferle and Melvin Manier, Appleton, and the Employer's Mutual Liability Insurance company. Mrs. Anderson, mother of Miss Kathryn Miller, a former Lawrence college coed, who was fatally injured in an automobile accident last December, brought suit for $25,000. The case was scheduled for trial in municipal court Monday morning, but the jurors were notified not to appear when the settlement was made.

Miss Miller, with Miss Ruby Bergman, Kenosha, another coed, had been dancing at Rainbow Gardens with Pfeifferle and Manier on the night of Dec. 16. The two couples left the dance hall about 10:30 in a car driven by Manier, with Pfeifferle and Miss Miller in the back seat. As they approached the driveway to Highway 41 a collision occurred with a machine driven by Eimerman, who was driving east. Miss Miller's skull was fractured and she died on Dec. 27.

1,800,000 SAVED BY NATIONAL T. B. GROUP

Milwaukee (AP)—Lives of more than 1,800,000 persons were saved during the last quarter-century by the work of the National Tuberculosis association, it was estimated in a study just completed by the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association for the N. T. B. G.

In Wisconsin 16,628 lives have been saved since 1908, when the W. A. T. A. was organized, the study showed. In 1929 alone, it was estimated, 92,308 persons in the United States died of tuberculosis. But if the 1924 death rate had continued, 243,780 persons would have died. The study would make the number of lives saved in that year 161,454.

The death rate from tuberculosis in 1904 was more than 200 per 100,000 population. In 1929 the rate was 76 deaths per 100,000 population. The statistics which substantiate these figures were compiled from all states except Texas and South Dakota.

CAHOON TO SPEAK AT JUNIOR CHAMBER MEET

Ivan "Tiny" Cahoon of the Green Bay Packers' football team and captain of the DePere high school will be the principal speaker at a meeting of the Appleton Junior Chamber of Commerce at Conway hotel Monday evening.

Three new members are to be initiated. They are George Schmidt, Jr., Douglas Kaufman and Herbert Wichman. The initiation will follow a dinner. Clarence Budow will report on the bowling tournament which recently was brought to a close, and will distribute prizes to members who attained high averages.

MOTORIST DENIES DRIVING RECKLESSLY

George Coenen, route 5, Kaukauna, pleaded not guilty when arraigned in municipal court before Judge Theodore Berg this morning on a charge of reckless driving. He was bound over for trial tomorrow morning, and furnished a bond of $50. Coenen was arrested about 8:30 Sunday night by Lester Van Roy, motorcycle officer, on a charge of driving on a Chery-st in a manner that threatened the lives of other motorists. The arrest was made on the north side of the bridge.

Former Orderly Welcomes Pershing

It was a meeting of old buddies—though their war-time ranks were far apart—when General John J. Pershing (right) was welcomed on his arrival in Paris the other day by Harry Cohen, his former orderly. They are seen together at a railroad station. General Pershing is in France to dispatch his duties as head of the American Battle Monuments Commission.

Sheriff, Police Forces In Search For "Lost" Girl

The frightened parents of a 9-year-old Appleton girl, who disappeared from home Sunday afternoon, enlisted police and sheriff's squads in a search which lasted for more than three hours last night and ended abruptly when the youngster was found by a relative on College-ave. The little girl was Verona West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore West, who live on Highway 41, just east of the city limits. Her absence first alarmed her parents about 7:30 last night when they called the police and the sheriff. Several squads of police started a search of the city, while eight deputies under Sheriff John Lappen, started searching through the woods northeast of the city. The searches used, for the first time since their purchase, the new electric search lanterns with which the sheriff's department is equipped. The thinking and flashing of lights through the woods attracted many persons to the scene. The search ended about 10:30 when the little girl was found.

Miss Ornstein with OPERA CO. NEXT SEASON
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ornstein have received word from their daughter, Miss Helen Ornstein, now studying in Milan, Italy, under a scholarship, that she will return to America in September and that she will be a member of the Chicago Civic Opera Co. next season. Miss Ornstein has been abroad continuing her study of music since November of 1929.

The young woman will remain in Milan until July when she will go to Venice for a month and August will be spent at St. Moritz in Switzerland. Miss Ornstein won one of two scholarships offered by Samuel Insull, one of the chief sponsors of the Chicago Civic Opera Co.

Urge Early Mailing FOR MOTHER'S DAY
The postal department has issued a special bulletin urging all citizens to get their mailing for Mother's day on May 10, as early as possible. The volume of Mother's day mail increases every year, the department points out and unless greetings are received in advance of the day the sentiment and value attached to them will be considerably lessened. As ordinary mail is not delivered on Sunday, postmasters are urged to advise patrons to send greetings cards, intended for delivery on that day, via special delivery. Those not caring to use the special delivery service are cautioned to see that their mail is sent far enough in advance to be delivered on or before Saturday.

Several Other Persons Injured in Accidents Over Weekend

Hubert Van Wyk, 420 W. Packard-st. The most seriously injured was Betty May, who received a severe scalp wound on the back of her head. She was treated at a physician's office in Dale. The driver was out about the face, and the other passengers were bruised and scratched.

A blowout of the left rear tire caused the accident, Jones declared. The car swung off the pavement into the ditch and turned over several times, almost completely tearing off the top. It struck a telephone pole, snapping it off, and the upper portion of the pole dangled across the top of the car as it came to rest, with the rear end at the top of the bank, and the radiator and front end partially buried in the earth.

Scores stopped to view the accident, and parked cars blocked the highway for a hundred yards on either side of the accident.

Three Men Injured
Three men received minor injuries and two cars were badly damaged in a collision about 1:30 this morning at the intersection of College-ave and State-st. The injured men are: Fred Simon, 207 W. Appleton-st, cut over left eye; George Paltzer, route 5, Appleton, cut about hands and over left eye; Melvin Haebercker, route 4, Appleton, cuts over nose and between eyes.

The accident occurred as a machine owned by Nick Paltzer, route 5, and driven by Robert Paltzer, was attempting to turn west on College-ave. Just at the same moment a machine driven by Ferdinand Reitzner, 119 N. Appleton-st, was going west on College-ave. The two machines collided. Reitzner's car was tipped over on its side, and the right side of the Paltzer car was badly damaged. Reitzner was accompanied by Simon. Paltzer was accompanied by his brother and Haebercker. All the injured men were taken to a physician's office.

ONE MOTORIST FINED, ANOTHER IS JAILED

One motorist paid a fine of $10 and costs in municipal court before Judge Theodore Berg this morning when he pleaded guilty to driving a car without a 1931 license. This was Irving G-unwaldt, Black Creek. Dan Blomdheim, Green Bay, was sent to the county jail for 20 days for the same offense when he was unable to pay a similar fine. G-unwaldt was arrested last week by Officer Edward Ratzman and Blomdheim was arrested by Peter Van Oudenhoven, county motorcycle officer, on Highway 41 in the town of Grand Chute.

A daughter was born Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hupfaut, route 3, Appleton, at St. Elizabeth hospital.

"We were disconnected," she said. "Will you call my husband back to the phone?"

Geary hesitated. "We can't," he finally said. "Mr. Tatham is—well, he's back in his cell."

Geary couldn't tell her that Tatham had fallen dead.

TURKEY'S OPIUM INDUSTRY FACES TREATY CONTROL

Republic, Seeking to Enter League of Nations, for Agreement

BY PRISCILLA RING

Istanbul (AP)—Turkey's huge, unrestricted output of opium and its derivatives, morphine and heroin, is facing the possibility of government control under an international pact.

The republic, manifesting a desire to enter the League of Nations, has announced readiness to adhere to an international agreement on the limitation of narcotics. She could not well abstain from regulations sponsored at Geneva and expected to find sympathy with her aspirations for a place there.

The development has caused a flurry in the rapidly growing opium industry here. Long an uncontrolled producer of crude opium, the country has, within 18 months, jumped into world-wide notoriety as an equally uncontrolled manufacturer and exporter of the more costly derivatives of the poppy plant's product.

Plenty for All World
Turkish delegates to this winter's conference in London of drug manufacturing countries, announced 11,440 pounds of morphine and 19,000 pounds of heroin annually.

This is more than half the world's medicinal requirements of morphine, and 6,000 pounds in excess of the legitimate global need for heroin.

Turkey, never having adhered to an international limitation agreement, has been officially indifferent to this growth, except as a source of increased export taxes, but she has watched the industry rather closely.

Seyfi Bey, director of customs, said that of 7,000 cases of crude opium produced in Turkey last year, 4,000 were awaiting exportation. Each case contains 185 pounds.

Foreign Nations Warned
"The exportation of opium and its derivatives is carefully watched by the ministry of hygiene," he said. "Foreign consulates are notified of all shipment destined for their respective countries."

But the length and loneliness of the Turkish littoral, coupled with inadequacy of the coast guard, makes Turkey a smugglers' paradise.

Investigators believe that much contraband opium passes up the Bosphorus to Russia, where it is manufactured and then smuggled back to secluded Turkish ports on the Black Sea. Thence it passes to Europe, America and the Far East.

Besides this contraband, there exists what to the Turkish mind is the perfectly legal exportation of narcotics made in the three factories of Istanbul.

SHOWERS ON MENU FOR NEXT 24 HOURS

Long awaited showers are due to arrive here during the next 24 hours, according to the weatherman for Monday night and Tuesday.

Tuesday Rain has been predicted throughout the middle-west. The mercury is due for another rise to 61 degrees. The weatherman says. A slight drop in temperature will be registered on Tuesday.

Ideal summer weather prevailed here this section of the state over the weekend and Monday, the sun sending the mercury skyrocketing to around the 70 degree mark.

Landscape Gardening Class To Meet Tonight

The Appleton Post-Crescent landscape gardening school will be resumed at the vocational school auditorium at 8 o'clock Monday evening for the fifth of a series of lectures by Dr. Franz Aust, of the University of Wisconsin horticulture department. The concluding lecture will be given next Monday evening, May 11.

Dr. Aust is expected to continue his discussion of landscape problems of home gardeners, pointing out the proper places to plant various shrubs and trees and methods of laying out various garden plans.

The class is being staged here under the auspices of the vocational school, university extension division and Appleton Post-Crescent. It is composed of approximately 150 persons from Green Bay, Appleton, Kaukauna, Hortonville, and other nearby cities.

CONTINUE BATTLE ON KIRKLAND JURY

Two Women To Be Challenged by Prosecution in Murder Trial

Valparaiso, Ind. (AP)—A mother's desire for another mother to be a juror in her son's sweetheart murder trial hung in the balance today as the second week of Virgil Kirkland's fight for life dragged along with little prospects for a jury before Tuesday evening.

The defense began questioning a new venire of 75 rounded up over the weekend after the ballots list of 87 names was exhausted. Two women, both mothers, and one a grandmother, were still in the jury box waiting to be challenged by Chief Prosecutor John Underwood.

Each count expressed a likelihood that at least five of the seven men left in the panel after adjournment by Judge Grant Crumpacker Friday would survive.

One of the women jury prospects, Mrs. Martha Cowdrey said she had no prejudice against drinking. She is the mother of a girl the age of the Arlene Draves, sweetheart of Virgil, for whose murder Kirkland and four others were indicted.

While Mrs. Mattie Conover told defense attorneys she was vigorously opposed to drinking, she said her verdict would not be swayed by the liquor served at the Gary party which preceded the alleged fatal attack on Arlene.

Mrs. Conover is the mother of a son and daughter and has three grandchildren. Mrs. Elmer Kirkland, Virgil's mother expressed the hope that another son's mother "sit on the jury that tries my boy."

The prosecution, however, on Mrs. Kirkland's hopes Underwood said he would question Mrs. Conover on hearsay reports that she is opposed to inflicting the death penalty. He added Mrs. Cowdrey would also probably be challenged as she is an aunt of Mrs. John Crumpacker, wife of one of defense counsel.

Kirkland appeared refreshed by the two days respite from the tedious task of picking a jury, made so by the strong opinions held by Porterville citizens in the case. "I hope they get a jury soon," Kirkland said.

DEATHS

MRS. CHRISTINE SMITS
Mrs. Christine Smits, wife of Martin Smits, died at her home, route 6, Appleton, Sunday evening after a long illness. Survivors are the widow, nine children, Marie, Dorothy, Lida, Harriet, Anna, George, Clarence and Harry at home, and Alice in Milwaukee; five sisters, Mrs. Charles Green, Appleton, Mrs. Elizabeth Nielsen, Appleton, Mrs. James M. REVOCATION OF PERMIT SOUGHT IN WASHINGTON

Badger Attorney Asks That License Be Taken from N. B. C. Station

BY RUBY A. BLACK
Post-Crescent Washington Correspondent

Washington—It was the attorney for two Wisconsin radio stations and the former law partner of a former Wisconsin senator who, less than 24 hours after the passage of the act of the United States had, in effect, found the Radio Corporation of America guilty of violating the anti-trust laws, set out to make radio law.

Of course, the law has been made by Congress, but the first time an important matter has arisen under which the validity of that clause of the radio act against monopoly can be tested. The radio act says that companies which have been finally adjudged guilty of "unlawful" monopoly in connection with radio communications shall forfeit any radio licenses they may have.

On Monday the supreme court refused to review the decision of a lower court holding the Radio Corporation of America guilty of violating the anti-trust laws by certain practices.

On Tuesday Elsie Hanson, who went into a law partnership with Irvine L. Lenroot when Lenroot ceased to be a senator from Wisconsin, and who is now attorney for radio stations WTMJ, Milwaukee Journal, and WISN, Wisconsin State Journal at Madison, promptly asked the federal radio commission to take broadcasting license away from a National Broadcasting Company station.

Wants Change

Specifically Hanson, who once was merely a newspaper man himself, asked that the radio commission take the cleared channel of 870 kilocycles frequency away from WENR, Chicago, and assign it to WTMJ, Milwaukee. The Milwaukee Journal station has been seeking a cleared channel in every way possible for many long months, through court appeals, through every opportunity which presented itself before the commission, and now through insisting that a NBC station, "100 per cent owned by the RCA," should not be allowed to use the frequency because RCA had been adjudged a monopoly violating the laws against restraint of trade.

Of course, it is expected that applications will now be made for every broadcasting and experimental license held by NBC, which would be about one-fourth of all the radio licenses held, except those held by amateurs. But it was a Wisconsin station which got there first with the demand that a station owned by NBC, a subsidiary 100 per cent owned by RCA, that is, the RCA radio body knows, although it is forecast by a man wise in radio matters that it will be learned that RCA really doesn't own NBC at all—be thrown off the air.

If WTMJ and Hanson succeed, a new chapter in radio law history will be written.

Hanson, by the way, is busily fighting monopoly these days, for he is protesting against the finding of a radio examiner that Madison is not large enough to support two commercial radio stations with programs and revenue, and that therefore WISN, as claimed by Glenn Roberts, and Roberts, is entitled to a monopoly.

Leaves For Home

Brigadier General Ralph Immell, adjutant general of Wisconsin, left Washington Wednesday night for home and a fishing trip to the Brule, trailing clouds of glory as the newly elected president of the adjutants general association and a two-foot square linen handkerchief, donated not without regret, by the adjutant general of Nebraska, Gen. H. J. Paul, who had overturned precedent in the association by moving that the next meeting be held in Chicago instead of at the Militia Bureau here, as usual. The motion was unanimously carried.

Prof. Pitman B. Potter of the University of Wisconsin, just back from Europe, led the discussion on the independence of the permanent court for international justice in its constitution and jurisdiction, held at the American Society of International Law and its 25th annual program here during the past week. Prof. Potter is a member of the editorial board of the society's publication, the American Journal of International Law.

There are at least two Badger congressional birthdays in the next week. Rep. John C. Schaefer of Milwaukee will be 38 years old on Thursday, and Sen. John J. Blaine of Boscorrel, whom Rep. Schaefer is expected to oppose for the senatorial nomination when the senator's term expires, will be 56 years old on Monday.

Resigns Post
Walton C. Ferris of Milwaukee, assigned as American consul at Palermo, Italy, has resigned this post to accept appointment in the department of state here. Ferris attended the University of Wisconsin law school in 1911-12, and then went to the Marquette University law school in Milwaukee for the next two years. He has been at Palermo for nearly four years. He entered the foreign service in 1926.

In his last report on local public construction before he resigned, retired, or was relegated from the chairmanship of the President's emergency committee for employment, Col. Arthur Woods reported the following contracts for public work awarded in Wisconsin: $3,240,728 in state highway construction; $50,000 sewage system disposal plant at Arcadia; $200,000 school at Whitefish Bay.

Auction Bidding	1st Rd.	2nd Rd.
South	1 ♠	Pass
West	Pass	Pass
North	1 N. T.	Pass
East	Pass	Pass

The above deal is naturally played by North at No Trump. At Contract a game is just as naturally bid for. With the average player sitting in West's position, North, as Declarer, would almost certainly make four odd with the Diamond opened and continued, he must make four Clubs, two Diamonds, three Hearts and one Spade.

If, however, West stops and considers the possibility of the hand, he will readily see that there is one chance to save game even though it may be extremely remote. His only chance would appear to be an immediate shift to a Spade and continuation of that suit upon obtaining the lead with the King of Hearts, which he is sure to make if Declarer needs more than one Heart trick.

Salient Points of Bidding

Contract: South opens the bidding on his four card Heart suit by bidding One. West passes and North with 2½ Quick Tricks in hand an apparently double stopto advertise for bids for interior painting at both offices.

Wisconsin men who have recently accepted appointments in the army reserve corps include: Frank Wrzesinski, Beaver Dam, first lieutenant, infantry; Arvid Edward Johnson, Milwaukee, second lieutenant, quartermaster; and Carl Wilhelm Bernhard, Milwaukee, first lieutenant, coast artillery.

The 703 wholesalers of Milwaukee did a $297,823,254 business in 1929, according to a preliminary tabulation of the 1929 census of distribution. Food and tobacco products led, followed by farm products and then by metals and minerals (except junk and scrap). Counting a lot of others not exactly wholesalers but yet doing a jobbing or wholesaling business, the total amounts to $504,810,728 in net sales.

There is much speculation here as to whether Mrs. Henry Allen Coopers in Spades, Diamonds and Clubs bids Two No Trumps. East passes and South with slightly better than his original bid, at least as far as high card values are concerned, bids Three No Trumps, concluding the bidding.

The Play

East opens the Three of Diamonds and the trick is won with the King in West's hand. North playing the Eight.

If East's lead is conventional, then North has four Diamonds. Since he played the Eight to the first trick, it is practically certain that he holds the Q-J-10, for if he did not hold three higher than the Eight he could not afford to waste such a high card on the first trick. If he had held the Ace among the three higher than the Eight, there would have been no particular object in refusing to win the King on the first round.

At Contract such a situation is further assured by the fact that North bid Two No Trumps instead of One over South's original bid of One Heart. There could be no consolation in the Club-suit for East and West, even though East should happen to hold the King, for Declarer would finesse.

West feels that North will be obliged to resort to the Heart suit in the end and that he himself will make his King of Hearts and be enabled to lead another Spade. He accordingly returns the Nine of Spades, and North playing the Ten, East takes the trick with the Jack.

East returns the Heart, West taking the trick with the King, and leading another Spade.

No matter what the Declarer may do, he cannot go game for he can make but one Spade trick, three Hearts and four Clubs.

Mr. Whitehead will accept no question at a time concerning your bridge problems. Write to him care of the paper, enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope.

STOCK TRADERS BEWILDERED BY RECENT TURNS

Small Group of Bears Even Dazed After Last Week's Experiences

BY GEORGE T. HUGHES
Copyright, 1931, by Cons. Press

Wall Street, New York—The kaleidoscopic changes in last week's stock market have left professional Wall Street bewildered. It is true that there is a small group of constitutional bears who profess the utmost confidence in their position, but even they were a little dazed at the close on Thursday when prices had staged the most extended recovery since last December.

As for the rank and file of the traders, they say frankly they do not know what to think. After the mid-week rally they were almost unanimous in predicting a continuation of the advance. The action of the market on that day persuaded them that the turn had come, but after the bear raid in the last hour on Friday they were not so certain. That it was a bear raid admits of no argument, but the disturbing feature was the success it achieved.

For the most part, therefore, opinion is that the tape will decide and that predictions are useless. This makes for a trading market more purely professional in character, if that were possible, than that of the past eight weeks.

Watch Bond Market
The two quarters most closely watched for a line on the future are the bond market and the action of the railroad shares. Bonds of any grade below the gilt edge have for a long time now moved sympathetically with stocks or just enough ahead of them to foreshadow the course of the share market. Similarly, the railroad stocks have "called the turn" on the market as a whole. If bonds weaken and if the rails give way again, traders will be persuaded that stocks are a sale.

As far as trade news goes and earnings reports, the bear party has still the better of the argument. The U. S. Steel first quarter report, showing only 5 cents a share for the common stock, made a deep impression. Reduction of the dividend on Illinois Central common had been expected and yet it offset the effect of the moderate improvement in car loadings. Half a dozen times during the week it happened that unfavorable income statements were followed by sharp declines in the price of the stock concerned—showing, the pessimists insisted, that the market had not discounted even yet the business losses of the first quarter.

Against all this it is urged that there has been less outside liquidation in two groups, the rails and the oils, than at any time during the long decline. Books of the specialists in earlier shares, it is said, contain remarkably few selling orders. The supply comes from operators for the decline and not investors. The oils, too, are sold out. There has been better buying in the standard oil shares—buying for permanent holding and not for scalping a point or two.

CLAIMS SALE OF SLASH WOULD AID INDUSTRY

Madison —(P)—By selling slash from state timber lands to northern Wisconsin firms for use in the manufacture of wood chemical products, Commissioner Joseph Beck of the department of agriculture and markets hopes to aid industry as well as reduce forest fire hazards.

The plan was revealed by R. B. Goodman, lumberman of Goodman, Wis., at a hearing before the senate committee on education and public welfare. It was suggested after Mr. Beck conducted an investigation for Governor LaFollette.

Slash, while having no value as timber, is a potential fire hazard, it was pointed out by Mr. Goodman. John B. Chapple, Ashland, revealed plans for the reopening of a charcoal and wood alcohol plant at Ashland which would employ from 30 to 40 men and would use slash from 400 farms in the vicinity.

"THE CONSERVATIVE STATE"

"Wisconsin is not a dangerous or a radical state but is the most conservative state in the union," declared Governor LaFollette in a recent address.

Will Utah and Connecticut, Maine and New Hampshire, rock-ribbed Republican states of ultra-conservative hue, please sit up, rub your eyes and take notice.

The governor demonstrated the conservatism of the state in many respects. "We pay as we go," he said, although that is not a matter of politics but made necessary simply because the constitution of the state doesn't permit it to borrow money. Wisconsin has to pay as it goes.

It is an odd thing how these terms we use in our political life, progressive and conservative, radical and reactionary, affect those most in the limelight. The governor doesn't like to be called radical, possibly because he knows that life is not radical and a man who attempts to live a radical life burns out like a taper doubly aflame. The same thing is true of state and nation.

Many of those classed as conservative leaders in politics protest often and vehemently that they are in fact progressive. It is not merely that the word is popular but they too realize that all life that does not progress in a sane and sensible manner, deteriorates, because stagnant things rot.

The people, who are little interested in words and much in performance, generally weigh the parties pretty carefully and with a fair degree of accuracy, realizing that where sense abounds the effort must always be to progress, but not faster than the gear of the great public machine will permit.

It was Emerson who declared that every person is born a radical but that if he lives long enough he will die a conservative, meaning that the experiences of life subdue the enthusiastic bubbling of student days, mostly because those visions were not practical, and however honest, simply would not work.

In politics there will always be a constant, and a very honest difference of opinion concerning the speed at which progress should be made. But political leaders who become wise to the fact that the more a machine is speeded up the quicker it burns itself out and the faster the people will discard it, will, in serving the public interest best, keep but a reasonable speed—but keep going.

WEEK-END CRUISES

Coastwise shipping companies of the United States are disturbed at the announced plans of foreign companies in inaugurating week-end cruises out of New York to the Bahamas, Bermuda, Nova Scotia and other nearby ports. Some of the most magnificent transatlantic liners are to make these trips at intervals between their Atlantic crossings.

Our maritime laws forbid a ship of foreign register to operate between United States' ports in coastwise trade. But there is nothing to prevent them from leaving port and returning in a few days without having touched at any other American port.

This foreign competition is more effective because such ships are not subject to American prohibition laws, hence will have attractions to offer to those who desire to take a three or four day trip where "a good time can be had by all."

Indications are that this will prove to be a popular form of travel and entertainment.

The only American defense to this competition is for American shipowners to place their ships in similar service. They do not seem disposed to do so, realizing the hardships under which they must operate, most of which have to do with prohibition. So the only alternative for the Americans is to sit back and see another steady stream of American dollars go to pay foreign dividends, labor and supplies.

THE PRICE OF POST OFFICE SITES

The senate committee formed to investigate post office sites and leases took evidence at Chicago that the government had paid for a post-office site $17.50 a square foot, whereas witnesses claim that its cash market value was but $4.55.

Unless this committee can find evidence to show fraud or corruption in the purchase, it is really not exposing any astounding facts, great as may be the difference in figures.

It would be an unusual circumstance, were any governmental agency able to buy necessary property without paying much more than the price at which an individual could purchase it.

The same situation exists, and has for long existed, in relation to the prices paid for property by public utilities, railroads, and others similarly situated.

When a public utility sets out to buy a right-of-way for its transmission line, it probably considers itself fortunate if it is able to purchase at two or three times the market value.

It finds that stretches of barren land covered with brush and unable to support a crop, take on strange and unusual values, and that owners who have been trying unsuccessfully for years to sell, suddenly evidence an affectionate attachment for their land.

When a railroad company wants to extend a line or build a sidetrack, it faces exactly the same situation.

Railroads and power companies realize that their only alternative is to go into court; that such a way is costly and that the final figures are set by jurors who seldom listen with much patience to the company's claim. Hence a practical view of the situation has suggested that they may be money ahead in the long run by paying the high price at the start, else the likelihood is that they will pay the high price anyway and have to foot the bill for the music besides.

This senate committee should have an easy time in establishing that the federal government pays extremely high prices for post office sites. Most anyone in the country is ready to admit that without evidence.

THESE SHOULD BE WELCOME

When a custom inspector at New York recently examined a crate marked "Hats" addressed to a New York department store, he found in it a Frenchman who had himself crated up with a supply of biscuits and water, such was his great desire to enter America. Although this young man did not recognize the proprieties demanded in such cases, looking upon immigration laws no doubt as mere artificial barriers, anyone who will crate himself within the dark confines of a box for a week, with a tin of biscuits and a jug of water, has the hardihood of a pioneer.

It is too bad that he could not remain with us.

And then last week too was the case of that ex-soldier of the Kaiser who came to Chicago and secured a job as a waiter.

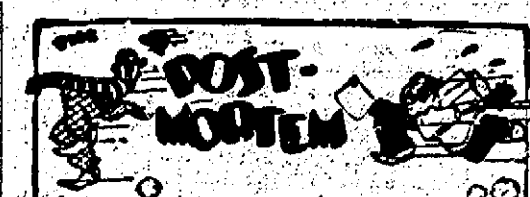

The more he read the papers the more disgusted he became at bandits, blind as they are to the opportunities this country affords even in time of depression. When three of these bandits held up the establishment at which he worked he quietly slipped into the basement, not to hide in safety but to secure a shotgun he had seen there, came up and killed two of them.

Modestly, he remarked: "I do not like this robbery business."

Where can be found a better citizen than this waiter?

UNIVERSAL LANGUAGE
It is possible that a world language some day may be evolved, not spontaneously, but through a gradual interchange of words, the most expressive and laconic of which will survive. Many languages now define in a roundabout way what could be said in one or two syllables of a foreign tongue, consider, for instance, the succinct word "shopper" with the French or German equivalent which, in substance, consists of the verb "to buy" and the noun "shopper." Such words as "sport," "smart" and "hipster" are already international, as are "leader," "foot ball" and "skyscraper," though the spelling is sometimes modified to suit the vocal qualities of the written vowels in different countries, as is seen in the French "pilsener" for "becks beer" and the Spanish "Hider" for leader. It must be confessed that on the Continent, English is the coming vogue, though for centuries that language has been correspondingly enriched with selections from other European tongues, such as "wurst," "kindergarten," "clever," "late-a-to," "toreador" and "encore." Here in Germany, because we have no easy native counterpart for the English word denoting the place of a motor car, we now say "parking" and avoid all the other necessary circumlocution. "Trick," "winner" and "boycot" are other popular terms which have a vogue both in our spoken and written language, and how much more concise is "trick" than "trick-geld geben" or "donner un poubelle!" THOUGHT-ADDRESSED TO NEW YORK SKYSCRAPER BUILDERS: Please put up another big building. People in the middle west are getting tired of looking at pictures of the Empire State building in magazine advertisements, news pictures and newsreels. Why they've even got it on the radio.

Theodore Dreiser, who wrote the "American Trilogy," and once shipped Sinclair Lewis, is all depressed. The movies are using his play and have changed it around considerably and Theodore is mad.

"Here," says Theodore, "with two or three of the strongest financial institutions in the country about to go to pieces, the movie stars still worried about how long somebody should hold a kiss."

To prove that the younger generation is getting harder to bring up in Lake Forest (Ill.) a couple of young ladies, age four and six respectively, read a great number of fairy stories. Pondering their borrowed mamma's vanishing cream, took off their clothes, applied vanishing cream all over and proceeded to bounce in on mamma's formal dinner party. They thought, Tillie, that they were invisible.

Just Folks

A FATHER'S DISTINCTION

A youngster ran to meet him down the street. And took his hand and pattered at his side, and he took her to pieces, the movie stars still worried about how long somebody should hold a kiss.

Nothing to her meant all the marks of pride. Rich men had passed her and she had not stirred. A great man in his car had driven by; Another nearer of whom the world had heard. But on his form she never cast an eye.

And then he turned the corner, and she ran. With eyes aglow and happy-beating heart, To greet with kisses the weary man, Of all the throng to single him apart!

"Proud father you should be," thought I, "and reconciled. Whatever alien lips in scorn are curled, Whatever others think, your lovely child Welcomes you home—the best man in the world."

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Monday, May 7, 1906

An interurban line from Appleton to Waupaca via New London was the next possibility in the list of inter-city electric rail connections. The school year of the Appleton school might be increased from nine to ten months the next year, if a resolution to that effect introduced by William H. Zuehlke, representing the Second district, were to be passed at the next school meeting in July.

Lavigne university won a dual track meet from Marquette the preceding Saturday by a score of 32 to 39.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Calmes were surprised by a number of friends at their home, 544 Second-ave, the preceding Saturday night.

Harry Reese was to leave that night for Seattle, Wash., where he was to work for one of the telephone companies of that city.

Victor Jens spent the previous Sunday with Neenah friends.

TEN YEARS AGO

Monday, May 7, 1921

Labor difficulties resulting from the efforts of building contractors to reduce wages and efforts of union printers to secure shorter working hours resulted in industrial disturbances in Appleton and the Fox River valley, that morning. Appleton was affected principally by the refusal of union carpenters, masons, and bricklayers to accept a wage reduction proposed by the contractors.

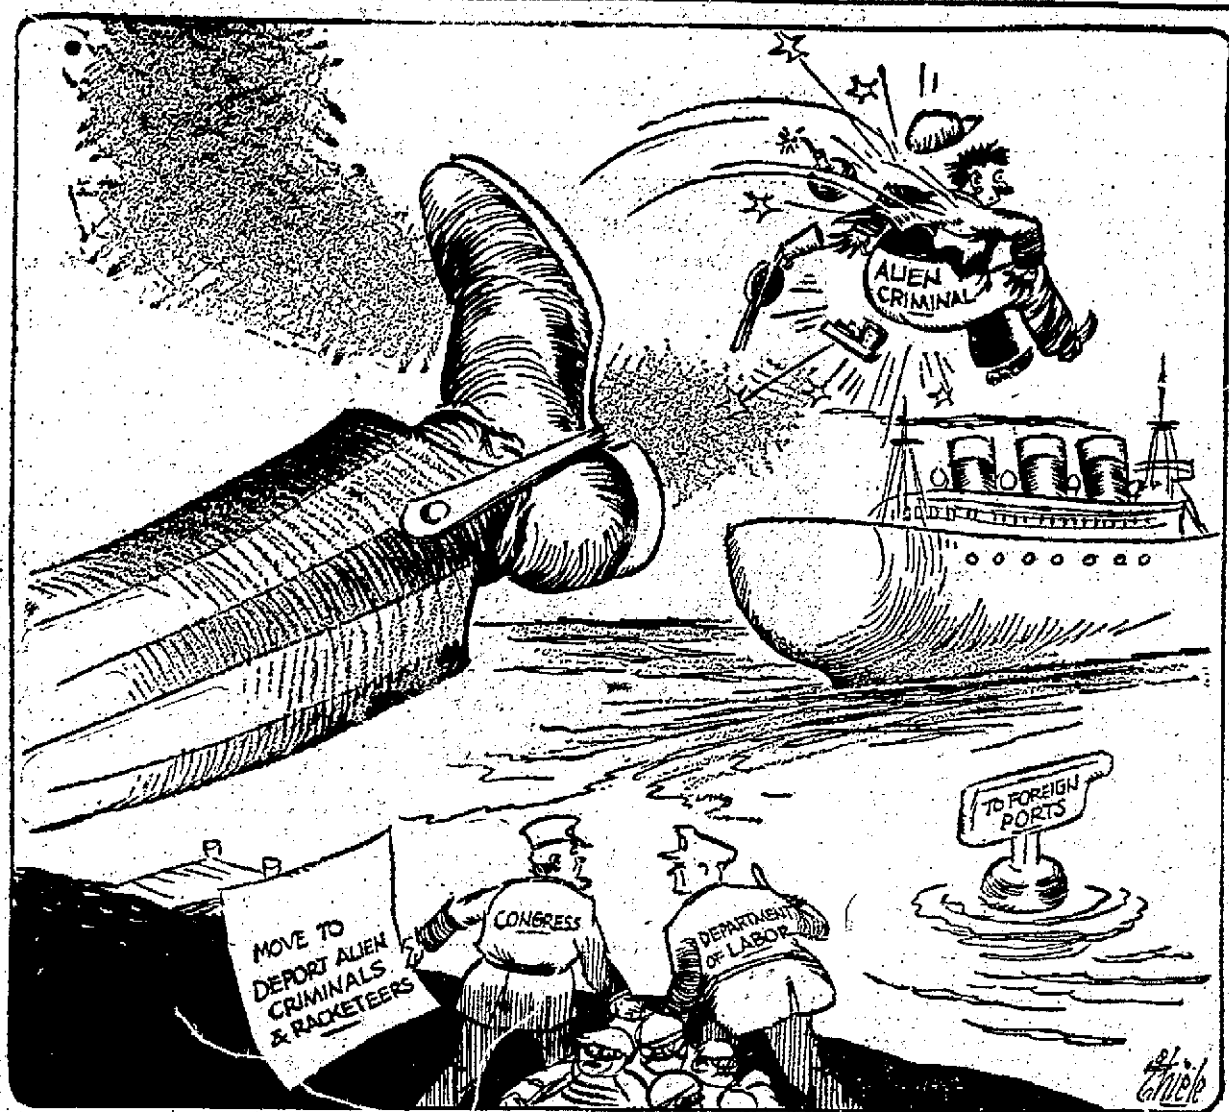

The junior prom of Appleton high school was held the previous Saturday evening at Armory G. Miss Eleanor Glasheen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Glasheen, 937 Fifth-st., and Ralph Geo. son of Mr. and Mrs. James Geo. Green Bay, were married at 6:30 that morning at St. Mary church.

Application for a marriage license was made that day by Karl D. Jahmke and Katherine Reisenweber, Appleton.

Harry Vincent spent the weekend with friends at Milwaukee.

Miss Mildred Hutchinson spent the preceding weekend with relatives in New London.

BOMB VOYAGE!

Personal Health Talks

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

ALL BABIES ARE BORN ASPHYXIATED.

I've been studying over Prof. Theodore Dreiser's latest contribution to the subject of resuscitation, and darned if I can find any loose spots or any comfort at all. I hate to admit it, but it begins to look as if the man may be right. He declares that inhalations of a mixture of 1 percent carbon dioxide and 99 percent oxygen should be directed to each and every newborn baby, from an inhalator (not a lung motor) for 10 minutes three times a day for the first few days.

That is tantamount to saying that every infant is born asphyxiated. Professor Henderson does not say it in just that way, but he does say that "the asphyxiated respiratory center of the newborn, or of a drowned person, requires a much higher pressure of carbon dioxide than does a normal center to stimulate it into respiratory activity." This means the proportion of carbon dioxide in the mixture inhaled.

It was this Irrepressible Prof. Vandell Henderson who told us doctors a few years ago that the rite of spanking the newborn baby to make the infant cry and breathe is a mistake and has nothing to do with the initiation of breathing. This rather rolled some of us old timers who had, as we fondly imagined, given hundreds of little strangers a good start in life by this hallowed ceremony. But the hard-bitten professor stood steadily on his scientific ground and smiled at our hoary medical traditions. He pretty well proved beyond peradventure or cavil that carbon dioxide, not irritation of the skin, nor the shock of cold water, is the actual stimulant of the newborn's chest.

Even we older doctors who rely so much on experience and so little on mere theory or laboratory experiments recognize that quite a few just between ourselves we recognize, too, that we have failed to resuscitate too many weak non-breathing infants. For this reason we are rather less disposed to laugh off Professor Henderson's latest contribution than we were to dismiss his suggestion that spanking was a useless method of treatment for asphyxiated babies.

The inhalator for administering the carbon dioxide and oxygen to the newborn infant is a portable one, consisting of a cylinder of oxygen and carbon dioxide, a special mask to fit around the face, a pressure valve arrangement and an inflatable rubber bag. The bag is filled with the proper mixture, the mask carefully applied to fit around the face (it has inflatable rubber rim) and the doctor simply squeezes the bag gently to inflate the baby's lungs, then presses gently on the baby's chest to cause expiration. This, Professor Henderson assures us, is quite as effective as any more complicated apparatus for artificial respiration can ever be, and it is without the risk of injury to the lungs which such apparatus involves. It is probably the best known means of preventing atelectasis (collapse of lung or failure to expand) and pneumonia in the newborn.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
Immunity Against Diphtheria.

As a practicing nurse I have found that many people imagine that a dose of antitoxin, given when someone in the household has diphtheria, confers lasting protection against the disease. People do not understand the difference between antitoxin and toxin-antitoxin immunization. Under misapprehension they condemn diphtheria immunization because they learn that some folks have received a dose of antitoxin subsequently contracts diphtheria. (E. M.)

Answer—Thank you. That is an excellent suggestion. Perhaps the best I can do to remind readers that antitoxin is merely an antidote, and a dose of it is effective for only a few days at the longest. Toxin is the poison of diphtheria; a minute dose of toxin is equivalent in effect to having had mild diphtheria, and it brings about the natural process of immunity in the patient's blood, which confers as lasting protection.

The Tinymites

By Hal Cochran

THE jolting cart seemed very strange. Said Scotty, "We can all arrange to sit so we can see the sights. The show'll be real sport. Now, hurry please and all get set. A funny ride were going to take. The horse is getting anxious. Can't you Times hear him snort?"

And so they squatted on the floor and soon the bunch heard Clowry roar, "Giddyup! Giddyup! We're on our way!" The horse pricked up his ears and started slowly down the street. Each Tinty had a grandstand seat. The natives were attracted by the happy Tinies' cheers.

A canvas shade spread overhead. "That keeps the sun off," Copsy said. "And here's a big umbrella. I will open it up wide. He pushed a snapper. Up it flew! It proved a real smart thing to do because the big umbrella kept the sun out at the side.

For about an hour they rode this way and then the driver said, "This ends the jolting journey. Little Tinty, now all climb out. You are a friendly little bunch, but I must hurry home to lunch." The Tinymites all thanked him and then jumped out with a shout.

"Oh look!" cried Copsy. "We will meet that man who's coming down the street. And I know what his business is. I've read of him in books. He is a walking grocery man. On poles he carries all he can and sells his wares from house to house. How queer the fellow looks."

Then, as the man went walking by, the Tinies had a chance to eye the things that he was carrying. He surely had a load. A pole across his shoulder swung and on it two big baskets hung. The man smiled at the Tinies and kept walking down the road.

A Bystander In Washington

By HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington—No one mourned the passing of Nicholas Longworth more genuinely than an aged negro tucked away in a corner of the state department who acts as personal messenger to Francis White, assistant secretary of state.

This name is Charlie Reader, stout, good natured and reminiscent. Charlie was a White House servant for 13 years, and a great part of this time he served as Alice Roosevelt's footman. In the days when the debonair Nick was her suitor.

It was Charlie who was assigned as personal valet to Longworth at the time of the wedding at the executive mansion. He is never prouder than when he is asked to describe how he helped Longworth put on the suit he was to wear at the wedding. In those days Charlie had the reputation of being the "fastest footman in town." He remained at the White House into the Taft administration.

Recalls Days Gone By
Charlie delights to talk of the days when he served at the White House. And numerous are his stories in which Princess Alice and her late husband figure as the principals.

He has seen them both often since those days. Both remembered him and never failed to greet him whenever they saw him. Mrs. Longworth recently made Charlie's breast swell with pride when, at an affair at the Pan-American Union, she stepped out of her car, saw him standing by, and asked:

"How are you, Charlie?"
Princess Alice always chided him for his neglect of Paulina, whom he has never seen. He has promised her that he will come to see her soon.

"I want to see if she's another Roosevelt," he says simply.

Longworth Informal
It was an axiom among the newspapermen of Washington that Speaker Longworth was one official who could always be seen. His door was seldom closed.

Once a visiting foreign journalist came to the capital, sought out a Washington newspaper friend and asked if an "audience" with the speaker could be arranged. He was greatly surprised when, without ceremony, he was ushered into Longworth's presence.

"They talked informally. Finally the journalist asked:
"Mr. Speaker, I have read in the reports of congress that often the house indulges in what is called 'general debate.' I think we have no such thing in our law making body. What is 'general debate'?"

"It's when a sweet singer sings his songs," replied the American people. The journalist looked puzzled, and longworth smilingly explained:
"A sweet singer—he is a good deal like the water that goes over the dam—makes a big racket but has nothing to do with the grinding of the grist."

JOFFRE'S CHICAGO VISIT

On May 4, 1917, the French mission arrived in Chicago for a tour of the middle western states. Marshal Joffre delivered his first address, as follows:

"My friends, I am proud to have in my hand the American flag, which is to the American people what the French flag is to the people of France, a symbol of liberty. I hold in my other hand the flag of France, who has given of her best, her staunchest, and her bravest, and which also stands for liberty. I had the honor to carry the French flag on the field of battle, and I am glad to join the flag of many battles to the flag that has never known defeat. With this flag I bring to you the salute of the French army to the American people, our staunch ally in the common cause."

This marshal then joined the two flags of red, white and blue. The whole assembly mounted the seats and cheered. The mission was enthusiastically welcomed and hospitably entertained at Chicago, and thence proceeded to St. Louis.

The smile "pretty as picture" has lost much of its effectiveness with the development of modern art.

Seen And Heard In New York

BY RICHARD MASSOCK

New York—Meet William C. Creamer . . . a New York lad who made good in his home town.

Since 1845, when he has worked for the same Fifth Avenue department store. During that time he worked up from the basement to the front door.

But he has his memories. Yes, sir! He measured skirts for Mrs. Abraham Lincoln. That was after he got to a clerk.

Mr. Creamer, who must be one of the oldest floorwalkers in America, began at the bottom. He came to the store as a boy of ten. His job then was to sweep out, start the fire and run errands.

By diligent application he rose in the ranks. For some years he has been a privileged employee. His only duty is to stand near the entrance and greet the old customers.

Mr. Creamer begins his seventy-first year of service happy to have this name is Charlie Reader, stout, good natured and reminiscent. Charlie was a White House servant for 13 years, and a great part of this time he served as Alice Roosevelt's footman. In the days when the debonair Nick was her suitor.

It's not what you do, but the people you meet.
Today at the age of 80, Creamer still comes to business every day, never having a single day in all 70 years of employment in this one store.

Lofly Landing
About that mooring mast on the Empire State building:

Have looked into it and find that it really is a clever, 16 regulation stories in height, with an elevator shaft running up the middle. Each floor is but a bare compartment. There will be no tenants up that high to watch zeppelins tie up their wild geese and ducks, that already had started there in their flight and smaller birds that fly too high.

Theoretical Hitching
If and when a dirigible does stop there, the mooring procedure will be like this:

A circular plate at the very peak is removed, revealing a revolving cap in a sheath. The mooring cable is run through a hook in the cap and down a channel through the tower to the eighty-second floor. An electric which will pull the cable, with the crew on a lower balcony holds the cable steady by restraining lines. Then the passengers may descend from the dirigible to a top balcony through an enclosed gangplank, so they won't get dizzy looking down a quarter-mile to the pavement.

The having at the very top, the highest point from which to view the city, will be open to the public. Tourists will have to look out of a glass-enclosed observatory at the eighty-sixth floor.

Alfred L. Smith, Pierre S. DuPont and John J. Raskob will share one floor of the building—the eighth. The DuPont organization will occupy three others floors; too, with space equivalent to a 22-story building on a plot 100x100 feet.

There won't be much work done there, with the first dirigible flying outside the Raskob-DuPont-Smith windows.

A complete breakfast was sent by plane recently from New York to the coast. Air-meal service, as it were.

Do YOU know the difference between a Price and a Value?

A price is something you pay . . . A value is something you receive.

A price includes the store's profit while the value includes yours.

Did you ever see a store without prices? No . . . but you HAVE known shops without values.

When you look at a Schmidt Suit . . . whether the ticket reads $25 or $50 you know before you pay that you are going to enjoy, in value, more than it asks in dollars and cents.

TRADE CONFAB TO CONSIDER WORLD ISSUES

Far-reaching Results Expected from Gathering at Washington

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright, 1931, by Post Pub. Co., Washington.—(CPA)—Of inestimable importance to the American people is the meeting to be held here this week by the International Chamber of Commerce, for it will provide a forum for the discussion of ways and means of curing the world-wide business depression.

The delegates are from 22 countries and the fact that each of them is fully disconnected from any government means that the business men of the world are gathering here to exchange ideas. First and foremost is the discussion of tariffs. Second, there will be talk of a post-war conference of the United States to the United States of war debts. Third, there will be study given to a variety of questions looking toward the stimulus of world trade—the flow of goods and capital.

As for the suggestions about war debts, the foreign delegates will probably learn the newer political party in the United States would dare to take the risk of advocating any material change in the present status. The problem of tariff will find a receptive audience because many of the leading business men of the United States are convinced that there must be an adjustment of tariffs if there is to be a revival of foreign trade.

Need Purchasing Power
In the minds of some of the delegates the debt question is not regarded as an essential, but they mention it merely to illustrate that something must be done to increase the purchasing power as well as the confidence of European people. Some of the delegates have said privately that a readjustment of the tariff situation would go a long distance toward solving the world's troubles, irrespective of any revision of the debt settlement.

Undoubtedly there is much sympathy on the part of some American business men and bankers with the idea of a moratorium on war debt payments, but with a pronounced attitude of the Hoover administration against any change it is unlikely that the foreign delegates will carry away with them any encouragement as to an economic solution through that channel.

Every meeting of the International Chamber of Commerce—and the recent gathering have all been held in Europe—have attracted world-wide attention. Even to this day the recommendations made at the famous Brussels conference are recalled as having influenced the settlement of the reparations problem. Economic history may be made at the Washington meeting, for at no time since the war have graver problems confronted the business groups of all nations.

There will be plenty of mingling between the delegates and American officials not only in the formal programs but in the many social features that have been planned for the coming week. Every embassy and legation is of course host to its own delegates. In every respect therefore, while the meeting is unofficial, it will assume official significance and probably will have a far-reaching effect on the economic policies of the world.

CONTRACT SIGNED FOR CALUMET-CO OVERHEAD

Madison —(P)—Governor LaFollette signed four contracts for overhead bridges, part of the grade crossing adaptation program, over the weekend. They were as follows:

Edin overhead on Highway 41 and 50, Kenosha county, to T. H. Kreuger, Milwaukee, $13,782.70.
Lake George overhead, on Highway 8, Oneida county, to Peppard & Fulton Co., Superior, $13,338.20.
Husher overhead, on Highway 38, Racine county, to T. H. Kreuger, Milwaukee, $12,148.30.

West Fork Junction overhead, on Highways 10 and 57, Calumet county, to Peppard & Fulton Co., Superior, $26,551.39.

Bids will be received May 6 at Madison on the following projects: Cedar Grove overhead, Sheboygan county; Mhngon overhead, Washburn county; Baker overhead, Rock county; Dunk's overhead, Brown county; Hager City overhead, Pierce county; and Monegan overhead, La Crosse county.

INFANT MORTALITY RATE LOWER IN 1930

Madison —(P)—The infant mortality rate in Wisconsin declined 4.3 per cent in 1930 over 1929 as compared with the previous year, the state board of health announced today. The rate was 55.7 per 1,000 while the 1929 rate was 60.

"Wisconsin's rate of 60 deaths per 1,000 live births in 1929 placed her in a tie with New Jersey for 10th honors in the national field, and in that year only six states showed a death rate of less than 55 among children under one year of age," the board said.

Wisconsin has lowered the infant mortality rate by more than 50 per cent since 1908, according to L. W. Kutchera, chief statistician for the bureau of vital statistics.

The 11 leading states in 1929 fell into two geographical groups, one including Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and Arkansas and the other group Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Utah, New Jersey was the only eastern state that placed in the first dozen.

Who's Who On The Appleton Post-Crescent

(This is the forty-ninth of a series of articles about members of the staff of the Appleton Post-Crescent. The articles will seek to acquaint readers of this newspaper with those persons as individuals and also will discuss the nature of their work. Members of the staff are presented in the order of their length of service. The fiftieth article will appear tomorrow.)

Rolls of white paper slip through the aperture on the mechanically-driven typewriters. Machines pound ceaselessly, automatically, tap-tapping the news of the world in a steady drone. These three telegraphic printers bring daily 50,000 words of news of the outside world to the Appleton Post-Crescent telegraph editor, Victor W. Zierke.

Mr. Zierke, as telegraph editor, determines what telegraphic news is to be printed and what is to be discarded, writes the headlines and is responsible for the make up and the appearance of the front page.

But that isn't all. He also heads the Post-Crescent's state department, with his multitude of correspondents pouring in reams and reams of news every day.

Before coming to the Appleton Post-Crescent in 1926 as a reporter, Mr. Zierke was the editor of the Reedsburg Times for a year and editor of the New London Press previous to this. He worked at police and court reporting for six months on this staff before he was transferred to the telegraph desk. During a short interval when he was not employed by the Appleton Post-Crescent Mr. Zierke wrote articles for various publications as a freelance.

Mr. Zierke received his education at the University of Wisconsin, earning his Bachelor of Arts degree in journalism in 1924. He was born in Princeton and attended schools there. When he was in college he was elected to Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity.

Mr. Zierke is known as "Vic" to his fellow workers and none have missed the sharp barb of his ironical humor. He reads with an avidity and is reputed to be a shark at bridge. His sports interests are centered in swimming and tennis.

Mr. and Mrs. Zierke live in their own home at 810 E. Winnebago-st.

Royalty Thrills Society In Washington Last Week

BY DOROTHY J. LEVIS

(Post-Crescent's Washington Society Editor)

Washington—Royalty quite awed and thrilled the national capital and filled the pages of its date book last week. Although extremes of pomp and ceremony were missing, the visit of King Pradajhipok of Siam, the possessor of the four-and-twenty golden umbrellas arbiter of the ebb and flow of the tide, half-brother of the sun and brother of the moon, was ruled by a social etiquette that was royal rather than democratic.

General Douglas MacArthur, formerly of Wisconsin, presiding in uniform and medals becoming the chief of staff of the armies of the United States, and Dr. Stanley K. Hornbeck, chief of the far eastern division of the department of state, who took his degree at the University of Wisconsin, were among the officials greeting the King and his lovely Queen upon their arrival in Washington on Tuesday.

The Marine band played the Siamese national anthem and no one understood its unusual melody and rhythm except the royal party. The royal party smiled.

State Dinner

The state dinner at the White House Wednesday evening in honor of their majesties set a precedent for breaking the largest number of presidents. Instead of the guests waiting for their host and hostess, the president and Mrs. Hoover waited in the Red Room, which was somewhat daintily decorated with pink roses, and received their honor guests there. The seating arrangements were also unusual, with the king at the president's right and the queen at President Hoover's left. Mrs. Hoover sat at the right of the king. The White House table was beautiful to behold with pink tulips and roses, heady white lilies, spirals, snapdragons and other spring flowers making it look very like a spring garden.

Dr. Stanley K. Hornbeck was one of the very official group of guests at the dinner. He was still talking about the fun he had had in taking Prince and Princess Svasti, father and mother of the Queen, sight-seeing at Fort Myer, Arlington and Mount Vernon. It seems that the royal pair decided to have a royal good time in a democratic way and talked to fellow sight-seers, posed for snapshots, patted babies, smiled at everyone, and were cheered to the echo.

Miss Frances Burgess of La Crosse, a student at the King Smith Studio school here, will give a brief recital of monologues and poems on May 9 to win her certificate in dramatic art.

Mrs. Robert M. La Follette Sr. was one of the guests at a luncheon given Sunday by Mrs. Basil Manly in honor of Mrs. La Follette. Mrs. Burton K. Wheeler was another of the guests.

Appleton Visitors
Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Buchanan of Appleton were in Georgia last week after spending two days in the national capital. The previous week they spent their time here seeing the cherry blossoms and calling on their friends, Dr. and Mrs. Dolos O. Kinsman, formerly of Appleton; then motored on to Georgia.

A wedding of unusual interest in Washington took place Saturday when Miss Gertrude Lamont, daughter of Secretary of Commerce and Mrs. Robert Patterson Lamont, became the bride of Captain Charles Eskridge Saltzman.

The Lamonts have a summer home in Wisconsin on West Bay Lake near Land O' Lakes and Mrs. Lamont plans to go to Wisconsin in June.

Mrs. James Troutman of Milwaukee was the only Wisconsin member attending the meeting of the Daughters of 1812, which closed here Wednesday.

Dr. and Mrs. Kinsman attended one of the first picnics of the season, Saturday when they went with other faculty members of American University on a very civilized jaunt to the Virginia home of Dr. Jones and Dr. Louise Taylor Jones of the University.

Miss Helen Chafee, a student at George Washington University, recently attended the convention of College Women's Athletic Association in Madison. Beginning in her high school career, shooting has been Miss Chafee's athletic passion and she is a member of the excellent G. W. rifle team.

Gardens Blooming

Gardens, which are just beginning to burst into really spring time bloom, are soon to be much in the limelight. Plans are being formulated for the annual Georgetown Garden tour and Interstate Commerce Commissioner Balthasar Meyer and Mrs. Meyer are members of the committee. Proceeds from the tour of the historic and lovely gardens of old Georgetown are used for social work. Tentative dates for the tour are May 15 and 16. The Meyer's own garden, though most attractive is small and will not be included in the tour.

Mrs. Emma Stiemke of Watertown, Wis., visited Mrs. S. W. A. Notz for a day or so last week.

Dr. William F. Notz, formerly of Watertown, and Mrs. Notz attended the Thursday morning convocation at the Pan American Union when George Washington University presented King Pradajhipok of Siam with an honorary degree. Dr. Notz is the dean of the foreign service at Georgetown University.

General Douglas MacArthur and General T. M. Imnell, Adjutant General of Wisconsin, attended the luncheon given by officers of the Militia Bureau at the Carleton Hotel Tuesday for the adjutants general meeting in Washington.

Robert Allen, well known newspaperman formerly of Wisconsin created a precedent Tuesday, by attending the luncheon of the National Woman's Press club at which Eugene Lyons, United Press correspondent at Moscow for three years, spoke. Mr. Allen was the first husband of a member to attend. His wife is Ruth Pinney, Washington correspondent.

THE PENALTY of GRAY HAIR

Gray hair—age—slipping. All these unpleasant ideas seem to go together. Yet, it is not at all necessary. Gray hair often comes to a young head and people who have it are neither old nor incapable. But how often you hear people say, "Why she has gray hair!" and—she is on the shift.

This penalty need no longer handicap the woman who uses Canute Water. This is a clear, spring-like water, of wonderful properties which actually restore hair to its original golden color. No complicated "color plan," no danger of getting brunettes shade when your hair is blonde. Not only the one kind but the one bottle is enough. It really is surprising what successful, youthful results it gives. Apply Canute Water yourself, in the privacy of your own home. Many women in town are using the same thing; they simply do not mention it. You need not mention it either. Just buy a bottle from a good druggist—and get rid of the "age penalty" in gray hair. Canute Water is so safe, so scientific and sure that your dealer knows it will satisfy you; if not, he will refund your money. Sold and recommended by Voigt's Drug Store, Schlitz Bros. Co. or your own druggist—The Canute Co., Milwaukee, Wis.—Adv.

"COLOSSUS," BIG WHALE, IS SHOWN IN CITY THIS WEEK

Educational Lectures Accompany Exhibit at St. Paul Depot

A real flavor of the open sea and the tang of deep waters may be appreciated right in this city simply by going to the C. M. and St. Paul depot and viewing "Colossus," the largest whale ever taken of the ocean.

A ship's bells tools off the hours; specimens of strange fish, odd bits of whaling paraphernalia, a modern high powered harpoon gun, and a uniformed staff of men help to create the nautical atmosphere of the exhibit.

"Colossus," the huge monster of the deep weighing 68 tons, and measuring 55 feet from stem to stern, lies, enclosed in glass, on a railroad car especially constructed to bear his tremendous bulk. The whale is in a perfect state of preservation, thanks to newly found methods of embalming.

The task of removing the whale from the sea and on to a flat car was in itself a very difficult task. The car was built in extremely large proportions, then run on a car ferry and taken to a point about 70 miles off the Pacific Coast, where "Colossus" was floating on the surface. There the car was swung overboard by derricks and submerged, and, after much maneuvering, brought directly under "Colossus." Then the whale and car were hoisted on to the flat.

Educational lectures are given every fifteen minutes by men who are familiar with the whaling industry in all its phases.

Captain "Sky" Clark, famous whaling skipper who is here as skipper of the crew is charge, explains the modern and old-time methods of whaling.

The captain can tell you many a whale tale. He invites you to look over "Colossus" and guess its age. No one knows how old the monster is and there is no way know of determining.

Get the captain to tell you of the fierce struggle he saw many years ago in the Arctic wastes, between a school of finbacks and a lone "Killer" whale, the most devastating and ferocious beast in water or jungle.

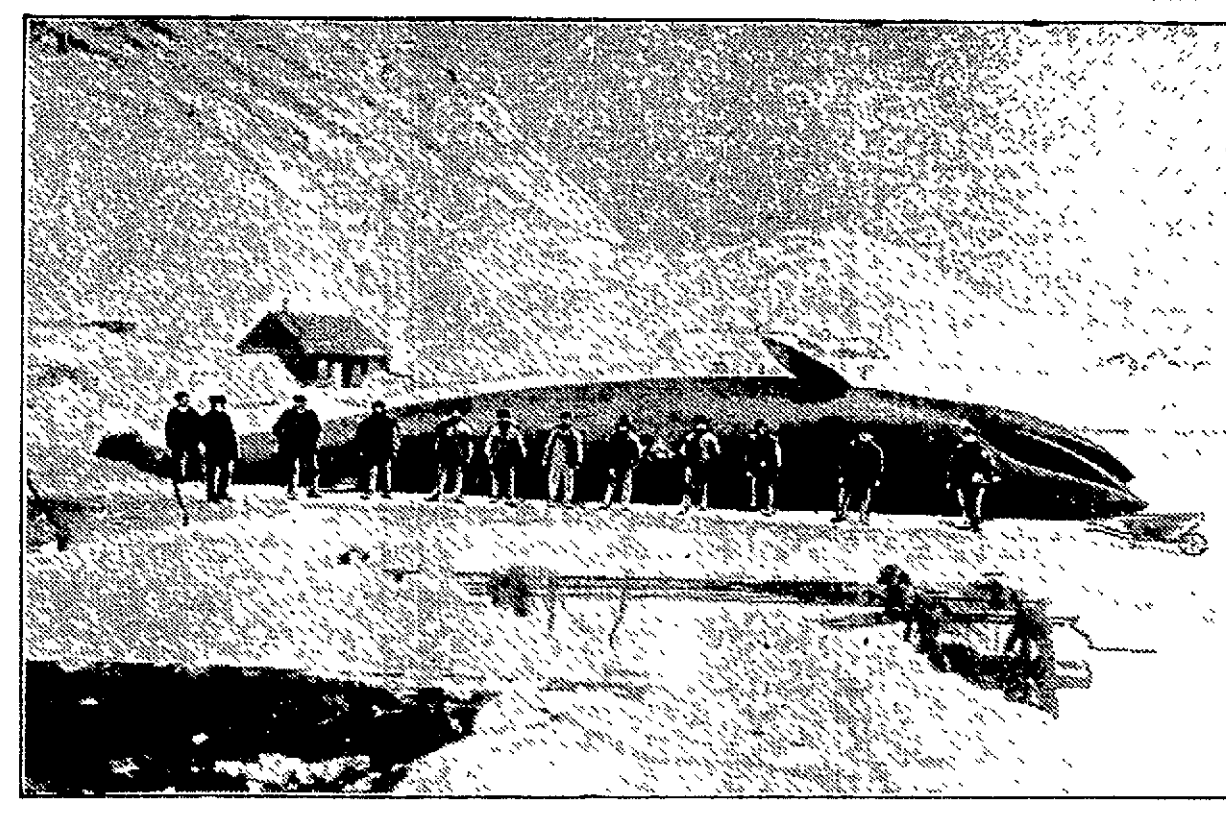

"Colossus," in addition to the many other specimens, which includes, a five ton sea elephant, will be on exhibition every day and evening during its brief stay in the city. Mayor Goodland has granted a permit and extends an invitation to rural school teachers, all parochial school teachers, Boy Scouts and Campfire girls to see the whale exhibit free of charge.

LOCAL YOUTH STUDIES JUDICIAL EXPENSES

Three students from the University of Wisconsin, one of them a local boy, are making a study of Appleton to determine the cost of administration of criminal justice. The three men, all students of politics at the University, are representatives of the Wickersham commission.

The local boy is Leo Solinger, son of Mrs. Fannie Solinger, 331 E. Commercial-st. He is accompanied by

HAS SUCCESS WITH PASTURE OF RAPE

Seymour—Meeting success with the pasture the past few years, Arnold Muenster has sowed his hog lot to rape again this spring.

At one time last summer, Mr. Muenster has 21 hogs pasturing on about one acre of rape. The hogs grew rapidly and it seemed as if the acre would supply pasture for as many more hogs. He has two brood sows now and 10 little pigs but expects to buy more pigs.

As green food, Mr. Muenster feeds Swiss Chard, raised in her garden, to her hens all summer, and she says there was no let up in egg production during last summer. She also said that hens on yard pasture

A meeting of Sacred Heart society of Sacred Heart church took place Sunday afternoon at the parish hall. Routine business was transacted.

St. Joseph Benevolent society met Sunday afternoon at the parish hall. Regular business was discussed.

SPECIAL WEEK IS OBSERVED
BY A. B. P. W.

Members of Appleton Business and Professional Women's club are observing "Fill-out-your-questions week" all this week, by filling out blanks issued by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs and the Department of Social Economy and Social Research at Bryn Mawr college. The activity is the result of a joint survey into the status of the business woman over 40 years of age, which is being conducted by the two groups.

Sixty thousand members of the Federation have been asked to lend their experience so that the organization may develop a questionnaire guidance program for mature women, and the week of May 4 to 9 has been set aside to answer the questionnaires.

Dr. Lillian M. Gilbreth, noted efficiency engineer and National Research chairman for the Federation, is sponsoring the survey. Miss Ethel M. Miller, chairman of the research committee of Appleton club, has charge of the project in this city. Each woman will be asked to state her age on the questionnaire, which will be returned without signature to the research headquarters in New York. The week expires on May 9 and older women will be contrasted in a search for illuminating facts.

MISS PARONTO BECOMES BRIDE THIS MORNING

The marriage of Miss Eva Paronto, daughter of Wm. Paronto, Lila Wolf, and Bernard Faskell, Ostrander, took place at 8 o'clock Monday morning at Sacred Heart Catholic church, Menasha. The Rev. Nicholas Gross performed the ceremony. Attendants were Miss Mary Flanagan, and Howard Straub Milwaukee. A 1 o'clock dinner was served to about 35 guests at the William Faskell home at Ostrander. Mr. and Mrs. Faskell will make their home on a farm in Ostrander.

Miss Smith Again Head Of Alumnae

MISS OLGA SMITH was unanimously reelected president of Appleton Alumnae of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority at the annual business meeting at a breakfast Sunday morning in the French room of Conway hotel. Other officers who were elected are Miss Alice Peterson, secretary, and Miss Lillian Seybold, treasurer. A plan was suggested whereby a representative from each graduating class will start a "round robin" letter to the members of her class at intervals during the school year and collect news items for the periodical circular alumnae letter. These will be sent to the secretary who will incorporate the items in the letters which are sent to all alumnae of the sorority.

Reunion activities began with a luncheon Saturday noon at Candle Glow tea room after which a cozy was held at the sorority room on E. Lawrence-st. Active, alumnae, and pledges met for dinner Saturday evening at the hall.

The spring formal dance took place Saturday evening at the Valley Inn, Neenah, with about 40 couples present. Several out of town alumnae and guests were present. Decorations were palms and unusual lighting effects. Chaperones were Prof. and Mrs. W. E. Rogers and Prof. and Mrs. J. H. Griffith. Dick Davis' orchestra of Marshfield provided the music.

The breakfast and business meeting Sunday morning officially closed the reunion activities. About 40 girls attended the breakfast, at which seniors were guests of the alumnae.

The Panathenaia club met Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Tempels, Neenah. Regular club business was discussed and refreshments were served. Ten members were present. The next meeting will be June 1 at the home of Mrs. James Contis, Butte des Morts.

A meeting of the chairman of all committees for Appleton Business and Professional Women's club will take place at 7 o'clock Monday night at the Woman's club. All committees will be appointed at this time.

Alpha Chi Omega alumnae association will hold their annual convention and election of officers at a dinner at 6:30 Monday night at Hotel Atherton, Oshkosh. Five Appleton members will attend the meeting.

PARTIES
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Luedtke, 108 W. Wisconsin-ave, celebrated their tenth wedding anniversary and the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Luther Hansen, Beloit, sister of Mrs. Luedtke, Saturday night at their home. Cards and games provided the entertainment, prizes being won by Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Kottke, Joseph Brandt, Mr. and Mrs. William Luedtke, John Jenkel, and Mrs. Elmer Lemke.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Luther Hansen, Beloit; Mr. and Mrs. William Luedtke and daughter, Mrs. Luedtke, and Charles Spangenberg, Peshtigo; Joseph Brandt, Oshkosh; Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Kottke and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. Moller, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Wueller, Mr. and Mrs. John Jenkel and son, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Koss and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lemke and daughter, Ella and Pearl Robe, Mr. William Vogel, Lydia Rohig, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Luedtke and son, all of Appleton.

Approximately 35 alumnae of Phi Mu, national social sorority at Lawrence college, attended a sorority reunion at the hotel chapter last Saturday and Sunday. Saturday luncheon was served at the Candle Glow tea room for the actives and alumnae and the afternoon program included an alumnae business meeting at the home of Mrs. Dan Evans and a series of convention movies.

Saturday evening a formal dinner for the actives, alumnae and pledges took place at Hotel Northern. Sunday morning the alumnae were entertained at a breakfast at Conway hotel by the actives, and Sunday noon a dinner was given to the actives only at Hotel Northern concluded the reunion.

Mrs. John Gottschalk, 129 N. Storvick, entertained at a miscellaneous shower Sunday night at her home in honor of Miss Gladys Cummer. The party was given by Mrs. Dan Gottschalk, daughter, Aurelia, and son, Irving, Shawano; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kruhl, Earl Kruhl, Mr. and Mrs. John Kruhl, Mrs. Nichols; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cummer and daughter, Shirley, Green Bay.

An open card party will be given at the Appleton Woman's club Thursday afternoon. The affair is one of the mortgage parties which was postponed until after the annual meeting of the club.

Mrs. George Wettengel and Mrs. F. G. Wheeler are in charge of arrangements for the party. All reservations must be phoned to the club by Wednesday night.

A large crowd is expected to attend the annual all-Masonic May ball Tuesday night at Masonic hall.

Give Child More Room To Expand

It is easy to impose upon a willing child. A teacher or parent finds that he accepts each task given him cheerfully. He does so well that each finished task brings another and greater on its heels. Soon the child is burdened to the earth. His spirit is crushed with too much goodness.

A child is an evolving creature. His growth is, by nature, erratic, spasmodic, yet rhythmic. He needs a program of living that allows much leeway. If he wants to sprint ahead on a job he should be allowed to do so. When the sprint is over, he should be allowed to rest. We are likely to make a mistake here. When the child is speeding along full tilt, we cheer him on, greedy for accomplishment. We prolong this period of high endeavor past the time when it should subside. We deprive the child of the span of rest that nature ordained he should have. When we see signs of his falling off in speed or amount of work, we ask, "What's the matter? Not going to fall down on this job, are you?" We might better keep still. Give the child who has been working along at high speed a chance to rest, to recover his spent energy, to take on fresh growth.

Nature is wiser than we in this method. She sets a child at work just the time when it is needed. On fire with interest, a dynamic of energy, he works miracles. Then the climax is reached. He stops. He has achieved the growth that was to come from this phase of work. Now he is to rest and store up energy for the next stride forward. The child might as well take him in an entirely different direction over a new route. We cannot tell. But we can keep our hands off and let the child follow his own course of growth instead of keeping him eternally at it. This child training, this letting of a child, is in part a partnership with the children. We often err in overlooking their share in the process.

It is next to impossible to overwork some children. They move slowly. They respond differently. Yet they grow. Sometimes I think they are better than we. They grow to be best because it is so that we have to let them alone. So the good child, the intelligent, keen-minded, responsive child gets too much good. They make it so hard for us to interfere with them.

If you have such a child, and many of you do, you must consider about his schedule of work and play. Does it provide for free time for the child? Is there somewhere in the list of lessons and duties a little space where he can go apart with self and make friends with his mind? Is there a little space of time where he can lie on his back under a tree, or in the bottom of a boat, and drift on the bosom of his thought? Have you left a little doorway for his soul to slip through now and then?

In our greediness for our children we are likely to crowd them. We would love for them, if we should. We would cheat them, all unknown. Give a little space that makes life worth while. Give a little space to the good child so he may expand a little as his nature indicates. Copyright, 1931, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him at Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Kottke, Joseph Brandt, Mr. and Mrs. William Luedtke, John Jenkel, and Mrs. Elmer Lemke.

MANY ATTEND ZONE RALLY AT OSHKOSH

Thirty-five Appletonians, members of the Senior Olive branch, Waltham of Mount Olive Lutheran church and of the Senior Young People's society of St. Paul church, attended the annual Fox River valley zone rally at Trinity church, Oshkosh, Sunday. Approximately 250 young people from Oshkosh, Horicon, Berlin, Appleton and other cities in the valley attended.

The feature of the program was the zone rally contest. First place went to Miss Esther Schwartz, Horicon. The winning oration was "Companionship." Second place went to Reinhold Bahr of Berlin. Reuben Schultz of the St. Paul society of this city was nominated for district president, and his brother, Winifred, was nominated. Carl Weeks also of this city was nominated for treasurer, and Miss Bernice Koehn, Oshkosh, for secretary. Officers will be elected at the annual district convention at Sheboygan, May 18 and 19.

A program of entertainment was given at the evening motion pictures on the Waltham league camp at Wausau. A supper was served in the parish school auditorium.

Novel spring decorations will be used and Tom Temple's orchestra will play the dance program. Several novelty dances have been arranged for the evening.

Beta Phi Alpha, national social sorority at Lawrence college, entertained 40 couples at a spring formal dancing party at Butte des Morts club Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Olin A. Meade chaperoned. A group of sorority songs was presented as a special feature.

A guest day party will be given by Women of Moosecham Legion at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon at Moose temple. Bridge and schafkopf will be played.

MISS HECTOR APPEARS IN ORGAN RECITAL

A graduate organ recital was presented Sunday afternoon at the Congregational church by Miss Helen Hector, from the studio of LaVahn Maesch. The varied program, although difficult, was artistically played. Miss Hector possesses an unusually thorough knowledge and mastery of the organ, and she proved herself capable of handling the technical problems offered by the extremely difficult program.

The program included two Bach numbers, the "Choral Prelude," "Christ Came to Jordan," and the "Dorian Toccata in d minor," Schumann's "Canon in b minor," the Cesar Franck "Prelude," and a group from the "modern French and German schools" by Karg-Elert, Bonnet and Dupre.

CUSTARD DESSERTS WILL BAKE BETTER IN SMALL DISHES

Coffee is Also Better When Roasted in Small Lots—Hills Bros' Method

The smaller the dish, the more evenly and quickly the oven heat can penetrate to the center of the custard. Such results cannot be counted upon when large baking dishes are used.

Applying this principle to roasting their fine blend of coffee, Hills Bros. found the way to develop uniform flavor in every ounce. A constant stream of green coffee is introduced into the roaster in automatically measured lots of about three pounds, and passes through in a steady flow, roasting a little at a time. There is accurate control of both the flow of coffee and the temperature.

This process, patented by Hills Bros., Controlled Roasting—develops a delicious uniform flavor no other coffee has. The ordinary method of roasting in bulk—is virtually lacking in control.

Grocers everywhere sell Hills Bros. Coffee in the vacuum can that keeps it ever-fresh. Air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is removed from this can and kept out. Coffee packed in ordinary cans, even if air-tight, does not stay fresh. Ask for Hills Bros. Coffee by name and look for the Hills Bros. trade-mark on the can.

THE COPPERY GLOW of a coral love seat in DIDERICH'S caused my downfall last week. This kidney shaped piece of beautiful velvet was so entrancing that there was nothing to do but plan a whole room around it, so we planned in a cloud of blue green green, glazed chintz drapes with a floral design, merely hinting the coral touch and combining touch of blue and green, and yellow pottery lamps here and there. The love seat is simply elegant for two persons and quite comfortable for three. It's a beauty, with a tufted back and two separate pillows of down.

WHY not this brilliant suggestion? Make May 10 a real holiday for Mother . . . and the rest of the family too . . . and take her out for dinner. The CANDLE GLASS ROOM is the place, not solely for their incomparable food, but mostly for this particular Sunday because your mother would love being there. The Candle Glass Room is this charming old house on W. Lawrence-st., which Miss Winifred Russell and Mrs. Hazel Glaser have transformed into a place of beauty. What luck for the mother who has the thoughtful daughter or son to remember that she might not have to cook on this day of days.

YOU'LL find plenty of mental hazards in swank golf outfits in HERNER'S. The TREASURE BOX, and you won't be satisfied until you have one. The remarkable thing is that many of the smartest golfers conveniently marked down for the season have caught the detail of a deep blue three piece in this group with an option on one of the new pastel suits, fashioned in a lacy boucle weave. Powder blues, pinks, and yellows are rampant in a happy thought for summer.

REMEMBER the well-used sewing bag that Grandmother used to pull forth . . . the one with something or other about not putting off what can be done today. It's a real help. Well, the "TREASURE BOX" has a grander way of expressing sock darn or odd mending in a quilted cotton bag with an Egyptian patchwork applied on it in colors. The funny little man astride his black donkey looks for all the world like he's on his way to sell his wares. So much more cheerful than the wool worn maxims. Mother would love something like this or perhaps a delightful box of Norris mints fashioned in fruit sweets . . . or an unusual portfolio of stationery.

GENESSES, as you must know, go in for things new with a vim. Some of the smartest washables I've always envied are right here in this shop. There is a love of an embroidered rajah that is too hard to wear. Eggshell and brown seems to be a favorite combination for warm weather frocks. The brown is cleverly accentuated in reverse pippings, button holes and belts with the lighter eggshell as the predominant shade. No one thing about this shop is that you can find the very hat for your frock right here . . . you can match your shoes right there, jewelry and hanky accessories are there right at hand.

IN A quick tour of the incomparable FETTBON'S found enough "just arrived" on the ground floor alone to keep me chatting on and on. For instance, mesh hosiery has arrived. That is not only interesting in the discovery itself but quite as much in the price of $1 a pair. Imagine this . . . pure thread silk knit (the kind that really wear) with a fancy top in all the new colors. While I was lingering over the mesh hose, I ran onto another discovery, that an outside stocking of full fashioned silk can be gotten for $1 now. These have the desired four inch top of silk.

Just across the aisle were the dollar blouses, the most astounding things for the price . . . well made representing the whole style range. Handkerchief lawns, balais, rayons, in fagoting, ruffles, hemstitching, tailored effects. It's quite useless to name the colors because FETTBON'S have them all.

COULDN'T think of any way nicer to please a mother than to brighten up her particular kitchen domain where she spends so many of her hours. The new are the refrigerator dishes in yellow or green pottery at GALENS HARDWARE STORE. They sit piled in three with a cover for the top dish. Not only are they handy to put left-overs away, but they are the perfect thing for the basting dishes with green, yellow, ware, exclusive with GALENS, you know, carries out a similar idea in cream and green enamel. The main difference is that the enamel ware has a separate cover for each dish and these can be used for cooking on top of the stove as well as baking.

Now idea in Pyrex . . . you know the glass stuff that doesn't break with heat . . . an aguratin dish has a clever cover that is very usable as a hot dish tile or a separate baking dish.

IS THERE any grander gift than jewelry? Would love an amethyst pendant in FISCHER'S JEWELRY STORE for my mother . . . or perhaps one of the lovely or coral necklaces so beautifully fashioned. For an inexpensive remembrance you'll find wee purse fashions of Renaud perfume. The containers are reassuringly bright. Another idea would be a compact, preferably like the lovely enameled one, double size, that is in this shop of quality.

100 Attend Meeting Of U.C.T. Lodge

THE last booster meeting of the Commercial Travelers and Auxiliary Saturday afternoon and evening at Odd Fellow hall. About 100 persons attended.

Initiation was held by both groups in the afternoon and a dinner was served at 6:30. Prizes at bridge were won by Mrs. C. G. Rumpf, Mrs. L. J. Wolf, W. E. Lohr, and H. Poolzlin, and at schafkopf by Ed Schwandt, and Mrs. J. Staeker. Music for dancing was provided by a five piece orchestra.

There will be one more business meeting of the council and auxiliary before the summer recess.

Catholic Knights of Wisconsin will meet at 7:30 Tuesday night at St. Joseph hall. Delegates to the triennial convention at Oshkosh in July will be elected.

Konemic lodge, Order of Odd Fellows, will meet at 8 o'clock Monday night at Odd Fellow hall. Routine business will be transacted.

Charles O. Baer camp, Spanish War Veterans, will meet at 8 o'clock Tuesday night at the armory. Delegates will be appointed to the state convention at Oshkosh in June.

MISS HECTOR APPEARS IN ORGAN RECITAL

A graduate organ recital was presented Sunday afternoon at the Congregational church by Miss Helen Hector, from the studio of LaVahn Maesch. The varied program, although difficult, was artistically played. Miss Hector possesses an unusually thorough knowledge and mastery of the organ, and she proved herself capable of handling the technical problems offered by the extremely difficult program.

The program included two Bach numbers, the "Choral Prelude," "Christ Came to Jordan," and the "Dorian Toccata in d minor," Schumann's "Canon in b minor," the Cesar Franck "Prelude," and a group from the "modern French and German schools" by Karg-Elert, Bonnet and Dupre.

CUSTARD DESSERTS WILL BAKE BETTER IN SMALL DISHES

Coffee is Also Better When Roasted in Small Lots—Hills Bros' Method

The smaller the dish, the more evenly and quickly the oven heat can penetrate to the center of the custard. Such results cannot be counted upon when large baking dishes are used.

Applying this principle to roasting their fine blend of coffee, Hills Bros. found the way to develop uniform flavor in every ounce. A constant stream of green coffee is introduced into the roaster in automatically measured lots of about three pounds, and passes through in a steady flow, roasting a little at a time. There is accurate control of both the flow of coffee and the temperature.

This process, patented by Hills Bros., Controlled Roasting—develops a delicious uniform flavor no other coffee has. The ordinary method of roasting in bulk—is virtually lacking in control.

Grocers everywhere sell Hills Bros. Coffee in the vacuum can that keeps it ever-fresh. Air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is removed from this can and kept out. Coffee packed in ordinary cans, even if air-tight, does not stay fresh. Ask for Hills Bros. Coffee by name and look for the Hills Bros. trade-mark on the can.

THE COPPERY GLOW of a coral love seat in DIDERICH'S caused my downfall last week. This kidney shaped piece of beautiful velvet was so entrancing that there was nothing to do but plan a whole room around it, so we planned in a cloud of blue green green, glazed chintz drapes with a floral design, merely hinting the coral touch and combining touch of blue and green, and yellow pottery lamps here and there. The love seat is simply elegant for two persons and quite comfortable for three. It's a beauty, with a tufted back and two separate pillows of down.

The Story of Sue

by MARGERY HALE
© 1929 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

"YES, Barbara and I went to the wedding," Jean answered Harry in a low voice. "The knot wasn't tied with the same kind of a bow they make in the best circles, orange blossoms and lace and all the rest, but it's the same kind of a knot just the same. I'm afraid our young friend here is decidedly out of it."

"Oh, yeah?" Mabeline drawled. "I can take care of myself, thank you. But let me tell you this. That man is a cad!"

"Did he help Sybil plot her robbery?" Jack asked. "Not that posh egg. He's all yolk! He thinks she's been framed." Corrinne's voice, laughing a little because she was so glad that Harry was with her again that nothing could make her sad, broke the silence that followed Mabeline's outburst.

"And what has all of this to do with the trial and Sybil?"

"Nothing, I guess," Jack answered ruefully. "Except that it helped Mabeline find out about her paste stone a little sooner. Barbara was acting for friendship's sake and Clifford is playing the coward's part as usual."

There was a hammering on the door.

"Anyone in there?" Sarah called. "Coming!" Jean pulled back the bars, while the group scattered.

"I know now why Barbara wanted my dress," Sue told Corrinne, when they were standing near each other a minute later. "So she could pretend that it was I, not she, who had given Mabeline the ring if anything happened. Ten to one she would have wanted me to trade back again pretty soon."

"But the holes..." Corrinne began.

"The dress had just been cleaned. I found the tape which cleaners stick in the shoulders. Something in the fluid must have made the goods rot. She didn't do that on purpose. Now let's be gay!"

And Sarah was echoing the same theme. Her dark eyes saw everyone and everything at once, and her red dress was a bright flame that slipped from one pair of arms to another.

Corrinne and Harry took Mabeline to her home, made her comfortable, told her not to worry about anything, and started back to the party.

"Harry, even if things are queer and funny, it's fun to be... alive, isn't it?" Corrinne's voice was sweet and a little husky as she moved closer against the roughness of his thick coat.

"You're darned right," he answered. "Last week..."

"Harry, were you... miserable, too?" Corrinne asked, then without waiting for him to answer, went on. "Last week I wanted to die. Nothing mattered any more. There weren't any stars in the sky at all... because... you... didn't... care. But tonight... Just look at that glorious moon!"

She leaned her head against his shoulder and he slowed the car a second as he put his lips against the fragrance of her dusky hair.

They didn't speak again until the car pulled up in front of Sarah's.

"And now, what next?" Corrinne asked as she heard the music that spilled into the street.

NEXT: Ted talks to Sarah.

WE WOMEN

By Virginia Vane

Dear Miss Vane: I have been working and helping to support my parents for years. Now I want to get married and wish to save some of my salary for trousseau things, etc. My parents seem to feel I ought to pay for everything. I have four brothers, all working, one of them earns a very good salary—the others, modest salaries but sufficient. They give practically nothing to the house, and they get away with it. My father has been out of work for seven months and I have bought nearly everything for the house, while the boys let me do it. My fiancé objects strongly to these conditions and I would like your advice.

KAY.

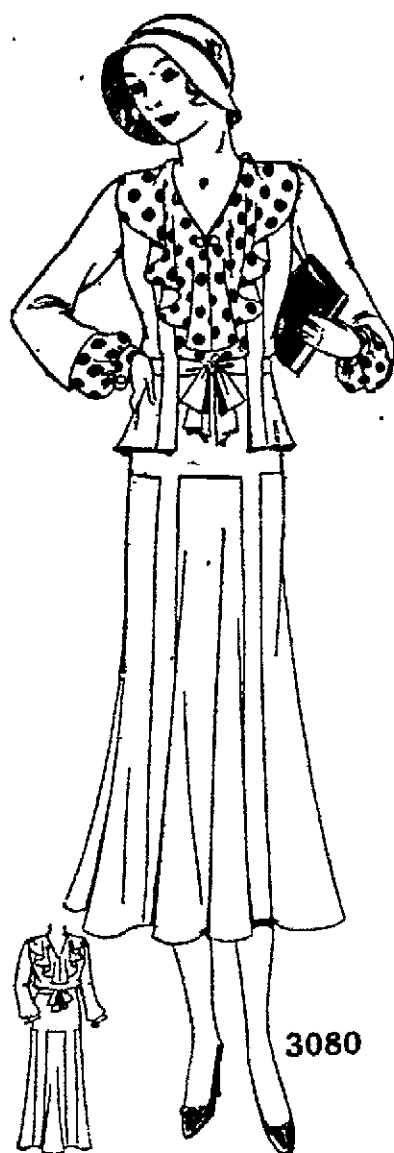

Go right ahead buying your trousseau things, and using your money to help yourself for once. When the family discover that there isn't any more of your money to be lived on, it will occur to them that someone else's money is just as good.

But why should the daughter of the house should be thus taken advantage of, is difficult to understand, but you'll see a dozen households where the wage-earning daughter is the goat, to every one home where the son and heir bears the full brunt of financial responsibility. Mothers and fathers very often believe that it's a girl's duty to stick to her people and help through everything, while of a son they demand only that he shall live at home as much as possible, and contribute only the barest pittance of their income.

If you, Kay, have gone on tamely submitting to this sort of treatment for years, your family have naturally got into the habit of demanding more and more of you. They have probably long since ceased to appreciate what you've done for them. And your sudden change of attitude may shock them into realizing that you're a human being with as much right to the pursuit of happiness as your four brothers who are content to let you bear all the burden of responsibility. So make up your mind to treat yourself right this time. You deserve some fun with your own money and there are plenty of others to take up the job where you laid it down.

WORRIED: Perhaps this is a case where it wouldn't do any harm to give your family a good scare. He doesn't sound thoroughly lost to yet. He's merely started running around with the wrong crowd, and he's too weak to resist their influence. You, unfortunately have to suffer the results of that influence, and it's breaking up your home life. It hasn't occurred to him just

Chic for Sports

BY ANNEBELLE WORTHINGTON
Everyone knows Dame Fashion has placed much emphasis on jackets this season. They appear as smart complements for pajamas to evening gowns, and are especially favored for sports.

There's a slight difference about today's model that makes it so individual. It is the becoming collarless type, so entirely comfortable. Then, too, it has the chic seven-eighth length sleeve showing the dress sleeve 'neath its edge.

A belt marks the normal waistline. It's sportive in navy blue crepe silk with white crepe silk contrast that has huge coin dots in matching blue.

Style No. 3080 may be had in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20 years, 36 and 38 inches bust.

Thin woollens, printed crepe silk and many rayon novelties also suitable.

Size 36 requires 4½ yards 38-inch with 2 yards 39-inch for blouse.

Our large Fashion Book shows the latest Paris has to offer in clothes for the matron, the stout, the miss and the children.

Also a series of dressmaking articles. It is a book that will save you money.

Be sure to fill in the size of the pattern. Send stamps or coin (coin preferred).

Price of book 10 cents.

Price of pattern 15 cents.

what he's doing. He goes out, and has a good time with the boys, then comes home with a vague feeling of guilt to a wife who used to be always cheerful and pleasant but who now seems to have a permanent frown. He doesn't figure it all out. He just accepts the new kind of wife with some philosophy and continues to have a good time with the boys.

It might be in the nature of a surprise for him if you left him for a little while. You can go home to your mother, or go away for a visit, leaving him to figure out whether these wild parties of his are worth the disruption of his home. Nothing will bring home to him quite so clearly what a fool he's making of himself for nothing, as your abrupt departure.

ONE NEEDING ADVICE: If you will send stamped addressed envelope for personal reply, it will be easier to answer. There are any number of good books on the subject on which you seek knowledge, and such information as they contain would be useful practical and absolutely accurate—much better than any advice handed out by a friend or neighbor. Write me again.

Roast pork served with either sour apple sauce or cranberry sauce is delicious.

Never let woolen garments freeze after laundering, as it is likely to cause shrinking.

When making toast, it improves it both in taste and digestibility if the slices of bread are laid in the open oven for a little while before toasting them. They will toast better and more evenly for this advance treatment.

When dates are added to cake or cocky mixture, they are better if covered with warm water and cooked slowly five minutes. They soften and blend better with other ingredients.

One cup of sugar will sweeten one quart of any mixture which is to be served cold or frozen.

NEW MUNICIPAL COURT SYSTEM SOUGHT IN BILL

Twin City Attorneys to Attend Hearing on Measure at Madison

Menasha—A hearing on a bill proposing establishment of a municipal court system in Neenah and Menasha will be held in the capitol building at Madison Tuesday. Melvin P. Crowley, Menasha city attorney, and John O'Leary, Neenah city attorney, will represent the two municipalities, and other Menasha and Neenah lawyers are expected to attend.

The matter has been contemplated by the twin city bar for more than a year, according to Attorney Crowley and official notice that the proposal has been made a bill was received recently. Although no official action has been taken, the common councils of both cities approve the project and are expected to support the measure.

The bill proposes creation of a municipal court, with jurisdiction over both criminal and civil cases, which will convene alternately in Neenah and Menasha. A full time judge and clerk of the court will be named if formation of the court is authorized.

Heretofore all municipal court cases arising in either Menasha or Neenah have been taken to the municipal court at Oshkosh, the only one in Wisconsin, because of the inconvenience and expense resulting from that arrangement, the move to secure municipal court facilities in Neenah and Menasha was started by twin city lawyers, and a proposal presented at Madison for consideration by the state legislature.

MENASHA SOCIETY

Menasha—Miss Hazel Horn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Horn, 416 S. Weimar-st., Appleton, and Edward Frakes, son of Mrs. Boyd Frakes, 433 Third-st., Menasha, were married at the Frakes residence at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, the Rev. Charles F. Schaefer, pastor of the Holy Trinity church at Appleton, was the bride's attendant, and Herbert Terrian of Neenah was best man. A reception and dinner, attended by 42 guests, was held at the Frakes home after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Frakes will live in Menasha.

Miss Marcella Omachinski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antoni Omachinski, 646 Fourth-st., and Edmund Collins, son of Mrs. Jennie Collins, "Broadway," were married at St. John's Catholic church at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, the Rev. W. B. Polacyk officiating. The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Mildred Omachinski, and Edward Zelinski was the groom's attendant. Following the dinner, both clubs will attend the groom's trip to Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Collins will live in Menasha.

Miss Bertha Fossum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Fossum of Neenah, and Glen L. Oliphant of Menasha, were married at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon in the parlors of Justice of the Peace J. Kolanski, who performed the ceremony. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Oliphant, parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Oliphant will live in Menasha.

The meeting of the Third ward Royal Neighbor club, scheduled for Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Anna Fahrbach, has been postponed for two weeks, according to club authorities.

Sanctuary society of St. Patrick's parish hall will entertain at a public card party in the parish hall Monday evening. The society also will conduct a rummage sale at the school hall at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Germania Benevolent society will meet in Menasha auditorium Monday evening. Routine business will be transacted.

Women's Benefit association will meet in Knights of Columbus lodge rooms Monday evening. A business meeting is planned.

The Avanti club will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Edith Finch Monday evening. Cards will be played and lunch will be served.

Elks' club rooms were open to members and their friends Saturday evening. Lunch was served.

GEAR SOFTBALLERS RALLY, WIN 7 TO 6

Menasha—A ninth inning rally gave the Gear Dairy softball team a 7 to 6 win over the Kimberly aggregation in the opening game of Fox River Valley softball league play here Sunday.

The Menasha team was trailing on the short end of a 5 to 5 count in the ninth inning when a triple by Calder, a double by Morgan, and a single by Kluba gave the dairymen their one run advantage. Although the Menasha nine made four errors, Kimberly generated only seven hits on Mueller's pitching while the Gears round Courban's offerings with 12 singles. Scott worked behind the plate for Kimberly with Wedge catching for Menasha.

The Gear squad will continue loop play in a game with the Oshkosh nine at Oshkosh Sunday.

FREE TICKETS TO SEE THE WHALE. See Page 17, TONITE'S POST-CRESCENT.

BOY SCOUT TROOP AT BEAR LAKE COTTAGE

Menasha—The Wolf Patrol of Troop 9, the Woodmen unit of Menasha boy scouts, was entertained at the cottage of C. K. Wood on Bear Lake, over the weekend. The trip was awarded by the Woodmen association to the patrol which won the interpatrol contest in scout work conducted during the past few months.

The Wolf patrol consists of LeRoy Lackey, Paul Stommel, Alvin Hoffmann, Michael Munter, John Hoffmann, Richard O'Brien, Joseph Gammy, and was accompanied on the weekend trip by Herbert Sabrowski, Wesley Olson, and Lyell Eckrich, troop committee men.

MENASHA EAGLES LOSE TO APPLETON SQUAD

Menasha—The Menasha Eagles' baseball team was defeated by the Appleton Merchants, 10 to 2, in the opening game of Little League league competition at the Interlake diamond at Appleton Sunday afternoon.

Although the Menasha nine knotted the count at two all in the second frame, they were unable to score during the remaining seven innings, while the Appleton aggregation garnered 13 hits and 10 runs off the pitching of Skinner and Cully, and took advantage of a number of Menasha errors to pile up an eight run advantage. The Appleton battery was Kranzusch and DeYoung, while Skinner and Cully worked on the mound for Menasha with Asmus behind the plate.

The Eagles will meet the Little Chute squad at the Menasha ball park next Sunday.

MENASHA PAIR SECOND IN BOWLING TOURNNEY

Menasha—Scoring a 1,231 count in doubles competition, Michael Malouf and W. Pierce are in second place in Steele's Straightway bowling tournament at Milwaukee. Malouf and Pierce are members of the Anderson Cafe, which participated in the Milwaukee Arcade and the Steele Straightway tournaments at Milwaukee over the weekend.

G. Pierce and J. Kryslak moved into third place in doubles play in the Straightway tourney with a 1,225 count, and Malouf and W. Pierce topped 1,200 in the doubles play. In single competition at the Arcade, C. Pierce scored a 647 series, W. Pierce a 636 count, and G. Pierce 600.

PLAYERS ADVANCE IN TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Menasha—Ronald Rogers earned the right to participate in the final of the high school tennis tournament at Appleton, by winning a first semi-final contest on the city park courts Saturday.

Three quarter final contests also were staged over the weekend. Beck defeated Chandler, 6-3, 6-3, and Taylor defeated Smith, 6-1, 6-2, and Taylor defeated Lenz, 4-6, 6-3, and 6-4. A match between Adams and Massey remains in quarter final competition, and play in the semi-finals will be continue Monday and Tuesday.

NEENAH AND MENASHA KIWANIS TO MEET

Menasha—The Menasha Kiwanis club will meet with the Neenah organization in a joint celebration of "All Kiwanis Night" at the Valley Inn, Neenah, Monday. Kiwanis Ladies will attend, and following the dinner, both clubs will attend the Governor's ball at the Cinderella ball room, as guests of Tenth district Rotarians, in conference at Menasha and Neenah Monday and Tuesday.

TWIN CITY DEATHS

JOHN ZENEFSKI
Menasha—John Zenefski, 73, 733 Racine-st., died about 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, following an illness of two years. He was born in Germany, but had been a resident of this city for 50 years, and an employee of the Menasha Woodware Corporation.

He is survived by his widow; three sons, Benjamin of Rothchild, John and John of Menasha; three daughters, Mrs. Harry Gullikson, Mrs. Walter Kazmarek, and Mrs. Floyd Penski, all of Menasha; two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Omachinski, and Mrs. Margie Schultz of Menasha; one brother, Frank Zenevski of Menasha; and three grandchildren. He was a member of Holy Name society and St. Peter Society of St. John's church.

Funeral services will be held at St. John's Catholic church at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, the Rev. W. B. Polacyk officiating. Interment will be in St. John's cemetery.

HERMAN PIEPENBERG

Neenah—Herman Piepenberg, 72, a resident of Neenah for 48 years, died Sunday afternoon at his home on Harrison-st. Mr. Piepenberg was born Sept. 2, 1859. He was married 45 years ago to Miss Augusta Bartz of Neenah who, with six daughters, Mrs. Milo Buckstaff and Mrs. Alfred Annunson of Milwaukee, Mrs. Charles Truchel and Mrs. Ray Christiansen of Oshkosh, Mrs. Mal Fernberg of San Francisco, Cal., and Mrs. Paul Oberweiser of Neenah, survive. There also are eight grandchildren. The funeral will be at 1:30 Wednesday afternoon at the home, the service to be private, and at 3 o'clock at Trinity Lutheran church. The Rev. A. HIGH SCHOOL TRACK TEAM PLACES SECOND Neenah—Neenah high school track team won second place Saturday afternoon in the fifth annual northwestern Wisconsin interschool conference track meet at DePere. Neenah scored 23 points. The meet was won by West DePere, which tallied 40 points. Shawano had 22 points, Neenah 21, East DePere, 21, Kaukauna, 17, Oconto Falls, 16, Sturgeon Bay 15, and Algoma, 8.

Weinke was the only man from the local squad to secure a first place. That was in the board jump on a leap of 18 feet and 3 inches. Edward Neubauer, clearing the pole 10 feet 5 inches, won second, and broke the Neenah high school record of 10 feet 4 inches made in 1922 by Fisher. Joseph Hough won a third in high hurdles with 19.6, also breaking a former local record made in 1927 by Gordon Brown. Lyle Stanton was second in the mile run, in 10 minutes 45 seconds.

This also broke the local record made last year by Elmer Quayle, by one second.

TENNIS TEAM DEFEATS OSHKOSH SQUAD, 8-4

Neenah—The high school tennis team defeated Oshkosh 8 and 4, Saturday morning at Doty Tennis club courts. In the singles, Neenah players won five matches to Oshkosh's three, and in the doubles Neenah won three to Oshkosh's one.

In the singles events Metterlick lost to Anger 5-7 and 1-6; Robert Larson defeated Meyer, 1-6, 6-4 and 7-5; Barnes lost to Fipkorn, 1-6, 6-4 and 2-6; E. Neubauer won from Lange, 7-5 and 6-4; C. Hanson lost to Loker, 6-4, 2-6 and 2-8; Dietz won from Muraski, 6-3, 6-4; Bell won from Matson, 6-2, 8-1 and W. Boerson won from Kopitz, 6-2 and 6-2.

In the doubles Metterlick-Barnes lost to Anger-Fipkorn, 4-6 and 2-6; Bell-Loker, 6-3 and 6-4; Hanson-Meyer, 6-3, 6-10 and 7-5; Hanson-Larson won from Buraski-Loker, 6-4 and 6-1, and Dietz-Boerson won from Matson-Richardson, 6-4 and 6-4.

DRUNK SENTENCED TO WINNEBAGO CO JAIL

Neenah—Edward Growski, arrested Sunday night on a drunkenness charge, was sentenced Monday morning to 10 days in Winnebago county jail when he pleaded guilty in Justice George Harness' court.

Bert Bailey paid a fine of $10 and costs Monday morning after he pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness. He was arrested Saturday night.

Police were summoned to the rear of the Lewis Tavern Saturday night when it was thought by people residing above the market that there were prowlers about the premises. An investigation revealed nothing.

COUNCIL TO DISCUSS GARBAGE COLLECTION

Neenah—The city council will meet Wednesday evening at the city hall, to discuss routine business, it is probable the garbage project will be discussed. The board of health, at its last meeting, discussed plans for a general collection system. The board's recommendation will be presented to the council, which is securing data from other municipalities concerning general garbage collection. A report from the water works department will be forthcoming, following the completion and tests of the new 600,000 gallon tank at the waterworks station.

MRS. LEE BILLINGTON IS GRANTED DIVORCE

Neenah—A divorce was granted Saturday to Mrs. Lee Billington from Robert Billington in county court. In granting the decree Judge McDonald ordered the defendant to pay the wife $100 in installments, as a final division of property, and also ordered the wife to be indemnified for her share of the property. The divorce was taken a week ago, Mrs. Billington asked no alimony and no division of property, and the judge ordered an adjournment to permit him to investigate further.

The Billingtons were married Aug. 2, 1920, and have no children. The decree was granted on complaint which alleged cruel and inhuman treatment and non-support.

DRY WEATHER DELAYS PLANTING IN PARKS

Menasha—Although park planting was partially delayed by dry weather, playground equipment has been installed and is available for use, according to Vernon Gruener, park superintendent. Equipment has been erected in the city park, and in Second, Fourth, and Fifth ward playgrounds.

K-C BOWLERS DEFEAT TEAM FROM CHICAGO

Neenah—The Kimberly-Clark bowling team defeated the Chicago Kimberly-Clark bowling team in a match rolled Saturday night at Neenah alleys, 2,929 to 2,539, winning all three games.

Verwey, with a total of 876, was high man for the local five, while Alvin Kinkel rolled a total of 630.

11 APPLICATIONS FOR C. M. T. C. TURNED DOWN

Neenah—Eleven disappointed high school boys are wondering why their applications for admission to the annual C. M. T. C. camp at Fort Sheridan, Ill., have been turned down. The applications were examined in all good faith by the committee in charge here, which did not know that the boys were not being admitted until they were confronted by some who had received letters stating that their enrollments were too late for admission.

Neenah had 15 of the 29 Winnebago-co district quota, the largest it has ever enlisted. They were Michael Donovon, Roderic Rusch, Harold Koenig, Everett Thomas, George Stacker, Clyde Anderson, Marvin Sawyer, Donald Smith, Harry Miller, Herbert Schmidt, Gerald Owens, Terrence Kresse, Nathan Wanda, Marvin Sorenson and Charles Patterson.

JONES WINS BROAD JUMP IN TRACK MEET

Neenah—Harold Jones, Neenah, by winning first place in the broad jump with a leap of 21 feet, 9 inches, and a place in the 100-yard dash, helped Winnebago county to total 1123 points and win the third annual Wisconsin interschool track meet Saturday afternoon at Madison. Marquette was second with 48 points; Carroll, third, with 9 points; Ripon, fourth, with 45 points, and Lawrence, fifth with 2 points.

REPRIMAND BOYS FOR CLIMBING HIGH TOWER

Neenah—Several small boys were reprimanded Sunday when they were discovered on top of the new 600,000 gallon tank at the waterworks station. One of the boys ventured on his hands and knees to the top of the tank, which is almost 100 feet above the ground.

HELP CUT LAND ARMAMENTS, IS HOOVER'S PLEA

President Urges World Leaders to Back Proposal for Stability

These vast forces, greatly exceeding those of pre-war period, still are to be demobilized, even though 12 years have passed since the armistice was signed, because of fear and of inability of nations to cooperate in mutual reductions. Yet we are signatories to the Kellogg-Briand pact, by which we have renounced war as an instrument of national policy and agreed to settle all controversies by peaceful means. Surely with this understanding, the self-defense of nations could be assured with proportionately far less military forces than these.

"This vast armament continues not only a burden upon the economic recuperation of the world, but, of even more consequence, the constant threat of war, which arises from it, is a serious contribution to all forms of instability, whether social, political, or economic."

Danger of "Waste"
"Endeavor as we must in support of every proposal of international economic cooperation that is just to our respective peoples, yet we must recognize that reduction of this gigantic waste of competition in military establishments is in the ultimate of an importance transcendent over all other forms of such economic effort."

"International confidence cannot be built upon fear. No one must be builded upon good will. The whole history of the world is full of chapters of the failure to secure peace through either competitive armaments or intimidation."

"If we are not aware of the difficulties of this question, we would suggest that either national defense should be abandoned, not that so great a task as reasonable limitation and reduction of arms can be accomplished over night."

"We have made considerable progress in the reduction of armaments. We have laid the foundations for still further progress in the future. These agreements have contributed greatly to reduce the burden of taxes and to establish confidence and good will among the nations, who have been signatory to this pact."

"Within the short time the principal nations of the world will meet to discuss the broad questions of reduction in land armaments. The very calling of this conference is in itself not only proof of need but is an emphatic evidence of progress in the world demand for relief of this peace. Of all proposals none which compares in necessity or importance with the successful result of that conference."

"The United States has a less direct interest in land armaments reduction than any of the other nations because our forces have been already demobilized and reduced more than all others. We have, however, a vast indirect interest in greater assurance of peace, order and the increased economic prosperity of other nations of the world. The power of business men of the world to insist that this problem shall be met with sincerity, courage, and constructive action. It is within the power of statesmen to give to the world a great assurance for the future, and a great moral victory for humanity."

"I wish you a successful conference. I have confidence that it will be fruitful of progress."

Publisher Also For Out
Like President Hoover, John H. Fahey, Boston publisher, urged a reduction in armaments to the "lowest possible limit."

"If the recent readjustments which the world has been obliged to make have appeared to be more violent than in corresponding periods in the past," he said, "the explanation may partly lie in the fact that the world war was the most destructive and devastating which ever cursed the human race and its evil effects naturally were more far-reaching."

He said some of the rates in the American tariff act were too high, but pointed out the tariff commission was open to any petitions by foreign shippers for reductions and President Hoover had "proclaimed promptly" several cuts already recommended by the commission.

Fahey reviewed the last 30 years of American-European trade and said that American exports to Europe in 1930 declined 27 per cent from the previous year in value and imports fell off 20 per cent, the extent of the downward movement was "less ominous" when declines in price levels are considered.

Commerce department estimates, he said, placed the export quantity

NEW YORK TARGET AS MAYOR CERMAK SEES CHICAGO PLAY

Chicago—(P)—New York was "on the spot" last night.

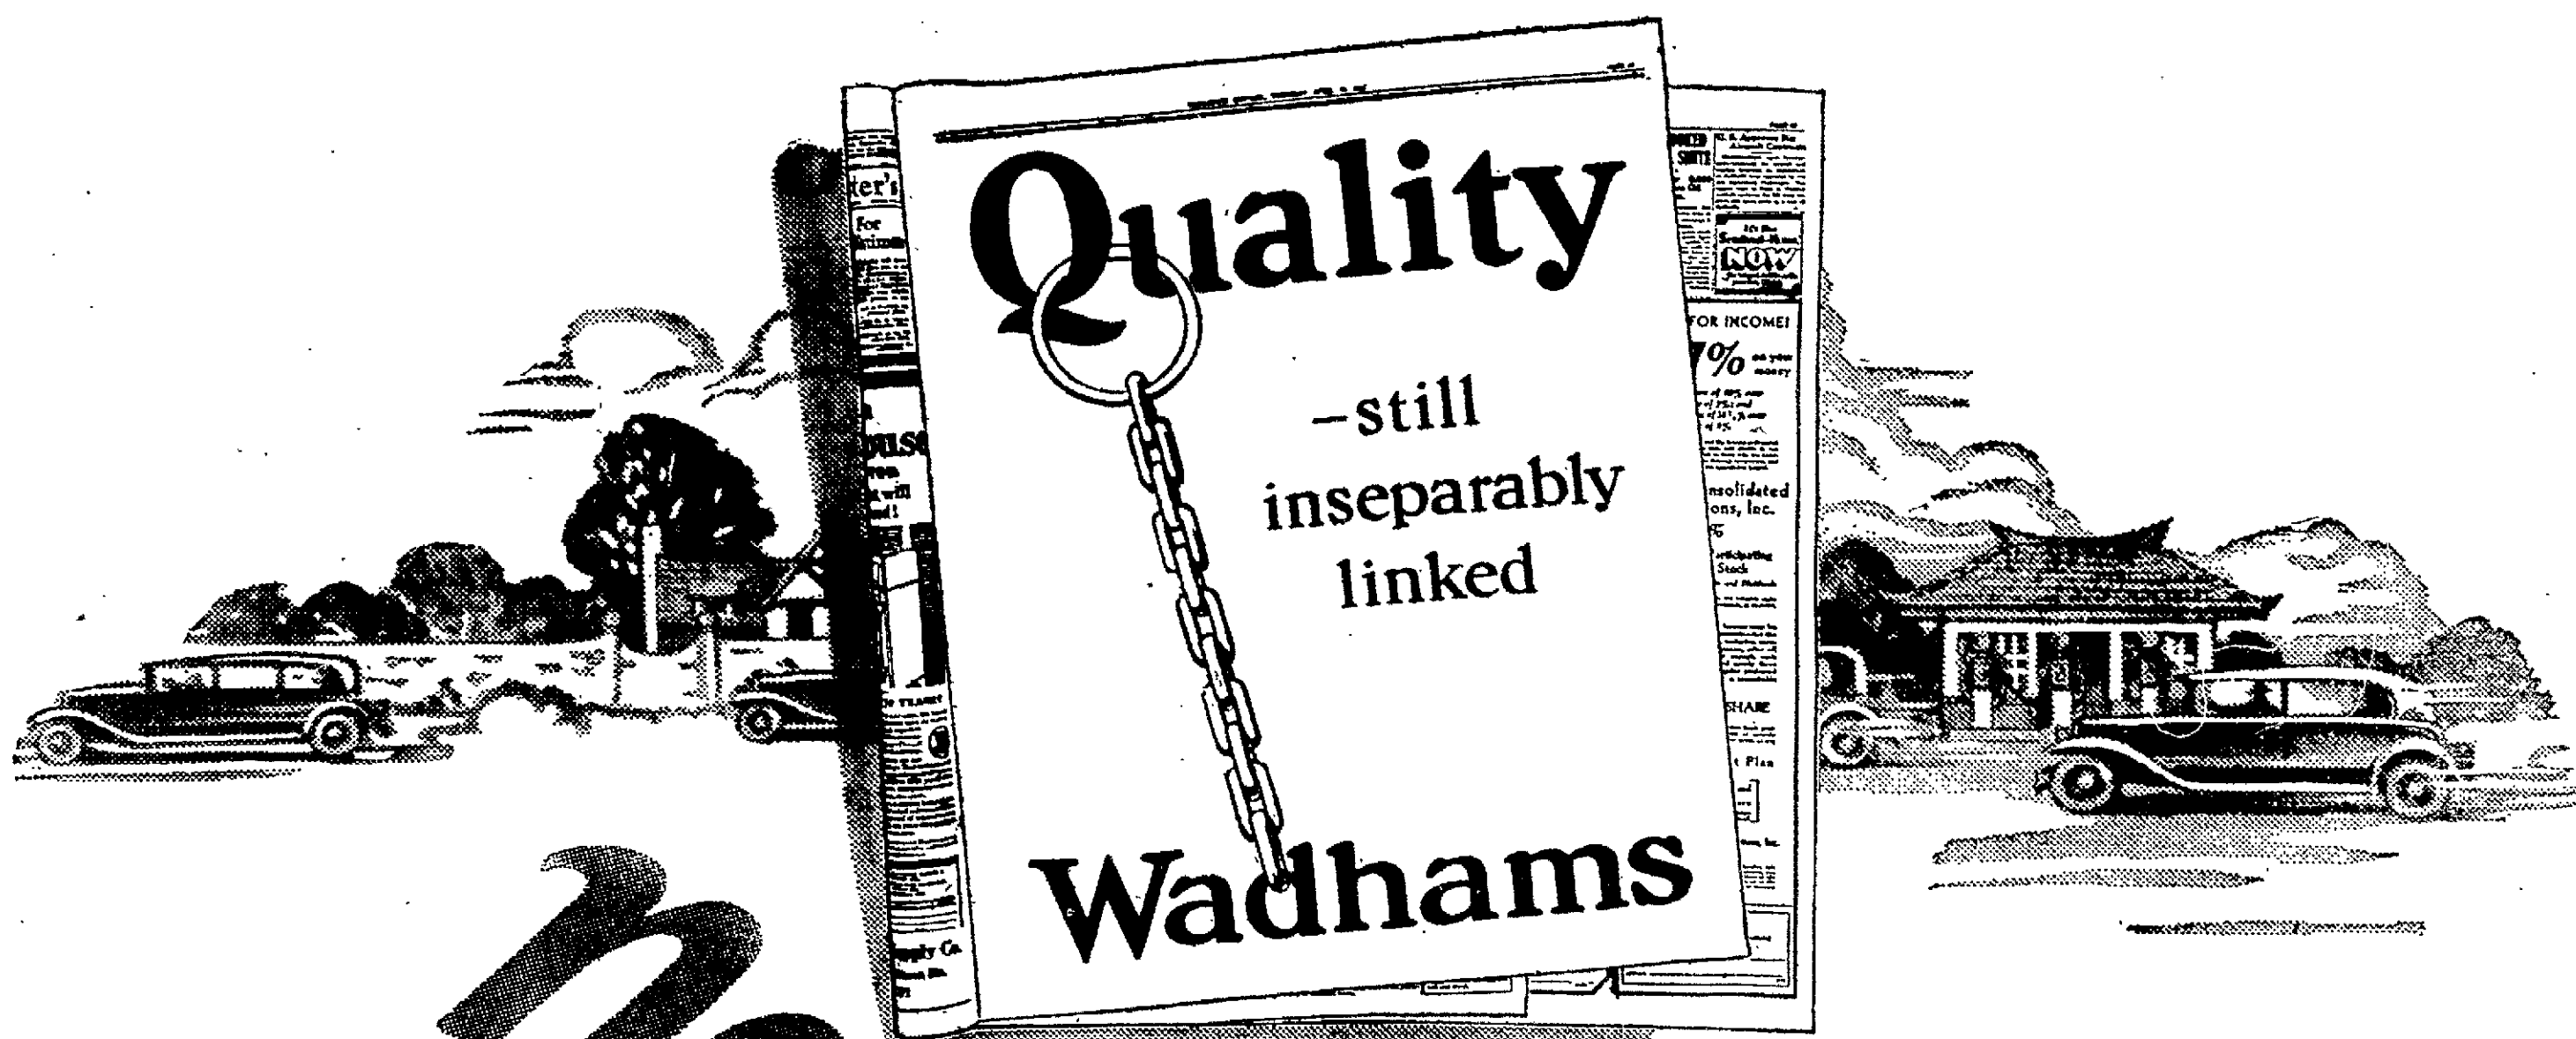

While Mayor Anton J. Cermak sat in the audience of a downtown theatre to see if anything was shown to reflect unfavorably on Chicago, Edgar Wallace's gangland play, "On the Spot," was presented for the first time here, with the actors calling Chicago "New York" and Cicero, a Chicago suburb, "Brooklyn."

All the customers knew that Edgar Wallace wrote the play after short visits to the sheriff and the actors apparently were very careful, as the mayor had threatened to ban the performance if it reflected the wrong way on Chicago.

The mayor declined to comment when asked if he would take any action against the production.

ORANGE THIRD AT MANITOWOC RELAY CARNIVAL

Viking Gets Two Points in Mile Relay at State College, U. W. Meet

THAT old, old story about the Manitowoc relays was repeated again Saturday afternoon over at the lake shore city when the Shipbuilders again walked off with three of the relays and enough point in the special events to give them 654 points and first honors. Oshkosh high with Seibold setting new records in the weight events took second place with 41 points and Appleton high came in third with 264.

Coch Joseph Shields last week called his cards as to the points Appleton would pick up but he failed to call the events. His hopes of taking the 100 yard dash went wrong when Cavert turned up with a pulled tendon, or something, in his hip and Oshkosh stepped out to take first place and set a new record in the midday relay. Coach Shields had to become content with second place in the event but had the satisfaction of making the Sawdust city team set a new record. The Appleton team min the event was Frank, Peotter, Hecker and Babino.

Just how much work needs to be done by Orange track stars is indicated by the fact the boys took only second and third places in the individual events. Connie Frank topped a third place in the 100 yard dash which was pleasing. Mortell took second in the high hurdles but the Orange failed to talk in the high jump. Connie Frank registered second in the broad jump and Jim Neller had to be content with second place in the pole vault.

Thursday afternoon the Orange will meet Oshkosh and Manitowoc in a triangular meet at George A. Whiting athletic field.

Results of the meet follow:
Half mile relay: 1-Manitowoc (Peterson, Rohrer, Carberry, Egan) 1:39.
One mile relay: 1-Manitowoc (Rohrer, Surles, Carberry, Peterson) 5:00.
2-West Green Bay; 3-East Green Bay; Time—3:57.
Two mile relay: 1-Manitowoc (Trestak, Sitkowski, Underberg, Larson) 12:00.
3-West Green Bay; 4-East Green Bay; Time—9:43.

Relays relay: 1-Oshkosh (Jungbauer, Reed, Hrnak, Wiesner) 1:39.
2-Manitowoc; 3-East Green Bay; Time—3:28. (Breaks old carnival record of 3:32 set held by Appleton.)

100 yard high hurdles: 1-Egan (Manitowoc) 2-Mortell (Appleton) 3-Peterson (Marquette). Time—17.5.
Running high jump: 1-Egan (Manitowoc) 2-McDonald (Oshkosh) 3-Underberg (Manitowoc) and Malchow (Oshkosh) tied. Height 5 feet 7 inches. (Breaks relay record of 5 feet 7 inches held by Egan.)

Running 100 yard high hurdles: 1-Egan (Manitowoc) 2-Frank (Appleton) 3-Borgwardt (Marquette) 4-Larson (Manitowoc). Distance—19 feet 11 inches.
Shotput: 1-Seibold (Oshkosh); 2-Borgwardt (Marquette); 3-Peterson (Manitowoc); 4-Langkamp (Manitowoc). Distance—18 feet 4 inches. (Breaks relay record of 46 feet 3 inches held by Johnston of Appleton.)

Pole vault: 1-Nichols (Marquette) 2-Nichols (Appleton) 3-A. Egner (Oshkosh) 4-Mortell (Appleton). Height—10 feet 8 inches. (Breaks record of 10 feet 8 inches held by Herder of Green Bay.)

VIKES AT MADISON
Taking second place in the mile relay, Lawrence college track men entered in the meet at Madison which featured the University of Wisconsin, Marquette and the Big Four colleges, picked up two points for their efforts.

Wisconsin again topped honors with 1132 points, Marquette was second with 43, Carroll had 9, Ripon 41 and Lawrence 2. The showing of the Vikes was hardly a disappointment for Coach John C. Denney does not expect his squad will win much this season. The Viking relay team which finished fourth in its pet event was Fischl, Marston, Ansorge and Roemer.

Although the showing of teams at the Madison meet gives little indication of the strength of Big Four aggregations, past experience has shown that the Big Four team with the most points usually wins the Big Four track title. For three years it was Lawrence and this year Carroll appears to have been picked for the honor.

DARBOY NINE TRIMS GREENLEAF TEAM, 6-3
The Darboy baseball aggregation showed superior strength in its tie with Greenleaf Sunday and chalked up a 6 to 3 victory in a fast and furious game. All credit for the win goes to Fabbach who allowed the Greenleaf team only three hits, and struck 19 men out.

The invading team stood helpless against the Darboy hurler, Stadler, Hibbard and Calaway, being the only men capable of connecting with the horsehide. Van Stratton pitched for the visiting team. He struck three men out, and allowed nine hits.

Calling the Strikes

New York.—(CPA)—Fashion note for the sports pages: It's pajama time in baseball. All the stars on the disabled list are getting their pictures taken showing their niftiest pajamas. Babe Ruth, clad in a symphony in green and a huge black cigar, laid out to the doctors and a bruised thigh. Charley Ruffing, in plain madras pajamas and the flu, languishes on a hotel bed in Washington and talks to himself.

Maybe Joe McCarthy doesn't wear 'em yet, but if the Yankees keep coming down with bumps and busts he'll be ready to put on a straitjacket.

Baseball Scouts Watch Western Conference Stars

BY FRANCIS J. POWERS

Copyright 1931.

CHICAGO.—(CPA)—Many scouts for both major and minor league baseball teams are to be found prowling through the Western conference, this spring. The Big Ten never has been much of a hunting ground for the ivory trunkers but there are several promising youngsters on conference nines and the old sleuths are giving them the once and maybe twice over.

The big major league teams no longer depend upon the majors to discover young talent but employ their own scouts. At the recent Northwestern-Notre Dame game, Jack Hendricks of the Indianapolis club and Mike Kelly, manager of the Minneapolis team, both were in the stands. They were taking a peek at Les Hanley, Northwestern's center fielder, and Billy Sullivan, the Notre Dame first baseman.

The youngest of the athletic Hanley family has developed into the strongest hitters in the Big Ten and is a fast, flashy fielder. Eddie Herr of the New York Yankees watched him during the Wildcats' spring trip through the south and several others have stamped him as promising material. Hanley likely will sign with some club after he graduates in June.

TUSTIN WALLOPS MERCHANTS, 6 TO 3 IN SEASON OPENER

Appleton Team Shows Weakness in Batting in Sunday Fracas

A young pitcher by the name of Alberts came to Appleton Sunday afternoon and hurled the Tustin team to a 6 to 3 victory over the Appleton Merchants in one of the opening games of the Central Wisconsin league at Wilson school grounds. In the other two Sunday games on the league schedule New London downed Weyauwega by a score of 9 to 3, and Shiocton trimmed Readfield in a tight game by a score of 2 to 1.

Young Alberts stole most of the glory in the fracas here yesterday, retiring 15 Appleton batters via the "three strikes, 'ver out" method, and allowing only five hits. He established a commendable reputation last season when he hurled for teams at Berlin and Red Granite.

First Homer
Murphy hurled for the Merchants allowing eight hits, but in the eighth inning an error and a hit placed two men on the bags and Vogtner, Tustin third baseman hammered a home run to give the invading team a substantial lead, which was never overcome.

The home team played a good game and with a little more practice with the "stick" should make fair showing this season. Two new faces showed in the Merchants' lineup, George Verbrick playing third base and Richard Baumann occupying the first base position.

MICHIGAN BASEBALL TEAM MEETS ILLINOIS

Chicago.—(AP)—Michigan and Illinois, the two undefeated teams in the Western conference, will meet at Ann Arbor Tuesday in the stand-out contest of the week's eight-game schedule.

Northwestern, still very much in the race with four victories and one defeat, will play a tie with Indiana, had Iowa as its opponent at Evanston today as the season's eighth reached the halfway mark.

The Michigan-Illinois game will be tomorrow's only offering, but it will mean that there will be only one undefeated team by late tomorrow afternoon. The "Till" have defeated Northwestern and Purdue and Chicago twice, while the Wolverines have won their two contests with Iowa and Indiana.

On Friday Northwestern will play at Minnesota, and Michigan will play at Chicago. The "Till" have a week at hand to clinch the championship. The Wolverines will move on to Chicago for a game Saturday. Iowa will meet Wisconsin at Madison, Northwestern will play at Ohio, and Illinois will be at Illinois.

Cincinnati Wins
Cincinnati finally registered victory No. 2, defeating Pittsburgh, 10 to 5, in the second game of a double-header after the Pirates had won the first, 6 to 3. Joe Stripp, Red infielder, hit three doubles and a single in the second tie.

Al Simmons went on one of his well known hitting sprees to give the Athletics a 3 to 1 victory over Washington in their opener. His triple drove a run across in the first inning and he added a homer for good measure in the ninth. Cronin's homer in the ninth deprived Walberg of a shutout.

The Yankees halted Babe Ruth's return to the lineup with an 8 to 3 triumph over the Boston Red Sox. Ruth played six innings and hit a pair of singles, getting around nicely on his injured leg. Six Red Sox errors proved a big help to the Yankees.

A big sixth inning, in which they scored seven runs and drove Thomas from the hill, enabled the St. Louis Browns to down Chicago, 9 to 5, and break a nine-game losing streak. Gray went the distance to get credit for his second victory out of four the Browns have won.

Wes Ferrell, the no-hit, no-run of a few days back, had a stormy first inning against Detroit, but stuck out to register his fifth win. The Tigers jumped on the Cleveland ace for three runs in the first, but found him tough thereafter. Vosmik's home run tied it up for the Indians in the fourth.

NO. 5 HOW TO TRAIN

THE three most important factors for a competitive golfer, if he is to stick around the top, are:

1. Proper conditioning.
2. The right diet.
3. Relaxation—to keep the proper frame of mind.

It's not like training for a prize fight. Boxers harden their muscles. That's one reason why Dempsey and Tunney are not good golfers.

In golf, soft, flexible muscles are essential to keep the necessary looseness in the swing and pivot. Abdominal muscles must be developed for strength.

The arms and hands—especially the hands—are important. I know some great golfers who flex their hand muscles with spring weights, the way Tunney used to do.

I give Artie McGovern's training system credit for putting me in good condition. He directed my dieting and exercise, strengthened my stomach and abdominal muscles.

Before a big tournament it is important for a player to know just how much golf to play and how to reach the "peak" at the right time. This was one of the secrets of Bobby Jones' success. He had the faculty for coming to a big tournament in prime condition.

Another vital thing is relaxation while a tournament is on, or at other times, for that matter. Some fellows relax with a few drinks after a day's tournament play or a hard match.

A shower and a massage accomplish for me what a drink may do for others. I feel thoroughly relaxed afterward.

Beyond that there should be some way to shake off the grind in play and amusement. We don't all like the same things. Music and dancing, or a good movie, help take my mind off the strain of an important tournament.

Walter Hagen likes to have a crowd around for a good time. He also likes shooting and fishing. Gene Sarazen gets his relaxation out of motoring or mixing with a crowd. He's a good story teller. Leo Diegel and Bill Melhorn ease off by playing bridge.

The team will play twice a week. The season's schedule follows:

TWO RING CHAMPIONS TO APPEAR THIS WEEK

New York.—(AP)—Two boxing champions are scheduled to show their wares in non-title bouts this week.

Slapsie Macie Rosenbloom, light heavyweight champion, takes on the hard hitting Leo Lomski, of Aberdeen, Wash., in a ten rounder at Portland, Ore., tomorrow. Jack Thompson, welterweight champion, meets Pucky Lawless, of Syracuse, N. Y., over the same route at the Chicago stadium Friday. King Levinson, young Chicago heavyweight, tackles Emmett Rocco, Ellwood City, Pa., in the other ten rounder on the same bill.

Jack Berg, who lost his junior welterweight championship in favor of winning the lightweight title, when he fought Tony Canzoneri a short time ago, re-opens Madison Square Garden to boxing after a considerable lull. He meets Tony Heron, of El Paso, Tex., in the main ten round scrap Friday.

ATHLETICS HANG UP WIN OVER MENASHA

Have Little Trouble Turning Back Eagles With 11 to 2 Score

The Appleton Athletics, playing in the Little Fox league turned back the strong Menasha Eagles team at Interlake park Sunday afternoon to the tune of a 11 to 2 victory.

The Appleton aggregation worked on all nine during the entire fracas, and kept the invaders guessing with their early season tricks. Judging from their Sunday showing, the Athletics should go far toward hanging the Little Fox pennant this year.

To Kramenzsch goes the credit for the win. The hurler kept the Eagles guessing with his antics, with De Young making the signs behind the bat.

Yesterday's Stars
Al Simmons, Athletics—Hit homer with one on in ninth inning to beat Washington 3-1.
Ray Bengs, Phillies—held Braves to six hits for 4-1 victory.
Joe Stripp, Reds—hit three doubles and single in five times up to lead Cincinnati to 10-5 victory over Pittsburgh in second game of double header.

Sam Gray, Browns—broke team's nine game losing streak by scattering nine Chicago hits to win 9-5.
Charley Gelbert, Cardinals—engineered squeeze play in eleventh inning for deciding run in 5-4 triumph over Cubs.
Wesley Ferrell, Indians—won fifth game of season for Cleveland, beating Detroit 7-4.
Fresco Thompson, Robins—his fast base running scored run that defeated Giants 4-3.
Sox with six hits for 8-3 victory.
Roy Sherid, Yankees—checked Red

VIKING GOLFERS TRIM CARROLL COLLEGE TEAM

The Lawrence college golf team dashed with the Carroll college team on Butte des Morts club course here Saturday morning and won the medal play tournament by 25 strokes. The Viking squad won a total of 531 strokes to their opponents 574 strokes.

Backbirt led the field and turned in a card of 42 and 39 for a low score of 81, while Captain McKenney took second honors with an 88. Carroll was low man for the Carroll team. He handed in a card of 47-42 for an 89 total.

STEPHENSVILLE NINE LOSES TO BLACK CREEK

Black Creek won the most decisive victory Sunday afternoon in Outagamie-co Baseball league loop, walloping the Stephenville nine by a 14 to 6 score. The game was played at Black Creek. Seymour coked out a close win over Nichols by a score of 5 to 3, while the Murphy's Corners aggregation trimmed the Vans Valley nine by a 11 to 9 score.

VIKING NETMEN BEAT CARROLL COLLEGE TEAM

Lawrence college tennis team defeated Carroll college netmen in five out of nine matches Saturday morning on the Lawrence campus courts. The Vikings won four singles matches and one doubles.

The results follow:
Phillips, Carroll, beat Strange, Lawrence, 6-3, 6-4.
Morris, Carroll, beat Barnes, Lawrence, 6-2, 6-3.
Pierce, Lawrence, beat Shook, Carroll, 8-10, 6-2, 6-4.

MANY PEOPLE HAVE BECOME ACQUAINTED WITH SHORT SELLING

Expert Explains Speculative Device Employed by Investors

Copyright, 1931, By Cons. Press
New York—Probably there are more people now familiar with the technique of short selling than ever before but there is a large number to whom that operation is a mystery. It is a speculative device which, however, is at times employed by investors as will be explained later in this series.

It is sometimes urged that there is something morally wrong about short selling. But the motive is the same as when stocks or commodities are bought on borrowed money in expectation of a rise, namely to make a profit of fluctuations in prices. The only difference is that the man who goes long of the market buys before he sells and the one who goes short sells before he buys.

The machinery for short selling in stocks is provided by the exchange. A speculator believing a stock is too high directs his broker to sell 100 shares of that issue. The broker executes the order and then because the buyer must receive the stock the broker borrows it of some one willing to loan. At this point the buyer passes out of the picture. He has bought and paid for and has received the stock. The seller is "short" the amount sold and sooner or later must repurchase it in the open market and return it to the one who loaned it.

The reason that anyone is willing to loan stock is because the borrower deposits with the lender as security the market value of the stock in cash and is required to deposit additional funds if the market price advances. In effect therefore the lender of stocks borrows on them their full market value. If he went to the bank and used his stock as collateral he could borrow only from 60 to 80 per cent of its market value. There it is an advantage to him if he wishes to negotiate a loan that he deal with a short seller.

Generally the lender of stocks pays interest to the borrower of stocks on the amount of money the latter deposits on security. This interest rate varies with the current charge of money and with the borrowing demand for that particular stock. When interest rates are very low and the borrowing demand is large the lender of stocks can sometimes obtain his money without paying any interest, in which case the stock is so large and the supply so small that a premium has to be paid to the lender. The speculator, however, is not interested in these details. His object is to cover his commitment at a profit if he can, at a loss if he must.

WHY 99 Years?

There is a 99 year guarantee on the Buckstaff Burial Vault, because the law declares void a guarantee of any greater length. It will go on protecting the remains of the departed even beyond its guarantee period, because it is made of the purest of metals, and is constructed to keep out ground waters and burrowing animals. It is air-sealed.

The Buckstaff Burial Vault is moderate in price, but its value in comfort to the bereaved cannot be measured.

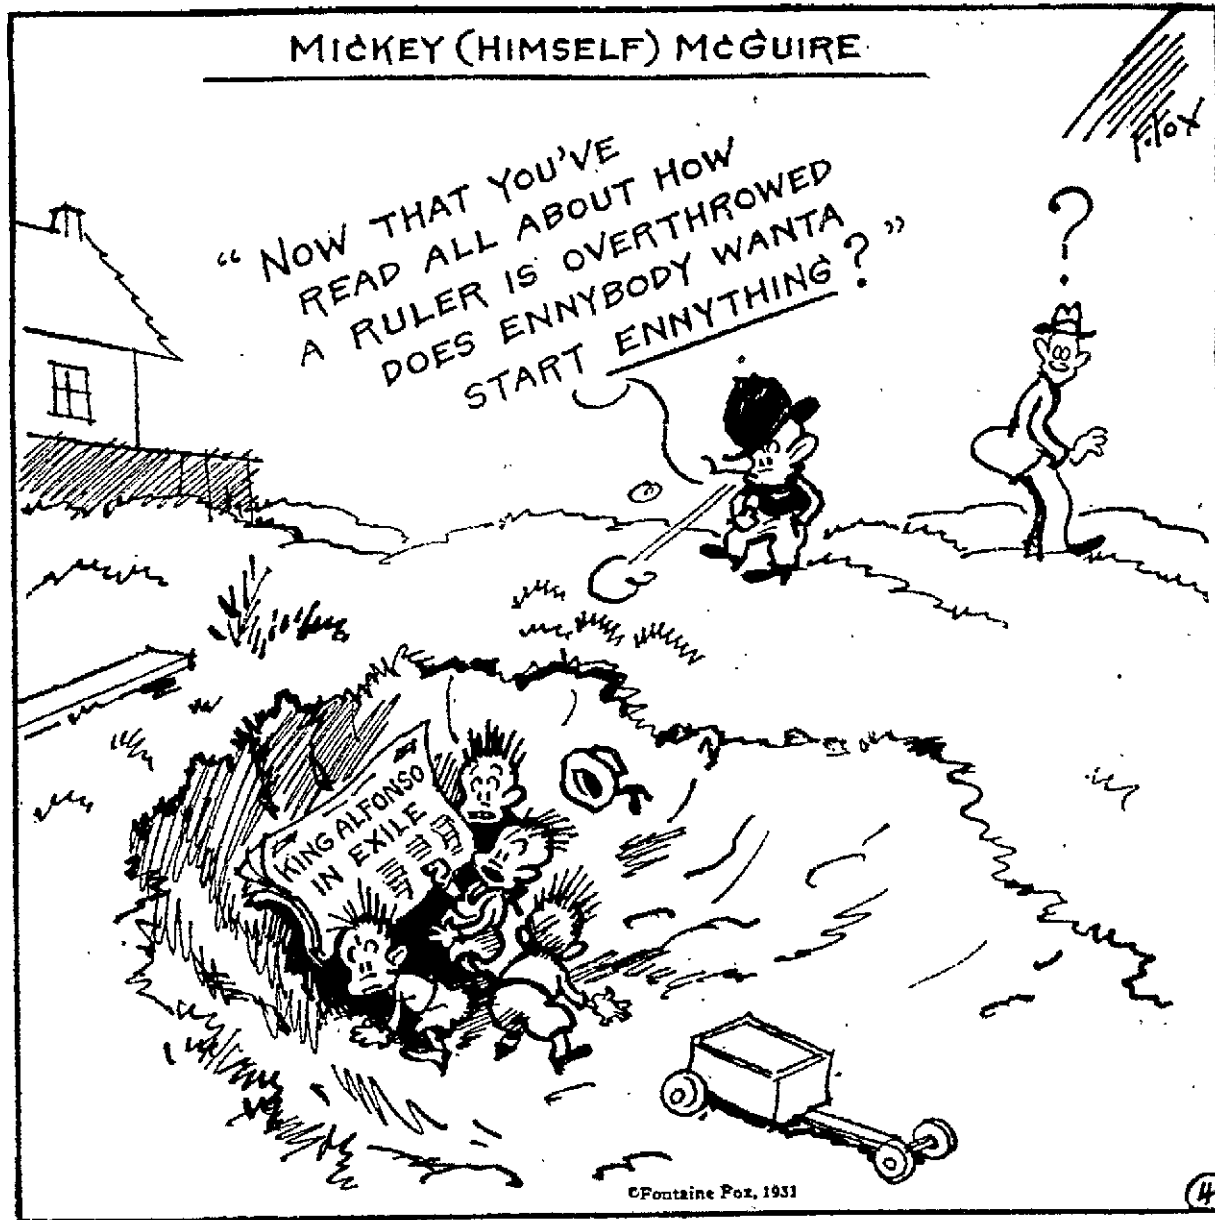

Because of this everlasting protection to the departed, we recommend the Buckstaff Burial Vault. It is consistent with our policy of providing the best funeral service possible.

MICKEY (HIMSELF) MCGUIRE

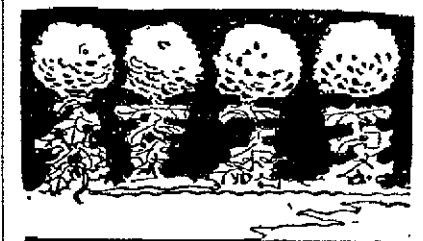

Your FLOWER GARDEN

BY D. VICTOR LUMSDEN

For almost every part of our country there are types of roses that can be grown successfully and the beauty of the rose blossoms can be used for many diverse purposes of ornamentation.

The rugosa type roses, which are the most hardy and will grow in our coldest states, are of a shrubby habit of growth. This makes them satisfactory for use with other shrubs in a landscape planting as well as for their blossoms.

There are now in the trade many hybrids of the rugosa rose which are well worthy of trial. The single flowered kinds are recommended for naturalistic plantings and the double flowering sorts can be utilized in more formal designs and in rose gardens.

This type of rose not only is very hardy but is resistant to adverse growing conditions and to plant pests.

The hybrid perpetual type comprises large and vigorous growing plants. They are long lived roses and are suitable for planting in nearly all parts of the United States with the exception of the extreme south.

Not Long In Bloom

Do not make the error, however, of assuming that because these plants are called "perpetual" they will blossom throughout the summer. Generally their blossoming period is confined to a glorious display of bloom in late spring.

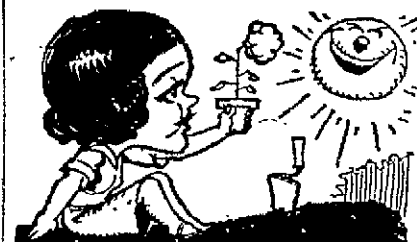

In most cases the flowers are larger and are more completely doubled than in any other type of rose. In northern gardens they are the only ones which can be made to produce long stemmed flowers of good form without great care and protection during the winter.

Because the hybrid perpetuals bloom only during one part of the year they should be so planted as to be inconspicuous when not in bloom. It takes this type of rose longer to establish itself than some of the other types, but by the second year after planting it comes into its own. The size and fragrance of the flower are particularly noteworthy.

Spread Over Season

Hybrid tea roses which are frequently called monthly or ever-blooming are our most popular type. It is erroneous to think of them as blooming at full capacity throughout the summer, but they can be chosen and planted so that the days are few when blossoms can not be found in the garden.

The hybrid tea roses are adaptable roughly to the southern half of the United States except where altitude results in severe winter weather. They will thrive north of this area where the ocean makes the climate milder and also where the plants are protected in winter. It is from this type of rose that we obtain the greater number of fragrant long-stemmed roses which are beautiful in both form and color.

To select rose varieties which will prove suitable for your climate, and also in colors that will appeal, obtain rose catalogues from dealers and study the characteristics of each kind.

TOMORROW: Ornamental Vines.

Visitors At Yellowstone Can Romp In 'Pink Snow'

Red Lodge, Mont.—(P)—Skirting the clouds as it climbs a tortuous course to the top of a great plateau, the proposed new road to Yellowstone park will offer marked contrast to the boiling springs, steaming pools and spouting geysers of the park itself.

Travelers on the Red Lodge-Cooke City road will find an almost arctic atmosphere as, at an altitude of 10,000 feet, they traverse a plain higher than the peaks of Glacier park.

For almost a third of the 60-mile drive, from Red Lodge to the park, the traveler will view scenery such as is rarely available to any but mountain climbers.

The panorama, after the climb to the Line creek and Bear Tooth plateaus on the Montana-Wyoming border, is one of rugged peaks, rock-bound lakes, glistening glaciers and great snow fields.

Of competitive interest will be the historic attractions clustering about the little mining town of Cooke City, now almost a ghost town, which once rivalled Butte as a copper camp.

Grasshopper Glacier, notable not only for its geologic interest but because of the great mass of insects trapped within the ice stream ages ago, is readily accessible from the new road. "Pink snow" will also interest the visitor. Footprints in the snow about Grasshopper Glacier turn pink as the climber passes, a phenomenon said to be due to a minute plant of the algae family on the snowfields.

BRAINS NOT SO MUCH
London—Brains, without character, are worthless in a law-abiding world, according to Sir Francis Goodenough, chairman of the government committee on Education for Salesmanship. "Brains without character are a serious danger," he says. "They are found in every prison in the land. B plus C is the successful business equation."

TRACK TEAM IN FOURTH PLACE AT DE PERE MEET

DePere Wins Event With 40 Points—Neenah School Places Second

Special to Post-Crescent.
New London.—The New London high school track team took fourth place in the De Pere track meet at DePere Saturday afternoon. West DePere was first with 40 points; Neenah second with 23 points. Shawano nosed out New London by a one point margin to take third place.

"Minnow" Brown of Stacey's squad broke a record when he went over the bar at 10 feet 6 inches in the pole vault. Bennett scored the record when he was clocked at 4 minutes, 55 seconds in the mile run. He hit the tape about 20 yards ahead of Stanton, who took second place for Neenah. In the 1880, Pfeiffer came in second, while Baby got fourth place.

In the heavy events West DePere took fourth place. The shot put was won by an off day with the weight, as he consistently heaved better than 45 feet. He did better in the discus throw, getting second. In the high jump Baby got third, Beauregard and Verhelow, both of West DePere high school, tied at 5 feet 7 inches.

APPLETON DOCTOR MOVES TO HILBERT

Dr. R. J. Winkler Purchases Property of Mrs. Lucy Delhne

Special to Post-Crescent.
Hilbert.—Dr. R. J. Winkler of Appleton, who recently bought the Mrs. Lucy Delhne property, moved here Friday and started his practice. Mrs. Delhne and children have rented rooms over the Reblitz Drug Store. Dr. Winkler formerly was connected with the Bolton-Mielke clinic at Appleton.

George B. Diedrich returned to his home at Ladysmith Friday evening after spending a week here with relatives.

The Hilbert fire department was called out Friday evening to assist the Chilton fire department in fighting the fire on the James Heffner farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Lomberg, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Stow of Green Bay were among outside guests who attended the Junior prom held at Yollner's hall on Thursday evening.

TWO BURIAL SERVICES HELD AT CLINTONVILLE

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Clintonville.—The burial of Anton Hanson, 72, resident of this city for the past 20 years, was held last Monday afternoon from the home and from the Bethany church. The Rev. L. G. Moland officiated and burial was made in Graceland cemetery.

The five sons and Rudolph Rulisch acted as pall bearers.

The deceased was born in Norway March 15, 1858 and came to America when a young man. He located at Chicago where he was married April 21, 1888, to Miss Thora Johnson. They moved to Clintonville where Mr. Hanson was employed as a bridge carpenter on the Oconto branch of the Chicago and North Western railway for many years. For the past few years he was retired and his death on Saturday followed a short illness.

Besides the widow he is survived by five sons, Harry of Winnetka, Ill.; Nathaniel of Granite Falls, Minn.; Ralph of New London, Wis.; and Norman of Clintonville. One sister, Mrs. Ellen Maxie of Dodge, N. Dak., preceded him in death.

Two brothers, Lars Bolander of Dodge, N. Dak., and four sisters, Mrs. Joe Koldrup of Suring, Wis.; Mrs. Gus Nelson, Mrs. E. Anderson and Mrs. Oscar Fossum, all of Winnetka.

Mrs. James Huff, 57, a resident of Clintonville for more than 40 years, died April 25 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. W. Wright in Chicago. Born in Maryland in 1844, the deceased came to Wisconsin with her parents in 1851. They located first at Lake Maria and later lived at Randolph, where she was married to James Huff. After their marriage, they came to Clintonville where Mr. Huff conducted a dray business for many years. Six years ago the aged couple went to Waupaca to live at the Wisconsin Veterans' Home, where Mr. Huff died 3 years ago. After his death, Mrs. Huff went to Chicago to live with her daughter. She has been in failing health during the past four years.

The body was brought here Monday evening and funeral services were held last Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Methodist church. The Rev. W. C. Kurtz officiated, and burial was made in Graceland cemetery.

The Ladies Missionary society of which the deceased was an active member for many years, attended the funeral in a body. Survivors are two daughters and two sons, Mrs. C. W. Wright of Chicago, Mrs. H. Hughes of Minneapolis, Minn., John W. Huff of Los Angeles, Cal., and Harry Huff of Detroit, Mich.

NEW LONDON WINS FIRST GAME BUT IT IS PROTESTED

Weyauwega Files Kick When Manager, League Prexy Goes to Work

New London.—Opening up the season with a 3-3 win over Weyauwega, New London's city baseball team found that the game was protested. New London scored one run in the second inning and went on a rampage in the third, getting four runs. Runs also were scored in the fourth, fifth, sixth and eighth innings. El Munch hit a homer in the first inning to start hostilities. Dernbach, center fielder for New London came up fast under Munch's line drive, only to find the ball sailing five feet above his head. Westphal, pitching for the home team turned in ten strikeouts, while Blink turned in three hits.

Manager Donner tried out his players with Dohberstein starting at short and finishing the game by taking Myers' place behind the bat. Stacey went in at short while Seims relieved Magolske at first base. In the seventh inning Seims got a wall top on the head and Donner had to replace him at first base. It was Donner's appearance in the game that caused Weyauwega to protest the game as he is president of the league. However, Donner has not yet ended in his list of players for the season, and was in uniform, so that it is expected that the game will count. One of the added attractions of the game was the appearance of old chief Le Roy, who formerly played with the St. Paul team, and at one time was a leading pitcher in the American association.

The chief's legs along with his eyesight are not what they used to be and while they used him in the field he was responsible for part New London's scoring. On account of being short a player the chief, who is visiting the manager of the Weyauwega team, was pressed into service.

SOFTBALL TEAM WINS OVER APPLETON, 9-8

New London.—The softball team opened the season with a 9-8 win over Appleton Sunday morning. The game did not end until the eleventh inning, when, with the score tied, Heinz singled to score the winning run. Up to the seventh inning New London was leading, 5 to 4, when LeRoy, with the bases loaded, connected with a homer to give Appleton an apparently safe lead.

In the ninth Heinz's two bagger brought in two runs, and he scored himself on Urban's sacrifice. He broke up the game in the eleventh with his single. New London used 16 players, having two infielders, and using new pitchers every two innings. Wells started pitching for New London, with Much helping him out. Between them they turned in fifteen strikeouts, while Appleton's pitcher had 19 to his credit. Bowers caught for the losers and Urban for the winners.

REGISTER WORKMEN FOR GRADE SEPARATION

New London.—Registration of unemployed men to work on a grade separation on the Green Bay and Western railroad near Royall will take place at the city hall tomorrow from 8 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Paul C. Wimmer, of Citizens on Committee on Employment, will be in charge of registration. About 60 men will be employed as laborers and carpenters, and the minimum wage rate is 40 cents. The work will be done in two shifts, each working six hours.

MRS. AMELIA FARNUM DIES AT HORTONVILLE

Hortonville.—Mrs. Amelia Farnum, 76, the widow of a pioneer box maker of Ellington, died last night of heart disease at her home in Hortonville. She was found at 7 o'clock this morning by one of her neighbors.

Mrs. Farnum was born in Ellington May 23, 1855. She married Eliah Farnum in 1879 and lived on a farm until 1907. The Farnums moved to Hortonville after this, where she lived since. Mrs. Farnum was a member of the Methodist church, the Woman's Relief corps, the Women's Christian Temperance union, and the Methodist Ladies' Aid.

Survivors are three daughters, Mrs. F. Vogel of Ellington, Mrs. A. Lensing of Deerpark, Mrs. E. Schmidt of Manawa; one sister, Mrs. L. Pebles, Canada, and 12 grandchildren. The funeral service at the home will be held at 1:30 Wednesday afternoon, with a 2 o'clock service at the Methodist church. The Rev. P. R. Paby will be in charge and burial will be in Stephentown cemetery.

HOLD LAST RITES FOR VICTIM OF ACCIDENT

Shiocton.—Funeral services for Henry Winterfeldt, 53, who was accidentally killed Monday morning while assisting at a barn raising, were held at the home Thursday afternoon. The Rev. Louis Melike, pastor of the Lutheran church, Shiocton, conducted the services. The body was taken to Chicago early Thursday morning where interment was made.

The regular monthly pig fair was held in this city on Saturday, about 300 pigs being sold. They brought very good prices, ranging from $3.50 to $6. About 100 were sold to Emma Gordon of Stoughton. A. L. McMahon, instructor of agriculture in the high school, considers that the quantity purchased and the price paid would indicate that farm products are beginning to pick up somewhat.

An organization of boys under Boy Scout age, The Cub-Pact is being sponsored in this city. It will be under the leadership of Rev. Harding Keyes of St. Boniface church, with Eagle Scout Arthur Steiner as assistant clubmaster. The boys meet every Thursday afternoon after school in the city hall. They are given tests, play games and indulge in other activities consistent with the work of this character building boys' program. This movement provides activities suited to the nature of the boy, multiplies the ways in which a boy may find joy in his neighborhood and backyard. It is open to all boys 9, 10 and 11 years of age regardless of religion or race.

The funeral of Jacob Goesser, 66, who died at his home in the town of Brothertown Tuesday after a long illness, was held from Holy Trinity church in Jericho Saturday morning. The service was conducted by the Rev. Francis Heilmann. Burial was in Trinity cemetery. Survivors are the widow, five daughters, Mrs. Lawrence Merton of Brothertown, Mrs. Harry Westenberg of Stockbridge, Mrs. N. Buechel of Fond du Lac, Mrs. Edward Freund of Brothertown, and Miss Cecilia at home, and two sons, George and Joseph, both at home.

Miss Regina Shea of Dubuque, Ia., was married to James Mitchell, of Chicago Thursday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell will reside in Chicago. The bride was formerly a member of the faculty of the local public school, having charge of the music department.

The Women's Relief Corps met in regular session Saturday afternoon in the Odd Fellow's hall. After the business meeting the monthly birthday supper was served by the following people whose birthdays fall in May: Mrs. George Meyer, Mrs. Wilham Rau, Mrs. August Hingst, Mrs. William Schneisner, Mrs. Philip Roll and Mrs. M. Meyer.

Virginia Orliehl, winner of the declamatory contest at New Holstein April 14, gave her declamation at the district contest held in Milwaukee Friday afternoon, winning sixth place. Her selection was "The Lie." Mrs. Ray Holdridge, who trained Miss Orliehl in her selection, accompanied her to Milwaukee. Nine schools competed, first place going to Ripon, second to Washington high, and third to West Bend.

DIAMOND CLUB HOST TO SPADE CLUB MEMBERS

Shiocton.—The Diamond Bridge club entertained the members of the Spade club and their husbands Wednesday evening. The party was in the form of a surprise, the place of entertainment being kept a secret from the guests, who were conveyed in cars to the Washburn home where the evening was spent. A dinner was served, covers being laid for 23.

Out of town guests were Dr. and Mrs. Towne, Hortonville, and Miss Franc McFarland of Milwaukee. Seven tables were in play. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Thressa Allender, Mrs. LaCroix, William Oaks and Dr. Towne.

Monday evening, April 20, the members of the Spade club entertained at their guests the Diamond club and their husbands at the Candle Glow Tea Room, Appleton. Ladies prizes at bridge were awarded to Mrs. Earl Kneiter and Mrs. John Wagner and gentlemen's prizes to Earl Allender and William Oaks.

Aged Couple Celebrates 50th Wedding Anniversary

Special to Post-Crescent.
Manawa.—Mr. and Mrs. John Ritchie of this place celebrated their golden wedding anniversary with a reception Monday. Eighty guests were invited.

In half a century of wedded life, Mr. and Mrs. Ritchie have never lost by death a child, grand child, nor son or daughter-in-law and on this occasion were surrounded by a complete family circle.

They have five children and 11 grand children. Their children are Mrs. Rueben Holman, Pafreyville;

CONFIRM CLASS OF 8 AT HORTONVILLE

Fire Causes $1,500 Damage at Residence of Mrs. Elsie Jack Hortonville.—The Rev. G. E. Boettcher confirmed a class of eight children at the Lutheran church Sunday morning. The members of the class were Arnold Berchardt, Wilbur Warner, Alvin Kringle, Bernice Miller, Bernice Falck, Norma Helling, Blanch Schmeling and Norma Bonnin.

The home of Mrs. Edward Jack caught fire Sunday morning and was badly damaged. The fire had made a great deal of headway before the members of the family noticed that smoke was issuing from an upstairs window and turned in an alarm. The fire department arrived in a few minutes but the roof was ablaze and the second story was being consumed. The flames were extinguished. The damage is estimated at about $1,500 fully covered by insurance. This is the third Sunday morning fire in this locality in the last few weeks.

Mrs. Borsche, 90, who lives with her daughter, Mrs. Wallie Schmit, got last week and fractured several ribs.

The following out-of-town people attended the funeral of Louis Miller: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schmit and daughter, Mary, Mrs. Theresa Miller, Philip Frieders, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Zuecke of Appleton; the Messrs. Katherine and Lovetta Murray and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Messing of Milwaukee; Leo Zueger of Stockbridge; Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Pearl of Green Bay; and Mrs. E. H. Mrs. Jake Kudoh and son and Arnold Amerling spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Hoerig. They brought with them Mr. Kudoh, the father of Mrs. Hoerig, who will spend the summer at the Hoerig home.

Your Birthday

If May 4th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:45 a. m. to noon, from 3 p. m. to 5 p. m. and from 8 p. m. to 10:15 p. m. The danger hours are from 8:10 a. m. to 10:15 a. m. and from 5:15 p. m. to 7 p. m.

The planetary aspects of May 4th prestage a day full of perplexity and doubt, and prudence counsels the postponement of any important decision until conditions are more propitious. In the evening, the atmosphere will be benign, and especially favor lovers and sweethearts.

Children born on this May 4th will not distinguish themselves during the school age. Just as to noon, however, as they have to find for themselves, they will develop definite traits of self-confidence, perseverance and aggressiveness. Their dispositions will be very amenable to good influences.

Born on May 4th, you have ability that singles you out from your fellows. You are a natural average. It does not require your superiority; yet, you persist in blowing your own horn in season and out of season. You may have business or social rivals, but as a "self backbatter," you are in a class by yourself. This attitude of self-gloryification very seriously detracts from the merits of your achievement. It is all to the good to pride yourself on being self-made, but there is no occasion to publicly worship your creator.

You microscope denotes very little that induces a spirit of humility. Yet, this is a grace you should assiduously cultivate. You are alert, clever, ambitious, and untiring, and in all your relationships, never hit below the belt. Versatility is also one of your assets. If you are wise, however, you will assess the line of endeavor that makes the strongest appeal to you, and stick to it. Success awaits this course; your only chance of failure is diversified interests. You can do wonders with one ball, but you cannot juggle six. Your disposition is merry and cheerful, and, in your home, you will always be the chief joy giver—never a joy killer.

Successful People Born May 4th: 1—Gordon Buck—surgeon. 2—Frederick E. Church—landscape artist. 3—Richard Hovey—poet and author. 4—Abraham Lincoln—Briarcler. 5—Theatrical manager. 6—Gordon McKay—inventor and manufacturer. 7—William H. Prescott—blind historian.

It May 5th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11:10 a. m. to 1:30 p. m., from 4:15 p. m. to 6:10 p. m., and from 9 p. m. to 10:15 p. m. The danger hours

Miss Elizabeth Ritchie secretary to the county superintendent of schools Waupaca; George C. Ritchie, banker here and president of the Waupaca bankers' association; Mrs. William McFetridge of Ojibwa, and Mrs. L. D. Hershberger of this place. Mr. Ritchie was one of the pioneer woodman and farmers of this county.

Mrs. Ritchie, who was before her marriage, Miss Mary Mallory, of Ogdensburg was one of Waupaca County's prominent teachers.

Mr. Ritchie is 82 years of age and is now the oldest member living in the Wisconsin Ritchie Memorial association, which numbers 220.

Among the out of town guests were Dr. G. A. Ritchie and family Appleton, W. E. Smith and family Appleton; Mrs. P. E. Hamre and children Madison; Miss Elanthe Lindsay, Manitowoc; Miss Frankie Mahory, Meringo; and many others from Royall, New London, Waupaca, and Weyauwega.

are from 9 a. m. to 10:30 a. m. and from 2:15 p. m. to 3:45 p. m. Propitious signs are very much in evidence on May 5th, especially for those engaged in mechanical pursuits and throned seats of judgment, future progress, and the aspects denote that action and thought will coordinate successfully. Nothing involving risk should be attempted.

A child born on this May 5th will be blessed with a good constitution and endowed with a pleasing personality. Unless forced by circumstances to work hard, it will be rather indolent, and too fond of the pleasures of life. Its disposition will be kindly, but irremediable.

Born on May 5th, you are a prosaic individual, with every little ambition, and contented to work in a rut, provided your simple needs are supplied. At school, you were always satisfied to just "pass." You never aspired to be the head of your class. This same spirit is typical of your attitude now. You, for lack of striving and enough faith in your ability, are satisfied with a mediocre standing, and never strive for leadership.

You are not lazy, but you sidestep when opportunity knocks at your doors. You do not live to work. You only work in order to live. Your philosophy of life is an easy-going one, and you amble, rather than rush, through existence. Your disposition is placid and you are very slow to take offense. Getting angry causes, in your judgment, too much inconvenience. You get along well with everyone, as you have no strong convictions. You let others do the talking, whilst you do the listening.

Your habits are temperate, and you are largely a creature of routine. You do not read much, and are satisfied with the companionship of a few friends. In the family circle, you rarely, if ever, assert yourself, and always elect to follow the path of least resistance. Your horoscope predicts an uneventful career.

KAUKAUNA DEFEATED, 9 TO 4, IN SOFTBALL

Kaukauna—Kaukauna was defeated 9 to 4 by Oshkosh in the opening game of the Fox River Valley Softball league here Sunday morning in a fast game. The local team was somewhat handicapped by playing with a 12 inch ball instead of a 14 inch ball, which is used in play by local softballers. Mereness and Esler pitched for the local team, with Block catching.

KNOWLAN'S RESTAURANT OPENS AT KAUKAUNA

Kaukauna—The new Knowlan's candy shop and restaurant opened Sunday in the Sweet Shop restaurant, which was taken over by Francis Knowlan of Green Bay several weeks ago. The interior was redecorated. The soda fountain was moved to the front of the store, and four additional booths were installed. Donald Kenney will be in charge.

ANNUAL ASSESSMENT STARTED IN KAUKAUNA

Kaukauna—City Assessor Peter J. Metz has started assessing property in the city for the next tax roll. The work will require several weeks. He also is listing the number of dogs in the city. The owners sign an affidavit and a duplicate is filed with the city clerk.

KAUKAUNA PERSONALS

Kaukauna—Mrs. J. E. Kendall spent Sunday in Neenah. Fran McCormick was fishing at Sturgeon Bay Sunday. Harold Feller spent the weekend at Milwaukee. Miss Marie Rausch visited at Elkhart Lake Saturday. Joseph Lakatos, Miss Elsie and Miss Thekla Lakatos, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rohrer and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Troch and family and Mrs. Frank Zemar and son of Manitowoc visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kallista Sunday.

Hoover Pays Tribute To Memory Of Count de Grasse

Paris—(AP)—A message from President Hoover emphasizing the lofty place that Admiral Count de Grasse holds in American history made the dedication today of a monument to his memory an event of significance in Franco-American history. The memorial to "Francis Joseph Paul Admiral Count de Grasse," French commander in the American Revolution, was unveiled at the Trocadero palace, and after an address by American Ambassador Walter Evans Edge, was formally presented to the government of France. Ambassador Edge read the following statement from President Hoover:

"The scroll of French history is so long, and inscribed with so many illustrious names, that a Frenchman might be permitted a moment of uncertainty in establishing the place of the Comte de Grasse. For an American, however, no such uncertainty can exist. The circumstances of 1781 in which Admiral de Grasse anchored his flagship, the Ville de Paris, at the gates of Chesapeake bay, were too momentous for us to forget."

"The energy and independence of his character, moreover, are preserved for us in the letters of General Washington: 'The resolutions that you have taken in our circumstances,' wrote the commander-in-chief of the Continental army, soon after the arrival from the West Indies of the French fleet, 'prove that a great mind knows how to make personal sacrifices to secure an important general good.'"

"And when that important general good had been secured, Washington was the first to acknowledge how large a share of the honor pertained to de Grasse. He wrote on the eve of the admiral's departure: 'The

RAISES STEERS TO PROVIDE NATURAL FERTILIZER SUPPLY

Greenhouse Proprietor Finds Method Is Successful

BY W. F. WINSEY

For the purpose of supplying fertilizer for his greenhouse and flower gardens, J. H. Boelter of the Riverside Greenhouse is feeding 40 steers on the farm formerly owned by John O'Connor, joining the farm of Henry Buchholz on the east, route 2. For the same purpose, Mr. Boelter has fed and fattened steers on Highway 41 east of Appleton. In agreement with farmers and agricultural leaders, Mr. Boelter says that there is no other fertilizer equal to barnyard manure if the manure is mixed with the soil before fertilizing. He purchased his present herd of steers in March and since the purchase he has bought all the feed for them. The herd is now out on a 40-acre pasture. He expects to market his animals late in the fall and at the same time purchase another herd. He is expecting to build a basement barn 42 by 72 feet on his ranch and has some of the lumber already on the ground. The upper story of the barn will be used as a store house for hay and other feed and the basement as a stable for his steers. Self feeders are to be installed in the stable and no animal will be tied or stanchioned but will be free to move about in the stable and back and forth from stable to yard. The west 40 acres of the farm will be used for pasture and hay production and the east 40 acres for growing grain and corn. Mr. Boelter's plan for getting the fertilizer he needs for his greenhouse is very popular among large fruit growers who fatten steers each winter to get fertilizers for their orchards.

DIVIDES PASTURE FOR BEST RESULTS

Farmer Finds Shifting Cattle Enables Field to Recover

BY W. F. WINSEY

John Vanderheiden, route 6, has adopted what is said to be a very successful method of pasturing cattle. His method involves having a pasture field divided with a fence and changing the cattle from one division to the next. This method gives the pasture in each division a chance to recover and maintains a high quality of feed throughout a season. As the conditions of the pasture may require this summer, Mr. Vanderheiden will shift his cows from a seven-acre field to an eight-acre field and back again. This practice is very popular in some parts of Germany and is being tried

HORTONVILLE WOMAN TO GET U. S. PENSION

(Post-Crescent Washington Bureau)
Washington—Mrs. Elizabeth Self of Hortonville will get a back check from Uncle Sam amounting to more than $170 and a pension of $12 a month hereafter as the result of efforts in her behalf by Rep. George J. Schneider of Appleton.

Mrs. Self is the mother of Albert Frank Self, who was drowned at Long Beach, Calif., Jan. 15, 1928, while serving in the Navy, attached to the USS West Virginia.

out by many thrifty dairymen in this country.

For hay this summer, Mr. Vanderheiden will have 15 acres of mixed alfalfa and timothy. He may plow up 10 acres of hay land in which the stand is thin this spring and plant the field with corn. Before he plants the corn, however, he expects to make a study of raising a crop of soybean hay. His study may take him to the farms of C. J. Loev, D. O. Mueller, and Martin Vandenberg, Spencer, who are experimenting in a large way with raising of soybean hay and with the hay as a feed for dairy cows. Since his soybean hay raised last year saved the money he usually expends for protein feeds, Mr. Loev expects to plant 20 acres of soybeans this spring.

Mr. Vanderheiden sowed 15 acres of oats this spring as a nurse crop for a mixture of clover and timothy. He has planted six bushels of early potatoes and expects to plant 4 bushels of late potatoes. He is getting ready for planting 10 acres of corn.

This spring he has 10 acres of sweet clover pasture and last year he had nine acres. Two years ago his dairy cows had to go along without any of that kind of pasture. He favors sweet clover pasture because it is a good milk producer.

He has planted 60 acres barley, oats, and speltz this spring and expects to plant 20 acres of corn. He is milking 25 cows.

BUYS LIMESTONE TO FERTILIZE FIELDS

Farmer Expects Plan Will Improve Crops of Hay

BY W. F. WINSEY

Fifty tons of limestone have been unloaded on his dairy farm by Nick Hietpas, route 6, who is preparing to make alfalfa and sweet clover sure crops. Formerly he raised these two crops successfully but the past few years he has had some trouble. He suspected that some of his fields through continual cropping were short of some kind of fertilizer. In order to make no expensive mistake in the purchase of fertilizer, Mr. Hietpas had County Agent G. A. Sell test his soils before placing orders for fertilizers. After making the tests the county agent recommended an application of lime. Mr. Hietpas has already spread limestone on a field in which he is raising grain as a nurse crop for sweet clover.

This spring he has 10 acres of sweet clover pasture and last year he had nine acres. Two years ago his dairy cows had to go along without any of that kind of pasture. He favors sweet clover pasture because it is a good milk producer.

A $200 loan helped Jim get a better job

(a true experience)

It was a much better position—more pay and a more promising future—but it was in a city 500 miles away and Jim didn't know how he was going to pay the moving expenses. It would take about all he and Mary had to settle their bills.

Still, he couldn't let an opportunity like that go. He'd get the money somehow. And then he saw the advertisement that sent him to Household for the necessary loan.

Household lent them the money promptly on his and Mary's signatures. No endorsers or co-makers were required and no embarrassing investigations were made. Because of Household's low rate on loans above $100 up to $300, they were charged nearly one-third less than the usual amount, without any fines, fees, or deductions in advance. And they had as long as twenty months in which to repay, with charges only on the balance due and for the actual number of days the loan was kept.

In case of emergency, every family should know where a loan can be obtained quickly. Should you ever need $50 to $300, for any good reason, you are invited to phone, call at the nearest Household office, or use the coupon below.

Mad Pursuit

BY JESSIE DOUGLAS FOX

SYNOPSIS: Julian Lake sees in Nicholas Thayer, his guest in Italy, a prospective husband for his motherless daughter, Nora. But the girl is humiliated by the plan thus to end her wanderings with Julian, always vainly seeking success as a painter. Nicholas is the brother of Jonathan Thayer, whom she fondly remembers. Because of this her instant dislike for him is submerged and turns to sympathy when she nurses the embittered man through an illness which leaves him painting hand paralyzed as the result of an injury. Her father's plan to wed Mrs. Nevers inspires her despairing proposal that Thayer take her away, and results in her loveless marriage to the man who can give her a cherished home and the regard of his people in America.

When she reached the deck at first the wind seemed to tear her breath away, but she fought her way forward. The deck was deserted. She peered in through the misted windows of the smoking room but only a red-faced man and a boy were drinking gloomily at a small table. She continued to fight her way against the wind, as though she were struggling against some invisible adversary.

At last she saw she was approaching the door again. She tore it open and stood inside, breathless. A sleepy steward came toward her.

"It's no night to be out, miss," he said, looking at her wild hair and her white face.

"My husband . . .," she panted.

"No one's been on deck for an hour, miss. It ain't safe," he said.

Nicholas, of course, was in the cabin. But when she opened her cabin door and called his name there was no answer. She stared about its emptiness.

He had hidden himself from her because he was suffering. Or was it that dark sky, that terrible sea that made her think such things? After all, she knew nothing about Nicholas. His bitterness was only the cloak he wore to hide an almost insane sensitiveness. Suddenly she was horribly frightened. She lay down in the bunk at last, hearing his footsteps in her own wild heart beats, until at last, near morning, she fell asleep.

As for Nicholas, some time in that dark night he had drowned himself in the white wake of the ship.

"Someone had knocked at Nora's door and she had flung it open to see the ship's doctor. She needed no words to tell her now. She knew.

"He's drowned," she said, her voice ringing off into the distance. She had known it all the time. Before they had made the search of the ship from engine room to lifeboats. She had known something like this, dimly, when she had first met him. Something that had warned her that he was suffering horribly.

When the doctor left she lay on her bunk looking out through the porthole. "Poor Nicholas! Poor Nicholas!" a voice sighed far away. Was it her own voice? What tortures he must have gone through until he had dropped into that black sea! She could not think this way. She would go mad. She had forced open the porthole and peered out at the ocean. It was calm and sunlit. How easy to slip down into those glassy waters, to feel them swallow you.

Why hadn't she known that last night when he had acted so strange and wild, when he had given her those last directions? But she had been too wrapped up in her own fears.

All the things she had hidden from herself stood out stark and naked. She had married him because she was afraid. Afraid of the life she must live with her father and Helen Nevers.

She remembered how he had told her with a trace of gentleness about the old house to which he was taking her. He was sending her to his people, to his home. It was all he could give her.

"He liked me! Oh, he really liked me!" Nora thought.

ENGINEERS SEEK BEST ROUTE FOR HUGE AQUEDUCT

Present Special Problem for Builders

New York (AP)—The possibility of earthquakes presents a special problem in building the new 250-mile aqueduct from the Colorado river to southern California.

Thaddeus Merriman, chairman of the engineering board to select the route, says the aqueduct will be the longest ever built.

It will bring water impounded by the Hoover dam to Los Angeles and ten other nearby cities.

The aqueduct will be a concrete-lined tube, so large that the biggest moving van easily could be driven through any part of it.

Fifteen hundred cubic feet of water every second will be its capacity, enough to fill a lake a quarter of a mile long, 800 feet wide, and 14 feet deep every hour.

Difficulties that face engineers, no matter which of four possible routes is chosen, were described here by Merriman, who is chief engineer of the New York city water system.

Earthquakes, he said, may occur in the region the aqueduct will traverse, because the San Gabriel and San Bernardino mountains are still in process of being uplifted.

Earth disturbances are likely to center along the line of the great San Andreas fault, which the aqueduct must cross.

A "fault" is the geologist's term for a division between two tremendous sections of the earth's crust. When an earthquake occurs one or both sections may shift its position, breaking anything such as the aqueduct that passes through both sections.

Geologists have been trying to find the best place for the aqueduct to cross the San Andreas fault, Merriman said. Even then, an

CURB MARKET LOWER WITH LIGHT TRADE
New York—(AP)—The curb market settled into a less strenuous existence today. Prices ruled steady to firm and volume diminished substantially. Most of the day's halfhearted attempts to mark prices down affected only a shrinkage in the turnover and this resistance, in striking contrast to last week's brisk declines, strengthened confidence, although short covering was not especially aggressive. Utilities in particular shared in occasional rallies, which witnessed the most active trading.
Oils were little changed. Vacuum was rather heavy, sagging at times to within a small fraction of the low, but Standard of Indiana and Cities Service were firm.
Electric Bond and Share, Niagara Hudson and American Superpower hardened moderately, while United Light "A" moved up more freely. Most of the other power company stocks were quiet.

REILLY AIDED IN PASSAGE OF SURVEY MEASUR

Fond du Lac Congressman Went Into Office With Previous Record

BY RUBY A. BLACK
Post-Crescent Washington Correspondent

Washington—Although Rep. Michael K. Reilly of Fond du Lac came to the Seventy-first Congress only at the beginning of the third and final session, he is nevertheless a veteran legislator, having served from 1913 until 1917.

Succeeding the late Florian Lampert of Oshkosh, who died right after the end of the second session, Rep. Reilly's first job was to put through the bill introduced by his predecessor and favorably reported in the second session, providing for a flood control survey of the Fox river. This Rep. Reilly did, speaking for the measure on the floor. It was passed and the Senate passed it, promptly.

The only public measure introduced by Rep. Reilly in the final session was a bill to prohibit the purchase by the federal government of any oleomargarine or other butter substitutes for use in any federal institutions. There was no action on this, but Congress adopted an amendment to an appropriations bill which prohibits the use of butter substitutes in veterans' hospitals and soldiers' homes.

Lets Some Out
But the government can still put butter substitutes on the tables of the army, navy, and marine corps on ships, in posts, and in hospitals and training schools of these services. In the Coast Guard, the prisons, in all Indian institutions under the interior department—in fact, anywhere except in veterans' hospitals and soldiers' homes.

Rep. Reilly also helped get a favorable report on a Lampert bill to remove the stigma of desertion from the military record of Joseph Schar-bonough of Fond du Lac, who was court-martialed at the end of the Civil War and did not return his company to be mustered out. The bill was not passed, however, although congressmen have been trying to get it through for at least 15 years.

The Fond du Lac Democratic congressman made no special speeches, but occasionally engaged in debate and extended his remarks in the Congressional Record in tribute to the late Rep. Lampert and in denial of the allegations of Frank Buckley, prohibition investigator, that Men-asha "houses" a rougher foreign element that creates a liquor prostitution and gambling market.

While this article is chiefly confined to purely legislative activities, of which there are indisputable records, it should be mentioned that Rep. Reilly was active in obtaining a hearing on the question of raising the levels of Lake Winnebago to 212 inches above the crest of Menasha dam. Cites on the lake are opposed to the higher level, while those on the lower Fox river want the higher level. He also got a lighted buoy placed at Long Point on Lake Winnebago to aid navigation there.

His Record
On legislation on which there were yea-and-nay votes in the House of Representatives during the final session of the Seventy-first Congress,
Rep. Reilly voted as follows:

For increasing the loan value of World War veterans' certificates to half their face value, and for overdemic year of 1921-1922 to college graduates who have a Bachelor of Science degree or its equivalent, according to word received at the office of the registrar at Lawrence college. The money is being drawn from a fund of $50,000 appropriated by the state of Michigan for research work in the copper and iron properties of the northern state. The U. S. Bureau of Mines, the government Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Carnegie Institute and various mining companies are all cooperating with the state government in the research program.

The students who receive fellowships will register as graduate students and become candidates for the degree of master of science. They will assist the faculty of the Houghton school by class room and laboratory instruction while conducting their own studies under the head of the department in which they are majoring.

POINTS OUT NEED OF INTERNAL SECRECTIONS

State Used 415,742,027 Gallons Of Gas In 1931

(Post-Crescent Washington Bureau)
Washington—Taxis and trucks, passenger automobiles and speeding motorcycles burned up 415,742,027 gallons of gasoline in Wisconsin last year and with a tax of 2 cents on each gallon produced $8,314,841 revenue for the state.

This is a considerable increase, both in number of gallons consumed and in revenue from the consuming, over the Wisconsin totals for 1929.
In 1929, 374,251,957 gallons were used producing a revenue of $7,485, 003, in the Badger State.

The neighboring states of Michigan, Minnesota and Illinois all charge a tax of 3 cents per gallon and collected $21,713,489, $10,359,111, and $27,472,430, respectively, from this tax in 1929.

In the country as a whole, the gasoline tax, which ranged from 2 cents per gallon to 6 cents in some states and averaged 3.35 cents per gallon, produced a net revenue of $494,653,410, or nearly 15 million gallons of gasoline were burned.
This is an increase of 14.6 per cent in revenue and 31 per cent in amount of gasoline consumed, although there was no increase in the total number of registered motor vehicles. The average consumption per motor vehicle increased from 538 gallons in 1929 to 556 in 1930.

PHILADELPHIA EDITOR TO SPEAK AT MADISON

Madison — (AP)—William Nelson

tail Ledger, will be among the speakers to be heard at the Wisconsin Business Men's conference at the University of Wisconsin May 18 under the auspices of the school of commerce and the extension division.

Mr. Taft will deliver an address at the noon session on "The Merchant's Part in Insuring Prosperity."
The first of three sessions will open at 10:30 a. m. with an address of welcome by Gov. Philip F. La Follette. Dr. Benjamin M. Squires, chairman of the Illinois commission on unemployment and chairman of the trade board of the men's clothing industry of Chicago, will speak on "Stabilizing Industrial Employment."

At the afternoon session the principal speaker will be Dr. David Fri-

Good Neighbor?

To what important extent are you joining forces with those who are doing their best to make this a more beautiful, a more livable town in which to live? Every home on every individual street has a real responsibility. Just as one rotten apple can eventually spoil the entire barrel, just so one run-down place can spoil the looks of a street. The well-kept house, next door, is in bad company. Be a good neighbor, a neighbor with real civic pride. If your house needs painting, paint it. If the yard needs freshening up, repairs attended to, get busy on these details.
